Budget plan spreads hurts across board
By DARYL K. TABOR
The Kentucky Supreme Court has ordered the Crittenden County circuit court to read the state budget proposal for the next two years, stating all of it is relevant to the case since for the last week by House and the Senate. After the meeting Tuesday night about a two-year
"lean, mean budget." The state supreme court's one-page ruling was short and vague,

Mineral museum dubbed ‘rare treasure’

As June approached the Erin Clinton Mineral Museum was made aware of a rare find of minerals of a size and type that had not been seen for many years.

When the museum director, M/Sgt. Joseph Walker, was invited to mine for a rare mineral and did not come back, the museum staff was prepared for the possibility that he had not come back,

The museum was also made aware of another rare mineral which had been found in the area but had not been described in detail.

The mineral museum is now considering ways to display these minerals in order to educate the public about the diversity of minerals found in the area.

Satan’s lies grow from Eden to today

The lies from Satan’s lips grow like a weed in Eden. Satan is a liar who started in the Garden of Eden by the tree of knowledge. Satan is a liar who has deceived humanity from the beginning.

In the beginning, Satan was a Prince of darkness, and he tempted Eve to eat the forbidden fruit. Satan was the archenemy of God, and he sought to destroy humanity.

Satan’s lies grow from Eden to today, and they continue to deceive humanity. Satan is a liar who claims to be a benevolent force, but in reality, he is a malevolent force.

The lies of Satan are many and varied, and they are designed to deceive humanity into thinking that God’s word is false. Satan’s lies are designed to deceive humanity into thinking that God is not in control.

Satan is a liar who claims to be the ruler of the world, but in reality, he is the servant of God. Satan is a liar who claims to be the bringer of peace, but in reality, he is the bringer of war.

Satan is a liar who claims to be the bringer of prosperity, but in reality, he is the bringer of poverty. Satan is a liar who claims to be the bringer of health, but in reality, he is the bringer of disease.

Satan is a liar who claims to be the bringer of love, but in reality, he is the bringer of hate. Satan is a liar who claims to be the bringer of joy, but in reality, he is the bringer of sorrow.

Satan is a liar who claims to be the bringer of knowledge, but in reality, he is the bringer of ignorance. Satan is a liar who claims to be the bringer of truth, but in reality, he is the bringer of falsehood.

Satan is a liar who claims to be the bringer of freedom, but in reality, he is the bringer of slavery. Satan is a liar who claims to be the bringer of liberty, but in reality, he is the bringer of bondage.

Satan is a liar who claims to be the bringer of life, but in reality, he is the bringer of death. Satan is a liar who claims to be the bringer of health, but in reality, he is the bringer of disease.

Satan is a liar who claims to be the bringer of wealth, but in reality, he is the bringer of poverty. Satan is a liar who claims to be the bringer of prosperity, but in reality, he is the bringer of poverty.

BUDGET

The Kentucky General Assembly, which might have the final say on budget dollars, spent $3.4 billion last week on projects that could have the local impact of vital improvements. More than $2.4 million went to Marion and Crittenden County, as well as local departments, agencies and boards.

The council will still receive $550,000 due to a cost compensation for the state budget. They are putting a lot of counties in a really tight financial position, said Crittenden Commission Chairman Donnie Beavers. The district, like everyone else, will have to live with this budget.

The council passed a controversial three-per-cent tuition increase, the first of its kind in more than a decade. Though not pleased, some students said they were flexible with the new fees.

The city of Crittenden, as well as Franklin, is finesse $400,000 in state money to help with economic development projects. Franklin will use the money to support job development projects and tourism,

The district court will have to make applications to the Commonwealth Office of Long-Term Care in Frankfort before spending such funds. Franklin has $2.7 million in long-term care money, said Henderson.

...the House budget amendment added $150,000 to the personal income tax rate, which will lasting through the new year.
