BREAKING NEWS AT THE-PRESS.COM

YOUR HOME-OWNED NEWSPAPER SINCE 1879

New business hours at Press

Starting next week, The Crittenden Press will have new business hours. Beginning Monday, the office will be open weekdays from 9 a.m., to 5 p.m. For communication after hours, please visit our Web site at www.The-Press.com.

Crittenden exceeds some ACT averages

The average composite ACT score for Kentucky's 2008 college-bound seniors gained slightly over the 2007 composite score, the Kentucky Department of Education reported last month, and Crittenden County students fared above average in the reading and science categories.

"Performance on the ACT is very important. Colleges look at the ACT results for its incoming students for two major purposes, said Tonya Driver, district assessment coordinator. "One of those purposes is for scholarships."

The other purpose, she said is for assigning students to remedial classes, which are required classes that have to be paid for, but do not count toward required graduation hours.

Crittenden County's average scores as compared to the state average are as follows:

AREA	DISTRICT	STATE
Composite	20.6	20.9
Reading	21.6	21.5
Science	20.9	20.7
Math	20.0	20.2
English	19.4	20.5

A 34 is a perfect score on the ACT test. There were 54 CCHS seniors to take the test.

All high school juniors are required to take the ACT in Kentucky. Scores for last year's juniors were scheduled to be released today (Thursday).

Adults get shot at Heritage Days title

The Crittenden County Chamber of Commerce will sponsor Miss, Mrs. & Mr. Heritage Days at 2 p.m., Sept. 20 at the Courthouse Heritage Days stage.

This new event is open to contestants from any area. Miss Heritage Days must be between ages 18-22, not married and out of high school. Mrs. Heritage Days, must be age 23 or older and must be married or widowed. Mr. Heritage Days, must be 18 or older, must also be out of school and must dress as a lady - yes, as a woman. Apparel must be formal or Sunday dress.

Applications should be received by Sept. 15. For questions and applications call Kelly Heady at 704-2712.

Crayne native to appear on talk show

Rachel Ray Show features Bettag on upcoming segment no ifs, ands or butts

By ALLISON EVANS
ASSOCIATE EDITOR

In hindsight, Casey Bettag's hindsight is about to get more attention than she ever anticipated. In fact, you can check it out on the new season of the Rachael Ray Show on WSIL TV 3.

Answering an online request for feedback to the question, "What do you hate about your butt?" Bettag penned her complaint, sending it in with little expectation of winding up on the perky cooking phenom's daytime talk show.

Her complaint was not having too much junk in the trunk, as modern popular culture now refers to a little extra padding on the derriere. Bettag said her biggest complaint is not having a rump to hate.

What her response landed her - and two other women - was a trip to talk about her tush, or lack thereof, with Rachel Ray.

"It was a neat experience, but a little embarrassing," said the 34-year-old Crayne native and Crittenden County High School graduate. "I was shocked - I didn't think that the one thing to get me on television would be my back side."

On maternity leave with her third child, Bettag called on her mother Janet Stevens to travel with her to New York for the taping. Only she didn't tell her why they were traveling.

Stevens said this week that she assumed she was going with her daughter on business, as Bettag frequently does for her job with the phone company in Ferdinand, Ind.

"On the way to the airport I told her that I had answered a request on the Rachael Ray Show, but she said, 'Keep dreamin.' and didn't believe me."

It wasn't until Bettag produced the itinerary in their hotel room that her mother discovered her true roll of babysitting while her daughter's bum was among three featured in a segment on a popular daytime talk show. Stevens got a free flight and three nights of lodging out of the deal, as well.

In the three days Bettag was on the set of the Rachel Ray Show, producers filmed a background segment and gave her a new outfit becoming to her booty. Bettag went through a dress rehearsal, met with the set manager and stage manager and went through hair and make-up prior to taping the segment before a live audience.

Bettag and the other two girls featured on the segment met Emmy-winning Rachael Ray back stage before taping, which was an obvious highlight of the experience.

"It was a unique trip, but I don't think I'll be sending any more information to talk shows," Bettag said. "Definitely not about my rear end."

Hallie Goldfarb, a publicist for the show, said an air date for Bettag's appearance has yet to be determined. Watch The Press for an air date.

Surviving Gustav

After enduring Hurricane Katrina three years ago, Marion native Joan Hargis and her family and friends fled coastal Louisiana last week before Hurricane Gustav pushed ashore, causing billions of dollars in damage. Hargis (second from left), of Slidell, La., was unsure Wednesday of the damage her home may have suffered. Pictured are (from left) Rory Holley, of the Slidell area; Joan; Brooklyn Barker of Slidell; Greg Brumfield, a family friend from New Orleans; Madison, Melissa and Aidan Pearson, all of New Orleans; and L.J. Some flee hurricane while local man endures storm on Gulf Coast

When it became apparent last week that Hurricane Gustav was going to slam southern Louisiana, Joan Hargis and her family were not going to take the same risk that left them on a rooftop three years ago in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina. But when Gustav's arrival over coastal Mississippi was imminent, Tom McKenney was sent scurrying south into the eye of the storm.

The two Marion natives may have shared different approaches to Mother Nature's most recent torment, but both still endure the pain and memories of 2005, when Katrina unleashed its fury on the Gulf Coast.

Hargis and her family couldn't bare another Katrina and were making plans late last week to head back to her native Crittenden County even before her sister offered her the run of a vacant home. Accepting the offer, Hargis and seven of her friends and family opened the door to Keith and Beth Todd's Greenwood Height's home just after midnight Sunday.

"We knew after last time we didn't want to go through that mess," Hargis said Tuesday, awaiting word on conditions in her Slidell, La., subdivision.

And the word was not good later that day. Hargis, who left Kentucky for the Pelican State in 1977 learned that the Pearl River had flooded as it did in 2005, swamping portions of her subdivision with a concoction of floodwater, sewage and debris.

"I'm not sure what we're going home to," she contemplated as she sat across the living room from her

Highway 60 Yard Sale will include county

By DARYL K. TABOR
MANAGING EDITOR

It could be one of the largest yard sales in history, stretching near 200 miles from Meade County, Ky., through Marion.

The third annual Highway 60 Yard Sale will take place the first weekend in October and for the first time, Crittenden County has been invited to participate. Marion Tourism Director Michele Edwards said active participation from the county was sought by organizers just last week.

Highway 60 Yard Sale

More information on the upcoming Highway 60 Yard Sale from Meade to Crittenden County can be found online at www.Highway60YardSale.com. To sign up for local participation, call Michele Edwards at 965-5015.

"We've still got plenty of time," Edwards said. The now seven-county yard sale along U.S. 60 in western Kentucky will be made up of hundreds of individuals and groups invited to set up yard sales and craft booths along their properties and the highway, according to the event Web site, www.highway60.com.

Several stolen road signs from around Crittenden County lie under water near a Fords Ferry Road bridge. Authorities are looking for suspects in the case.

24 stolen road signs found in rural creek

STAFF REPORT

Sheriff Wayne Agent and other county officials want help in identifying the person or persons who stole $2,400 worth of road signs then threw them into Crooked Creek.

A motorist saw the signs in the creek from a bridge on Fords Ferry Road and notified authorities. Investigators found 24 road signs submerged in the creek.

Sheriff Agent said it's unclear how long the signs had been there. Dry weather has dropped the water level in the creek, making them particularly easy to see right now, he explained.

Crittenden County Tipline is offering a $500 reward for information leading an arrest in the case. Call 965-3000 and remain anonymous. County-Judge Executive Fred Brown said road signs cost about $100 apiece when you figure materials and labor to hang them.

"We replace about seven or eight signs a week because someone has shot them, stole them or run over them," Brown said. "Stealing road signs is a serious crime and it creates a danger for motorists and citizens."

Sheriff Agent said there are several intersections in the county where stop signs have been stolen. That creates a real danger for drivers, he said. Additionally, when road signs are stolen, the sheriff said, emergency response agencies can have trouble locating 911 addresses.

The county will aggressively seek prosecution of individuals who steal road signs, the sheriff added.

The theft of 24 signs will be considered a felony because of the value.

As schools go, so goes a nation

Complaints on the public educational system of our country are ever present from the top of knowledgeable people to the bottom. So why do we see the people of this great nation in such disarray in comparison to many years ago? It is because of what they believe.

The wisest man, except Jesus, said: "As a man thinks in his heart so is he." Proverbs 23:7.

For over 100 years, more than 50 percent of all Harvard graduates were pastors.

All the historical information of our founding fathers and history of this nation that I've presented in the last two columns prove that the Bible and the Christian faith were fundamental to our educational and judicial system.

In 1962, the U.S. Supreme Court introduced a radical change in the direction it began to take this nation. Now, look to where that bunch of radicals has

Rev. Lucy Tedrick
Religious Views
lucytedrick@att.net

brought this once God-fearing and great nation.

This is the prayer that was banished from the public schools: "Almighty God, we acknowledge our dependence on Thee. We beg Thy blessings upon us and our parents and our teachers and our country. Amen." The atheists took the day here.

That was the first step down the slippery slope of moving America from under the all encompassing umbrella of God's protection and unprecedented blessings.

In 1963, the liberal Supreme Court ruled that Bible reading was to be outlawed as unconstitutional in the public school system. Its decision was: "If portions of the New Testament were read without explanation, they could and have been psychologically harmful to children." What a far-fetched lie!

They knew they were outside of the truth of our history, or tragically history illiterate. The Bible was quoted by 94 percent of the leaders who wrote our constitution and shaped our nation and its system of education, justice and government.

Again, in 1965, the Courts ruled as unconstitutional the right of a student in the public school cafeteria to bow his head and pray audibly for his food. How arrogant and ungodly!

In 1973 the courts ruled that all future students of this nation could be killed before they were born, or half born, if the mother wanted it done. And we call ourselves civilized?

In 1980, the courts outlawed the Ten Commandments in our public schools. Their reasoning was: "If the posted copies of the Ten Commandments were to have any effect at all, it would be to induce school children to read them. And if they read them, meditated upon them, and perhaps venerated and observed them, this is not a permissible objective." No, we would rather have them drug addicts, adulterers, fornicators, homosexuals, lesbians, rapists, murderers, alcoholics, liars and thieves.

This was done with the glaring historical fact that James Madison, the primary author of the Constitution of the United States, had said: "We have staked the whole future of our new nation, not upon the power of government; far from it. We have staked the future of all our political constitution upon the capacity of each of ourselves to govern ourselves according to the moral principles of the Ten Commandments."

So why is our beloved nation in such dire moral and criminal condition? It has left its roots and foundation that made it great and has been besmirched, lied about, deceived and corrupted by atheists, humanists, immoralists, sinners of the worse stripe and power-grabbing, unelected judges, and politicians who care more about perpetrating their job and power than they care about God, country or man.

Most of the historical facts in these last three columns have been sanitized from the public school curriculum and have left most of our last four generations of young people illiterate of our national history. This is mental and educational abuse!

Therefore, they do not know how we have arrived at being the greatest, freest, most affluent, influential and blessed nation in history. Therefore, they will not know how to retain it, or regain any of it when it is lost, and it will be, unless God's people pray, believe and stay true to Him so He will turn it around before the other shoe drops.

The teachers who are worth their salt have been hog-tied in discipline, teaching morals, integrity, taking responsibility for one's actions and honest history.

Removing all of this from our schools psychologically tells our students prayer and Bible reading are taboo. Therefore, not cool. So in their minds, evil is in and good is out.

How true the scripture: "He that have sown the wind shall reap the whirlwind." Hosea 8:7.

Finding a constant helping ease changeover

Empty. That's what the back half of the office building was as I wandered in at 9:07 Tuesday morning.

For the first week since I was a snotty, wobbly toddler, The Crittenden Press was void of the usual behind-the-scenes activity that gets the final product on the street. No pressman. No rhythm of machinery pounding and slicing sheets of newsprint into their final form. No chatter around the dining area as the ladies in the back made their way up for lunch.

It's different around here now. And, it'll take some getting used to before I realize Ken's not in the back for me to drag to the corner convenience store for a high-calorie afternoon snack.

If you hadn't noticed already, we've gone color. That means the printing units used at The Crittenden Press since 1976 are quiet. They hummed to their last slow stop here at 2:10 on the afternoon of Aug. 27. It was at least 2:17 before the last eye dried.

You see, the change marked not only an end to our on-site printing, but also the long, unheralded career of Faye Conger.

Changes in the newspaper industry, economy and wishes of our readers called for the difficult switch, just as a changing world has left the shade-tree mechanic doing little but napping under the limbs.

How many of the 4,000 or so weekly readers over the last 31 years knew there was a good chance Faye was the last one to handle their paper before it left the building?

Very few, I would bet.

Yet, week after week, month after month, year after year, Faye was here to assemble the circulars and sections of the newspaper for distribution. She's seen so many faces pass through here in that time, she cannot even begin to remember them all.

She'll never forget a few, though; like the late Jim Smith. For many, his name is still as synonymous with the paper as anyone's. Faye and Jim, I've learned, were pretty tight. In fact, he would often jest with visitors about Faye's beliefs.

"She's so religious, she won't even eat devil's food cake," he would joke to some of the newbies at The Press.

I'd believe that if I didn't know firsthand of Faye's superb baking abilities. And don't be fooled, she knows how to let her hair down.

She was here on an April day 16 years ago when I first walked through the doors as an employee. She's been here every time I left and came back through, too. So, to me, she will always be a face I associate with The Press.

Often times, Faye liked to remind me she had once changed my diapers in the nursery of Emmanuel Baptist Church, proving she certainly doesn't care to get her hands dirty. And she's been as reliable as the sun.

Thanks, Faye, for stuffing all those newspapers and being a constant in this world of change... and for doing that unspeakable job in a nursery when I was unable to properly express my gratitude.

Ken, our pressman for 21 years, never had to change my diaper. It's a good thing, too, as I was 19 when I first met him back in April of 1992.

He's watched me grow from a reckless teenager into a reckless thirtysomething. And, he's been a good buddy the entire time, listening to gripes and complaints and sharing a few of his own.

Ken is one of those guys who probably has a hard time sleeping after killing a fly. He's the epitome of the term "nice guy."

And, he's not very excitable, either. He'd usually just shake his head and question my antics with one simple word: "Tabor?" I'd bet he's probably said it a million times and thought it twice as many.

After two decades here, he also never lost his amazement for this community's thirst for the news he so routinely printed.

"I've never seen anything like it," he said of the flood of patrons to our front door each Wednesday afternoon.

While he's never admitted to it, Ken did enjoy playing a sneaky game of hide-the-ink-blob. Regularly, I'd return from a visit with Ken in the back carrying a large ink stain on my shirt, shoe or pair of pants. You never knew when or where it may turn up, but no one else seemed to suffer from the same dry cleaning needs as me.

He even got me on his last day as our pressman, again testing my threat to send him a cleaning bill. Despite the approximate $348.62 he's cost me over the years in ink-stained clothes, he has been one of my truest friends.

Turning the page is never easy, but it's an unfortunate fact of life. Even the old, soulless Goss Community Press expressed its disfavor on the last day of printing, kicking a plate and scarring the front of your newspapers last week.

Ken and Faye have been cogs in an important wheel to any town - the community newspaper. But more expressly, they have been a powerful part of many lives for many years.

That, I might add, is something that can never be changed.

(Editor's note: Daryl K. Tabor is the managing editor of The Crittenden Press. His column appears periodically.)

Crittenden County can become a model for community literacy

What a time of tremendous opportunity and challenge for our school district as we prepare students today for a world that does not yet exist in terms of the demands of a competitive, global marketplace.

The term "academic performance" must mean something different today than it did 10 or 20 years ago. Academic performance has been identified as an area of focused attention and continuous improvement by the Crittenden County School District. Many believe that the responsibility for improving academic performance lies solely with a child's teacher, however, this is just not the case. Academic performance is influenced by a variety of important factors for students:

- Positive beliefs about education;
- Attendance as a daily priority;
- Graduation from high school as a necessity;
- Continuous improvement in assessment results;
- Community involvement in student activities;
- Family support for student learning;

Dr. Rachel Yarbrough
Super News
rachel.yarbrough@Crittenden.kyschools.us

dent learning:

- School district commitments to improving education for all students; and
- Crittenden County citizens who embrace the importance of learning.

Making the Crittenden County School District an outstanding place for student learning and improved academic performance requires each of us to value every student's learning path. We must create a learning environment that provides options for student learning (drop-out prevention, credit recovery, alternative programs and individualized interventions).

No child who enrolls in the Crittenden County Schools should feel as if "dropping out" is their only available option. We are at a point in the Crittenden County School District where "dropping out" is no longer an option for our students. One of our top priorities is for all Crittenden County students to earn a high school diploma and receive an educational experience that positively prepares them for success in the 21st century. We must set high expectations and goals that are shared by the community at large.

What if... Every Crittenden County parent/grandparent/guardian believed that a high quality education was the most important gift they could give their child?

What if... Every student who enrolls in the Crittenden County Schools graduates with a high school diploma?

What if... No student in the Crittenden County Schools considered "dropping out" as an option?

What if... Every Crittenden County High School graduate was prepared for the 21st century workplace?

What if... Every Crittenden County citizen who has not earned a high school diploma or GED would take steps to make this happen in their lives?

What if... Crittenden County was known in the state of Kentucky for being a "Model of Community Literacy"?

As the Superintendent of Crittenden County Schools, I believe it is possible to turn these "what if" questions into a real vision for our community. We must be united with regard to improving academic performance for students. We cannot be satisfied with the following statistic (2000 U.S. Census data): 2,388 Crittenden County citizens over the age of 18 were without a high school diploma or GED. The more we emphasize the value of a high school education and realize that it is an "essential" requirement for students to function effectively in this hi-tech society, the stronger our Crittenden County community and school district will be.

Youth tennis program starts

Banker hopes to grow love of sport beginning with kids

By DARYL K. TABOR
MANAGING EDITOR

It may not produce the next Jimmy Connors or Chris Evert, but Terry Bunnell has his sights set on fostering a tennis community in Crittenden County.

Starting next week, Bunnell and a handful of local volunteers will begin hosting a tennis clinic for area youth. QuickStart Tennis, a program of the U.S. Tennis Association, will serve up an opportunity for children to begin learning the game at the most basic skill level possible. "Every kid learning to play needs to learn this way," Bunnell, president of The Peoples Bank, said.

Bunnell

Bunnell, an avid tennis fan since he began playing as a teen, is eager to start the program next week, despite the lack of a public tennis court in the county. He and volunteers will set up makeshift courts on the basketball courts at Marion-Crittenden County Park, inviting children from kindergarten through sixth grade to join in the six-session class.

"It's gonna be a fun program," Bunnell said. "It gives kids an option outside of baseball or football."

The sessions begin Monday, with registration beginning at 5 p.m., at the courts. No pre-registration is required, but a $15 registration fee should be paid that evening. The first one-hour session begins at 5:30 p.m., Monday. The follow-up will begin at the same time on Tuesday. Remaining sessions will be Sept.

15, 16, 22 and 23, and children can enter the program at anytime during the program, Bunnell said.

"A lot of communities are doing this," he said, adding that he helped start the program in his native Glasgow, Ky., last fall.

Parents who wish to enroll more than one child need pay only $10 after the first registration. Racquets and balls will be provided to students, though participants are asked to wear tennis shoes each session.

The balls used initially in the program will be oversized, Nerf-like balls with lots of spring but little impact, as Bunnell showed by tossing it against his office window in the bank. Racquets and the net will also be age and skill-level appropriate, scaled down for children.

"I learned, basically, by hitting a ball against the wall," he said of his early days in tennis.

But today will find Bunnell playing tennis just about any place he can. He's played on grown-over private courts in the county, in tournaments in neighboring counties and on the basketball courts with another local tennis fan, Carole Guess. He's even hit a ball or two on the street with Terry Ford, showing Ford the bounce of the ball used in the QuickStart program.

And that passion for tennis has been enough to encourage Guess, Ford, Ford's wife Ramona, Larry Orr and Teresa Foster to help with QuickStart. Bunnell's ultimate goal is to foster a new generation of tennis players that might again make erecting public tennis courts viable in county.

Just for starters

QuickStart Tennis, a program designed to teach youth the sport of tennis, starts next week at Marion-Crittenden County Park. The six-session program starts at 5 p.m., Monday. More on QuickStart can be found at <http://consumers.quickstarttennis.com>

Kirk retiring from library after 7 years

Rose Kirk will be the second librarian retiring from Crittenden County Public Library in the last month.

Kirk

Kirk, who has been at the library since December 2001, follows Barbara Butler, whose last day was Friday. Kirk is best known for her work with children's programs at the facility and is retiring due to health reasons, though she has not set a date for her last day at work.

The two retirements have created a need for two part-time employees at the library, with Tabby Padgett and Casey

Voters have only one month to register before election

STAFF REPORT

Those wishing to have an impact on the upcoming general election have only a few more weeks to register to vote. To encourage registration, the National Association of Secretaries of State has deemed September National Voter Registration Month.

The deadline to register in Kentucky for the upcoming general election is Oct. 6. County clerks' offices will accept voter registration cards until the close of business that day. A postmark of Oct. 6 is also required for all mailed voter registration applications obtained over the Internet at www.vote.ky.gov/register.

Currently on the presidential ballot in Kentucky, six candidates have filed, including two write-ins. On Wednesday, Ralph Nader and running mate Matt Gonzalez submitted their papers to appear on the ballot as independent candidates. Nader and Gonzalez join Democrats Barack Obama and Joe Biden, Chuck Baldwin and Robert E. Thornsberry of the Constitution Party, Bob Barr and Wayne A. Root of the Libertarian Party and write-ins Leonard C. Habermehl and Steven K. Miller and Keith Russell Judd and Morty Wayne Judd. John McCain and Sarah Palin will submit paperwork to appear on the ballot after McCain accepts the GOP nomination later today (Thursday).

According to U.S. Census figures, 55 million of 197 million eligible voters did not register to vote in the last presidential election in 2004. Of that figure, more than six million eligible voters said they did not vote in the November 2004 election because they missed their state's voter registration deadline. Five percent of non-voters from that year told Census officials they did not know how or where to register to vote.

New digs for mining relics

The new construction behind Fohs Hall and the Ben E. Clement Mineral Museum has created quite a stir recently. Museum curator Tina Walker says she has fielded plenty of calls and questions regarding the structure being built by Leroy Leet Construction Co. The building will be used to store some of the old mineral museum equipment that is currently kept behind the museum off North College Street. Getting it out of the weather will preserve it much better, Walker said. The old floorspar equipment recently received a new coat of paint thanks to the work release program at the Crittenden County Detention Center. Inmates painted the equipment and the museum's exterior. Walker said that donations to the museum are encouraged. It is trying to raise enough money to cover costs of building the shelter.

60yardsale.com. Edwards is encouraging not only residents looking to clean out their garage, but organizations looking to make a few dollars for projects.

"We'd like to see it as fundraisers for community groups and churches," she said.

Edwards will be the local organizer for the event. While individual or groups are invited to set up on their own, by working with the tourism office and Edwards, yard sales will be included in extensive advertising throughout the state.

"We have $1,000 for advertising," Edwards said. "They'll be advertising in every paper in the state."

Besides the yard sales themselves, restaurants, shops and other businesses should benefit from the exposure, Edwards said. With potential to draw visitors from all over along the 175-mile route, many communities build their own special event around the Highway 60 Yard Sale such as the Green River Area Development District's Arts and Crafts Festival that will take place at the

Edwards

John James Audubon State Park in Henderson.

"This gives people in our community a change to get in on it," she said.

Edwards is working on reserving areas along the federal highway - like Marion City Hall parking lot - as locales where those who may not have a place to host a sale along U.S. 60 can gather to sell their wares.

For more information on the Highway 60 Yard Sale or to sign on, contact Edwards at 965-5015.

Lindsey Cochran of Marion is shown here with the large cherry tomato plants her family grew behind their home on North College Street. The top of building is 11 feet. The plants have eclipsed 13 feet and are drooping under their own weight. Lindsey's brother Logan planted the cherry tomatoes and mom and dad, Keith and Sherry Cochran, have helped keep them watered. The plant is very big and the tomatoes are tasty, the Cochrans said.

Program aims to save Kentucky's old barns

ASSOCIATED PRESS

A few Kentucky agencies met recently to discuss preserving parts of Kentucky's rural landscape that are as familiar as its rolling hills: Its deteriorating barns.

Representatives from the University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service, Preservation Kentucky, the Kentucky Heritage Council and others met recently to talk about an alliance to preserve those buildings that exemplify Kentucky's rural agricultural traditions.

Barn-preservation programs exist in at least 20 states, including Indiana and Ohio. Some barns and farm buildings remain in use across Kentucky, but there are many that are in poor condition, and are increasingly empty or marginally used. Others are dismantled as former farmland is used for roads, housing or industry.

The Rural Heritage Development Initiative is a three-year pilot program of the National Trust for Historic Preservation that hopes to preserve barns in several Kentucky counties by making their reuse feasible.

"Kentucky has always been deeply rooted in a sense of place in its rural, agricultural tradition, and the barn is an iconic image of that," said Amy Sparrow Potts, field representative for the initiative.

A statewide barn alliance in Kentucky would not necessarily distribute money for repairs, but would link farmers with technical assistance, contractors, tax credits or other information that would help to save barns. Some barn owners have applied for tax credits for the work performed on their barns.

A farmer can be reimbursed for 50 percent of the cost of improvements to facilities, said Rick Greenwell, the Washington County Cooperative Extension agent for agriculture.

Marion Ed-Tech offers community classes this fall

STAFF REPORT

The Marion Ed-Tech Center will be hosting an array of community education classes the remainder of this year, including several for workers seeking certification in their respective trades.

Two classes of forklift certification will be offered this fall, with the first one scheduled from 10 a.m., to 1 p.m., Sept. 18. The second will be at the same time on Nov. 6. Registration for either class is $59

Attending the certification class fulfills the requirements for safe operation of a forklift. Attendees must be sponsored by an existing business, and at the conclusion of the class, the participant will receive certification good for three years. David Stooksbury of Black Equipment in Hopkinsville will instruct both classes.

For electrical workers, there are also two opportunities to further required education.

Electrical contractors can fulfill their continuing education needs Sept. 13 from 8 a.m., to 2:30 p.m., with a six-hour course for license holders. An additional two-hour session for HVAC will also be available. Topics for electrical contractors will include 2008 business tax law updates, workers compensation and employment law issues for contractors. The additional two hours for HVAC will include a discussion of basic residential duct design.

The cost for electrical contractors will be $85, with an additional $50 required for the HVAC session.

Continuing education for electricians and master electricians will be offered Oct. 25. This 6-hour course satisfies the Office of Kentucky Housing, Buildings and Construction requirements for electrical license renewal. Topics include an in-depth review and discussion of major changes in the 2008 National Electric Code.

KARE program helps those hit by late freeze

Application deadline will be Sept. 26

The Crittenden County Conservation District will soon be accepting applications for the Kentucky Agricultural Relief Effort (KARE) Program. The program will provide assistance for producers affected by the 2007 late freeze and drought.

Applications will be available Sept. 15 and the deadline to return them will be Sept. 26.

The conservation district will cost-share up to 50 percent of the cost for eligible cost-share items. The maximum amount a producer will receive is $1,000 on any practice.

There are 18 eligible items offered in the program:

- Drilling for subsurface aquifers and well establishments.
- Developing and piping on farm springs.
- Construction of small stream water basins.
- Establishing and enhancing on farm ponds.
- Water hook-up to city/county water lines for farm usage.
- Irrigation equipment, structures and components.
- Forage/pasture development.
- Pasture/grain improvement.
- Filter fabric pads for heavy use areas.

corey.payne@uky.edu

- Fence and water.
- Seeding; custom services and rental of equipment.
- Cooling fans and sprinkler systems.
- Shade cloth and other temporary or permanent agricultural shelters.
- Feeding equipment, commodity storage structures, hay wrappers, feed mixers and silage feeding/storage equipment (excludes forage harvesting equipment).
- Crop insurance premiums.
- Trailers, wagons and other forage/commodity transportation related equipment (excludes livestock trailers).
- Animal waste handling equipment.
- Rootstock and trees and certified, hybrid and/or other seed varieties.

Tractors, skid steer loaders, and other motorized self-propelled equipment and vehicles (except irrigation systems) are excluded from this program.

For more information, stop by the county conservation district office in the USDA building at 118 East Bellville Street, or contact the office at 965-3921.

UK, KU hosting goat symposium in October

In recent years, goat production has soared in Kentucky and right here in Crittenden County. As a result, new producers sometimes have a steep learning curve. To continue educating new and seasoned goat producers, the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture is teaming up with Kentucky State University to sponsor the Kentucky Goat Symposium Oct. 14-16 in Frankfort. For the first two days, symposium participants will gather at the Capitol Plaza Hotel. On the final day, they'll take part in a goat-focused "Third Thursday" program at the KSU Research and Demonstration Farm. Symposium topics will include forage and forage utilization, use of brush and brush control, soil fertility, the UK-KSU goat and sheep modules, business planning, new methods and management of parasite control, goat health, dairy goats, scrapie program update, breeding stock selection and tours. The event begins at 10 a.m. Oct. 14 and concludes at 3 p.m., Oct. 16. The registration deadline is Sept. 19 and the cost for the symposium is $25, which includes two nights' lodging, meals and tours. For those wanting only to attend the goat program at the farm Oct. 16, there is no registration fee. For more details and registration materials, contact Marion Simon, state specialist for small farms and part-time farmers, at 502-597-6437 or e-mail marion.simon@kysu.edu.

Murray State maintains elite status

STAFF REPORT
Murray State University received top rankings for 18th consecutive year from an annual review of America's colleges.

Last week's rankings from U.S. News & World Report's 2009 edition of America's Best College placed Murray State at seventh in the Top Public University-Master's/South division. Also, the university holds its spot in the top 20 at number 18 in the Best Universities-Master's/South, which includes both privates and publics.

Higher education

For more information on Murray State and America's best colleges, visit <http://colleges.usnews.rankingsandreviews.com>.

Murray State is the only Kentucky public school to be ranked for that length of time in the guide.

When reviewing overall scores, Murray State's comes in at 10th in the nation among public universities.

"...We do all of this with some of the lowest tuition pricing in the commonwealth," said Dr. Randy J. Dunn, president of Murray State. We believe we are a jewel in the crown of Kentucky's higher education system."

In addition to the U.S. News recognition, Murray State was recently rated as one of "America's Best Colleges" by Forbes.com. MSU was the highest ranked Kentucky public university on the list.

The university has also earned honors for its academic quality and affordability from Kiplinger's Personal Finance, Barron's, Money Guide and Princeton Review.

Highlights of the college rankings are published in the Sept. 1 issue of U.S. News & World Report, already on newsstands, as is the 2009 America's Best Colleges guide-book.

Dunham selected as FCA president

STAFF REPORT
Crittenden County High School senior Cody Dunham has been selected president of the school's Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA) organization.

FCA was started at Crittenden County High more than 15 years ago. In some years, the group is more active than others largely based on scheduling, said sponsor Denis Hodge.

The group meets the fourth Friday of every month during club hour at the school, generally 12:30 p.m.

"Everyone is invited and encouraged to attend," Hodge said. "You definitely do not have to be an athlete to participate."

Dunham said he seeks God's guidance in leading the organization and is looking forward to the opportunity to be a witness to his fellow students. Dunham is a member of the Rocket basketball team and Marion United Methodist Church.

"We've had some really good student leaders the past few years, and I think Cody will definitely follow in their footsteps," Hodge said.

Cody Brown, who was president of FCA two years ago, is now a young minister at Hardin Baptist Church.

Hodge said Dunham will be in charge of organizing monthly meetings. Dunham will often lead the service and there will also be occasion for guest speakers.

"I look for Cody to be a motivational speaker and to provide spiritual guidance for his peers," Hodge said.

Dunham is the son of James and Wendy Dunham of Marion.

Churchnotes

■ The Basement at Marion Baptist Church will be open from 7 to 11 p.m. Friday for youth grades 6-12.

■ Marion Baptist Church invites everyone to come worship with them for Friends Day on Sunday. Sunday School starts at 9:30 a.m., and morning worship at 10:45 a.m. A meal will be following the morning worship service and the MBC Choir, Quartet and others will be singing after the meal.

■ The First Baptist Church of Sturgis will have revival services Sept. 14 - 17. Sunday services will be at 11 a.m. and 6 p.m.. Weekday services will be at 7 p.m. Russ Davidson of Salem, Mo. (former pastor of Union Baptist Church in Crittenden County) will be the preaching evangelist. Rob Britton of Flowery Branch, Ga., will be the music evangelist. Don Phelps is pastor of Sturgis First Baptist Church.

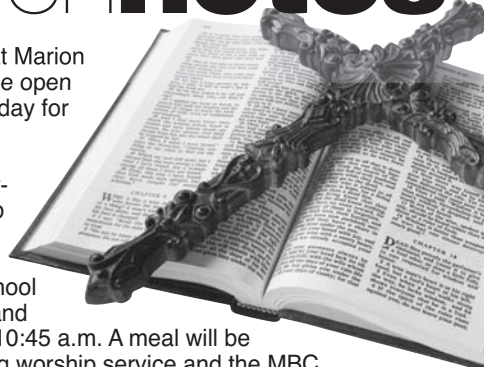

■ The annual ice cream social at Rose Hill will be from 2 to 4 p.m., Sept. 14. The City of Eddyville and the Lyon County Historical Society are co-sponsors of the event. Chairing it this year are Brother Jerrell White and Joyce Thomason Mattingly. Instrumental and vocal music by Lyon County musicians will be provided. The museum will open at no cost and there will be free ice cream and cookies. A new segment this year will be an Open Mic when those attending may share memories of former days in Lyon County. Bring a folding chair.

■ A Women's Conference, "He's concerned about me," featuring Dr. Brenda Robinson will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Sept. 13 at the First Baptist Church in Morganfield. Childcare will be provided and lunch will be served. For tickets call Bonnie Thomas at 822-9161. There will also be a gospel singing at 6 p.m. featuring "New Desire" on the same day and at same place. The church is located at 200 N. Morgan St.

■ Mission Possible is held from 3 p.m. to 5:30 p.m., every Wednesday at Marion Baptist Church for grades 1-12.

■ A benefit singing for the Junior and Debbie Duncan family will be held at 7 p.m., Friday at Fohs Hall with the Stone Family and The Hamptons. The Duncan Family recently lost everything to a fire. For more information call 988-4709 or 988-3613. All proceeds go to the Junior Duncan family.

Send The Crittenden Press notice of upcoming events at your church and we will publish them in this weekly Church Notes segment. Call 965-3191 or e-mail pressnews@the-press.com

Prayer Event
With One Voice
Praying with urgency for Kentucky

Thursday, September 11 • 7 p.m.

"When a child is lost and believed to be in danger in Kentucky, an alert notification goes out across the airwaves. Law enforcement officers, news media personnel and everyday citizens go into high gear to bring the one who is lost to safety. On Thursday, Sept. 11th, 2008, Pastor Danny Starrick and Marion Second Baptist invites everyone to gather to focus on a similar kind of alert as all concerned across the Commonwealth participate in special prayer gatherings to focus on the urgent need to bring those who are lost to Christ."

PRAYER GATHERINGS ACROSS OUR STATE

Church adding to its Arms Around Families

STAFF REPORT
Emmanuel Baptist Church's Arms Around Families program will offer two new programs this fall.

"We are excited about expanding our program to cover additional issues within our community and families," said Rob Ison, pastor of the Marion church.

One new program will consist of a parenting support group facilitated by Starla Breuer. This group will be open to everyone, and there are no pre-requirements. Insight and hope will be offered for the overwhelming role of caring for children of all ages.

This group began last week, but will continue on Tuesday evenings at the church.

Another new course is an independent living skills class for seventh- through 12th-grade children. This will be facilitated by Marilyn Belt and Melissa Cook and assists adolescents in acquiring skills needed when they reach adulthood.

Topics will include budgeting, nutrition, education, goals, anger management and many others. This class will run 16 weeks beginning Sept. 16 from 6 to 7:30 p.m. An attendance sheet will be kept and a certificate of completion will be given.

In addition to the new programs, the church continue to provide the following classes on Tuesday nights:

■ Everybody Cares - An ongoing program dealing with safety, anger management, self-esteem and many more on the appropriate age level. (Ages three to sixth grade.)

■ Parenting - 16-week class with fall registration closing Tuesday.

■ Celebrate Recovery - A faith-based recovery program for men and women dealing with divorce, substance abuse, death and other subjects.

All classes are held at the church and transportation and a nursery are available. Call 965-4623 for more information.

Singer Reed dead at 71

Jerry Reed, a singer who became a good ol' boy actor in movies like "Smokey and the Bandit," died Monday of complications from emphysema at 71. Reed's catalog of country chart hits included, "When You're Hot, You're Hot," "East Bound and Down," and "She Got the Goldmine (I Got the Shaft)." In the mid-1970s, he began acting in movies such as "Smokey and the Bandit" and "The Waterboy."

Born in Atlanta, Reed learned to play guitar at age 8 when his mother bought him a $2 guitar and showed him how to play a G-chord.

He dropped out of high school to tour with Ernest Tubbs and Faron Young. At 17, he signed his first recording contract, with Capitol Records.

He was living in Nashville when he died early Monday morning.

Duncan family will benefit from singing

There will be a benefit singing at 7 p.m., Friday at Fohs Hall in Marion. All proceeds will go to the Junior and Debbie Duncan family, which lost their home to fire last month.

Featured performers at the singing will be The Stone Family and The Hamptons.

Everyone is invited to enjoy an evening of gospel singing and to help out a family that lost all of its belongings and had a son severely burned.

Nic Duncan, the couple's 19-year-old son, suffered burns on his arm and leg. He underwent surgery at Vanderbilt and is now home recuperating.

KY soldier killed in Iraq

WILLIAMSBURG, Ky. — The Pentagon says a Kentucky soldier has died of wounds suffered from small arms fire in Qadasiyah, Iraq. The military said 25-year-old Army Sgt. David Keith Cooper, of Williamsburg, died last Wednesday in Baghdad. He was assigned to Forward Support Company, 4th Battalion, 42nd Field Artillery, 1st Brigade Combat Team, 4th Infantry Division at Fort Hood, Texas. According to an obituary provided by his funeral home, Cooper is was 2001 graduate of Williamsburg High School and was born in Whitley County. Funeral arrangements have not been set. He is survived by his wife, Amanda Cooper of Corbin, Ky.; his parents, Ronald and Judy Cooper of Williamsburg, and two sisters, Veronica and Vanessa Cooper, of Richmond.

IVA ISABELLE (BELT) (BOONE) TERRY

Mom (Iva Isabelle (Belt) (Boone) Terry), was born June 22, 1918 in Crittenden County, Kentucky and died at the age of 90, on September 3, 2008 at Crittenden County Health and Rehabilitation Center, Marion, Kentucky. She married her first husband James Willard Boone in Marion, Kentucky, where they raised three children. After his death she re-married and moved to Evansville, Indiana where she resided until August 2008.

Fall fun

Jamboree set for Sept. 13

The August meeting of the Salem Garden Club was held at the home of Jean Greeman. She is an avid gardener who has a passion for roses. There were 16 members and two guests present. All enjoyed refreshments served by our hostess, and most of all we enjoyed the fellowship. We have discovered meeting in each other's homes has brought us closer together. Many of the women say it is their time to escape a hectic life, share their love of gardening and work on civic projects.

Everyone is looking forward to Salem's Fall Jamboree set for Sept. 13. The organizational committee for this event has worked hard. Admission is free with a donation of one non-perishable food item for Livingston County Helping Hands. We will have a trailer set up to accept all donations.

Our main event will be a gospel singing starting at 4 p.m., with Mayor Rell Peck serving as our emcee. Many churches are providing music such as Miracle Word, Lola Pentecostal, Pleasant Grove, Hopewell, Pickneyville and others. Registration will start at 3 p.m., for the motorcycle show. This is open to all bikes, including three-wheelers, four-wheelers and race bikes. Watch for signs on where to enter bikes. Other events include a washer pitching tournament, kids, games and concessions provided by the Salem Garden Club. Rain moves the event to the Christian Life Center.

Thanks to Larry Tinsley for getting the spotlights installed on the Welcome To Salem Rocks. Also thanks to the City of Salem for allowing the garden club to enhance it further.

Our next club meeting will be held at Marty Kaiser's, 820 View Rd, Marion, at 6:30 p.m., Sept. 8. Marty is a very interesting person who has a love for succulents. She has many varieties in her greenhouse that were shipped from California. Marty is also a professional photographer and the garden club is very grateful for the pictures she has taken to document our many events.

Go green to reduce energy bills

With energy costs going through the roof, many people are looking for ways to conserve around their homes. One way to significantly decrease energy costs is to implement green practices. Not only will green practices save money on home energy costs, but they can reduce your carbon footprint on the environment and make your home healthier, cleaner and safer.

Green is a term that can be used rather loosely. Many products on the market claim to be green but in reality are not. Consumers may find it difficult to determine which products are actually green. When shopping for green household items, remember green products save water, energy and other resources and replace toxic chemicals with safe and healthy components. They also may conserve natural resources, be recyclable and be made from recyclable materials. Examples of green products include fume-free paints, bamboo flooring and textile products, tile made from recycled glass, toxic-free cleaning products and even reusable fabric shopping bags.

Not all green products will possess all of these characteristics. Choose products that have the qualities that are the most beneficial for you and fit your budget. Even small changes can conserve natural resources and promote energy savings. Shopping locally for these products can help you conserve fuel.

People can do several things to decrease their energy consumption at their residence. Improved insulation and infiltration barriers can go a long way to reduce energy consumption and cost. Effectively utilize natural light. It can help heat your home in the winter while blinds or shades can keep it cooler in the summer. You can also purchase ENERGY STAR appliances, windows and light bulbs to conserve energy.

Many green products cost the same as or less than traditional methods, but some can be more expensive. Even if they are more costly in the beginning, the energy savings these products provide likely will outweigh any purchasing or installation costs in the long term. Weigh the initial costs against the anticipated savings before determining which product to purchase.

For more information on green products or ways you can help the environment, contact the Crittenden County Cooperative Extension Service at 965-5236.

Carrsville artist Roger Morris (left) presents a replica of the Boyd Hardware Store to Chuck and Andy Fox, owners of Boyd Funeral Home in Salem.

Historic Carrsville painting donated to Salem business

A piece of Carrsville history has been added to Boyd Funeral Home in Salem.

Carrsville artist Roger D. Morris recently presented an acrylic painting of the old Boyd Hardware Store building to Chuck and Andy Fox, owners of the Boyd Funeral Home.

The 18x24-foot painting replicates the hardware store, which was located on Main Street in Carrsville, as it looked in about 1917. The large two-story building was yellow with white trim, as remembered by Carrsville native Jack Quertermous.

Morris sought the exact color for his painting by locating a relative of Lewis and Farris Boyd, Garvis Boyd, who is in his 90s and living in Florida. Morris learned that Garvis Boyd worked at the hardware store, contacting him to confirm that indeed the building was painted yellow, and even learning the name of the paint company - Kyanize Paint Company in Boston - that made the paint which the hardware store carried.

The Boyd Hardware Store burned to the ground along with other businesses in the 1937 fire that destroyed one side of Carrsville Main Street.

The painting is now displayed along with depictions of other historic sites at the Boyd Funeral Home in Salem.

In addition to the exchange of the painting, Andy Fox presented Morris with a generous donation to the Carrsville Community Association.

About 20 people attended the presentation Aug. 15 at the Carrsville Community Center.

Backyard habitat how-to event is Sept. 13

A Lyon County Master Gardener Tour and Registered Backyard Wildlife Habitat event will be held from 1-3 p.m., Sept. 13 at 121 Spring Hill Drive in Eddyville.

Habitat loss is the single most serious problem facing Kentucky wildlife today. If you are interested in learning more about having an area of your yard that will support wildlife, join this tour. Even a small yard or an apartment deck can provide important habitat - food, water and shelter - needed by wildlife. No site is not too small or unimportant. Come enjoy an afternoon of touring this Registered Backyard Habitat, and learn more from a brief visual demonstration from the Lyon County Master Gardeners on how to get started.

Meet at the Lyon County Extension Office at 12:30 p.m., to carpool. Call 388-2341 for reservations.

The family of Rev. Cortis Hill would like to express our appreciation to all of his dear friends who sent cards, flowers, food and gifts. We are thankful to those who visited the funeral home and expressed kind, comforting words, shared tears of grief and joy and many funny stories about our father. A special thank you to the staff of Gilbert Funeral Home, Bro. Jack Dodson, Pat Fuller, Shelly Hunt, Madeline Henderson, all the pallbearers and members of Piney Fork Cumberland Presbyterian Church who graciously served our family in our hour of need. Thank you to those of you who sent Bibles through Gideons International or contributed to other preferable charities. We offer our heartfelt gratitude to the Cumberland Presbyterian pastors and associates who served our Lord with Dad in the ministry for the Glory of God. May God bless each of you is our prayer.

I would to thank everyone for making my 90th Birthday party so special. Thank you for the cards, gifts and the attendance of friends and family and my children Keith, Beth, Linda and Kenneth.

Ruth Todd

Words can't express the appreciation I feel in my heart, first to God, and then to His people who participated in the benefit singing for me. In Psalms 133:1, "Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell in unity." This is how I saw the church at Miracle Word Church at Salem who hosted the benefit singing. I'd like to thank the church members for their prayers and love, the Hampton's and Miracle Word Choir for the beautiful music, also the ladies' of the church who served food, Shannon Hackney, Monda Watson, Judy Thurman, Diana Watson and Albert Helm for planning this event. It was supposed to have been a surprise for me, but I'm quite nosy and found out before hand. The surprise for me, was how many people came and showed such compassion. You see, this is how I knew the church was in unity. You can't have such success without true unity and love. Pastor Billy Jones and the church truly touched me heart and showed me that people do care.

My goodness, so many people sending uplifting letters and money for expenses going back and forth to Paducah for my cancer treatments, I just wish I had the right words to really express how I feel for everyone's prayers and compassion. This hasn't been an easy walk for me but you have made it easier. If I have left anyone out, please forgive me, but God knows who you are and He will bless everyone who did anything to help me.

With humble gratitude,
Wanda Hamby

The family of Rodnie Kenneth Davenport would like to thank everyone for all they did during the recent loss of our loved one. Even the smallest act of kindness did not go unnoticed. Thank you to those who brought food, sent cards, spoke kind words, sent flowers, made phone calls, sent Bibles and prayed for us during this difficult time. Also, we would like to extend our appreciation to the employees of Crittenden Health Systems, the Crittenden EMS team, and Crittenden Health and Rehabilitation Center who provided comfort and compassionate care to Rodnie, and our family during his illness. To employees of the Crittenden County Detention Center a personal thank you for all the support given to me during these last few months. Mere words cannot express the compassion, kindness and concern you have shown to me. We would also like to extend our deepest appreciation to the staff of Myers Funeral Home, and Bro. Curtis Franklin for the comforting words, and wonderful service. The love and kindness shown by all throughout this difficult time, will never be forgotten.

Again, we say thank you,

Remember Union soldiers from Crittenden County

Information for this article was gathered from the Veteran's Discharge Book 1864-1866 that is located in the basement of the county clerk's office.

The book is a wonderful source, but it's obviously incomplete. It's sad because only a small number of men who actually enlisted from our county are listed in the book. There are a couple of reasons for this. It's likely that when men returned home after the war, they failed to report their discharge. Possibly, too, the clerk didn't take time to write in the information.

There are only 44 names with information recorded in this book, they were all Union veterans. The following is an excerpt from the book.

To all whom it may concern: Know ye that H.D. Myres Corporal of Captain W.C. Musselman's Company (D) 20th Regiment of Kentucky infantry volunteers who was enrolled on the 23rd day of October one thousand eight hundred and sixty one to serve three years or during the war is hereby discharged from the service of the United States this 17th day of January 1865 at Louisville, Kentucky by reason of expiration of term of service. No objection to his being re-enlisted is known to exist.

Said H.D. Myres was born in Cook County in the State of Tennessee, is 25 years of age, fair complexion, blue eyes, light hair and by occupation when enrolled a farmer. Sworn at Louisville, Kentucky this 17th day of January 1865. Signed by: W.C. Musselman, Capt. Co. D 20th Ky Vol., Chas. W. Fletcher, Capt. of U.S. Infy., Mustering officer.

Oath of Identity

I, Henry D. Myres of the town of Marion, County of Crittenden, in the State of Kentucky, on this eighth day of October in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty six personally appeared before me the undersigned a justice of the peace for the county and state above mentioned. Henry D. Myres, who being duly sworn according to law, declares that he is the identical Henry D. Myres who was corporal in the company commanded by W.C. Musselman 20th in the Regiment Kentucky commanded by Sanders D. Bruce, that he enlisted on the 17th day of October 1861 for the term of three years and was discharged at Louisville on the 17th day of January 1865 by reason of expiration of term of service.

Henry D. Myres or Myers died April 9, 1904, and is buried in the Caldwell Springs Cemetery. His name is written as Myres, but it the same as Myers.

To all whom it may concern. Know ye that Henry C. Farmer a private of Captain Jonathan Belt's Company (C) 15th Regiment of Kentucky Cavalry volunteers who was enrolled on the 14th day of May one thousand eight hundred and sixty three to serve one year or during the war is hereby discharged from the service of the United States this 29th day of October 1863 at Paducah, Kentucky by reason of expiration of enlistment. No objection to his being re-enlisted is known to exist.

Said Henry C. Farmer was born in Trigg County in the State of Kentucky is 20 years of age, five feet six and half inches high, fair complexion, blue eyes light hair and by occupation when enrolled a farmer.

Given at Paducah, Kentucky this 29th day of October 1863. Signed: W. Waller, Major.

I certify that Henry C. Farmer has this 29th day of October 1863 been mustered out of the U.S. service and is hereby honorably discharged from the same. Geo. W. Fetterman, 1st Lt. 15th U.S.

Oath of Identity

I, T.L.R. Wilson, a justice of the peace of the town of Marion, County of Crittenden in the State of Kentucky on this 16th day of April in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty six personally appeared before me the undersigned a justice of the peace for the county and state above mentioned Henry C. Farmer who being duly sworn according to law declares that he is the identical person who was a private in the company commanded by Captain Jonathan Belt in the Regiment 15th Cavalry Kentucky commanded by A. C. Henry that he enlisted on the 14th day of May 1863 for the term of one year and was discharged at Paducah, Kentucky on the 29th day of October 1863 by reason of the expiration of term of enlistment. Signed: Henry C. Farmer.

Henry C. Farmer died Dec. 23, 1912, and is buried in the Farmer Cemetery. His family marker says Co. E 48th Ill., Inf. Illinois Civil War records show that on Feb. 4, 1864, he enlisted with the 48th Ill., Inf. Co. E, as a private and was mustered out Aug. 15, 1865 as a corporal.

To all whom it may concern. Know ye that John N. Travis 3rd sergeant of Capt. John Glenn's Company H 20th Regiment of Kentucky Infantry Volunteers who was enrolled on the 22nd day of October one thousand eight hundred and sixty one to serve three years or during the war is hereby discharged from the service of the United States this 17th day of January 1865 at Louisville, Kentucky by Reason of expiration of term of service. No objection to his being re-enlisted is known to exist, said John N. Travis was born in Crittenden County in the state of Kentucky, is 40 years of age, five feet five and one half inches high, dark complexion, hazel eyes, black hair and by occupation when enrolled a farmer. Given at Louisville, Kentucky this 17th day of January 1865.

Henry D. Myers was 25 years old when he was discharged from the Union Army in Louisville. He was described in discharge papers as being of fair complexion, blue eyes and light hair. His occupation before joining the war was listed as a farmer.

Signed: Frank S. Loyd, 1st Lieut. Co. H 20th Kentucky Infy. and Chas. W. Fletcher, Capt. 1st U.S. Infy. and mustering officer.

Oath of Identity

Rockets railroad Lake County

DRAFFENVILLE, Ky. - Crittenden County rode the red-eye train to an impressive season-opening victory 54-21 over Lake County, Tenn., Friday night in the second game of a doubleheader in the Purchase Area Alliance Bowl.

The game started after 9 p.m., and wasn't over until a quarter to midnight. Host Marshall County easily beat Heath in the opening game.

The late hours didn't slow the Rocket railroad job. Running back Rodney Robertson scored six touchdowns and rushed for 258 yards to lead the onslaught. Quarterback J.D. Gray rushed for 109 yards and fullback Gaige Courtney scored twice.

Robertson's five touchdowns in a single game tied a school record. Five others have previously scored that many times in one contest. His total rushing yards were also the sixth highest in team history.

Junior placekicker J.R. Adams set a school record by kicking seven extra points. Adams, a newcomer to the football team, also kicked a 28-yard field goal, the 10th longest in school history and he set a new record for the most points in a game by a kicker with 10.

Crittenden got some very impressive defensive play against a potent Lake County team. The Rockets limited the Falcons to fewer than 100 yards and only three first downs until the reserves went in late in the contest and Lake scored two fourth-quarter touchdowns.

plan," said head coach Al Starnes. "That was the difference. We had the game plan and the kids executed."

After a game-opening interception on a halfback pass by Tanner Nix failed to catch Lake County off guard, Crittenden turned to the more reliable running game and flattened their west Tennessee Class A counterparts. The Rockets scored on their next eight possessions and got an early safety when defensive end Dylan Clark tackled the Falcon QB in the end zone.

Clark kept the defense cracking all night. The Rocket defense forced two turnovers and four punts from the Lake County offense, which had reeled off 35 points the week before in a season-opening win against Trenton (Tenn.) Peabody.

"We got after them," Starnes said, pointing to a defense that registered at least a half dozen jaw-dropping tackles and consistently pinned down the Falcons. Crittenden posted 10 tackles for loss during the contest. Lake County rushed for only 25 yards.

Clark, Aaron Berry, Gaige Courtney, Robertson and Terry Werne headed the defensive pinch. Offensively, Crittenden's rushing

Trice Hughes Bowl

CRITTENDEN COUNTY (1-0)

Offense: Multiple
 Defense: 50
 Player Report: No serious injuries.

LONE OAK (1-0)

Offense: Tony Franklin Spread
 Defense: 3-5
Results this season:
 Beat Union County 48-14

The series: The Rockets are 8-12 against Lone Oak all-time. Crittenden first played the Oakers in 1969, beating the Purple Flash 34-33 which was the Rockets only win in nine games that season. Coach Starnes is 3-3 against the Flash. The teams played regularly from 1991 to 1996. Crittenden won the last meeting 15-14 at home in '96.

Game Notes: CCHS is 15-4 all-time in Week 2 games after winning in Week 1. Coach Starnes is 9-1 in Week 2 games after winning in Week 1. His only loss was in 1995 against Lone Oak after beating Fulton City in the opener.

Scouting Report: Lone Oak QB Jamarielle Brown is one of 12 seniors on the Purple Flash roster. Brown is a legitimate Division I player. He was a receiver last season, catching passes from former Lone Oak QB and Mr. Football Corey Robinson. Now, Brown is the team's playmaker in every aspect. Although he throws well, he's also a major threat to run the ball. Running backs Matt Starks and Justin Jackson are also offensive weapons. The Oakers will spread the field and throw a lot of short passes. The Rocket offense was able to run with success last week, but Lone Oak has a great line and excellent linebackers. Crittenden will have to mix it up this week.

FALL SPORTS ROUNDUPS

CLASS A CHAMPS

Janson James

Hannah Brantley

James, Brantley capture golf titles

Crittenden County golfers Janson James and Hannah Brantley won their respective divisions in the Second Region Class A Regional Golf Tournament last Wednesday at Deer Lakes Golf Course in Salem.

The Crittenden boys were runnersup in the tournament, narrowly missing a spot in the state finals.

Brantley, a junior, won the girls' 18-hole tournament with a 20-over-par 92 and James won the boys' division with a 3-over 75.

James' championship was no surprise to the golf observers. He has been playing very well over the past few weeks and was projected to be one of the top small school players in western Kentucky.

Brantley, on the other hand, came out of the blue. A goalie on the soccer team, Brantley decided at the last minute to give the Class A Tournament a shot. She's a regular golfer, has been playing for years, and often hits the Deer Lakes links, which are near her home. She hadn't participated in any other golf matches because she's generally too busy with the soccer team.

Brantley's winning the overall title was indeed a pleasant surprise for the Rocket golf team.

Caldwell County won the boys' team title and Livingston finished third overall as Cardinals golfer Chris Martin shot a 4-over-par 76 and was runnerup in individual play.

Livingston Central's girls won the team competition as Mariah Owen led the way with a 107.

Crittenden's Lonna Starnes shot a 101 and was runnerup in the girls' tournament. She will also advance to the state tournament.

The boys' Class A State Golf Tournament is Saturday, Sept. 13 at Gibson Bay Golf Course in Richmond. The girls play on the same day at Arlington Country Club at Richmond.

All A Classic Boys' Scores

Crittenden: Janson James 75, Justin Defreitas 83, Tanner Nix 93, Cody McDonald 92, Alec Pierce 99. Total-343.

Livingston: Chris Martin 76, Jerred Wilson 88, Tommy Garret 93, Michael Poindexter 113, Lucas Joiner 144. Total-370.

Region small-school tournament for volleyball Saturday at Murray, the Lady Rockets had a nice showing before being eliminated in the semifinal round.

In an opening round triumph over Fort Campbell, Meredith Lanham was a perfect 10-for-10 in serves and teammate Erika Leet pitched in with 7-for-7 serving as the Lady Rockets won in straight sets 25-16, 25-19. It was Crittenden's second win over the Lady Falcons in a week.

"Fort Campbell is a tough team. The girls played well," Crittenden coach Larry Duvall said.

In the semifinal tilt against host Murray, the Lady Rockets lost a tough three-set match 18-25, 25-21, 19-25.

Since it marked the first time the Lady Rockets had faced the Lady Tigers this season, Duvall said his team was simply trying to determine what the best strategy was as the contest progressed.

After evening things up in the second set, the Lady Rockets jumped out to an early 4-1 lead in the deciding set.

But after the hosts took a 7-6 advantage, they never trailed again.

"Murray was a tough team. We were coming back, but we couldn't get over the hump," said the Lady Rocket coach.

Despite the disappointing setback, Lanham and Leet completed a fantastic day of perfect serving.

Lanham went 14-for-14 in the semifinal matchup while Leet was 6-for-6.

Victory in district play

The Lady Rockets improved to 2-1 in Fifth District play last Thursday with an easy 25-9, 25-11 win over visiting Livingston Central. With the win, Crittenden remains in the hunt for a top seed in next month's postseason tournament.

"We just simply outplayed them," said the Lady Rocket skipper.

Girls still winless

For the second time in three matches, the Lady Rockets (0-5) surrendered six goals and lost. Visiting Muhlenberg South beat Crittenden 6-0 Tuesday.

The first half was a stingy defensive battle before the Lady Suns scored on a beautiful cornerkick to break the scoreless deadlock with 4:30 remaining until the break.

With Crittenden still in the contest, the visitors finally seized control, taking a 3-0 lead less than seven minutes into the second half.

The Lady Suns outshot

Crittenden 30-8.

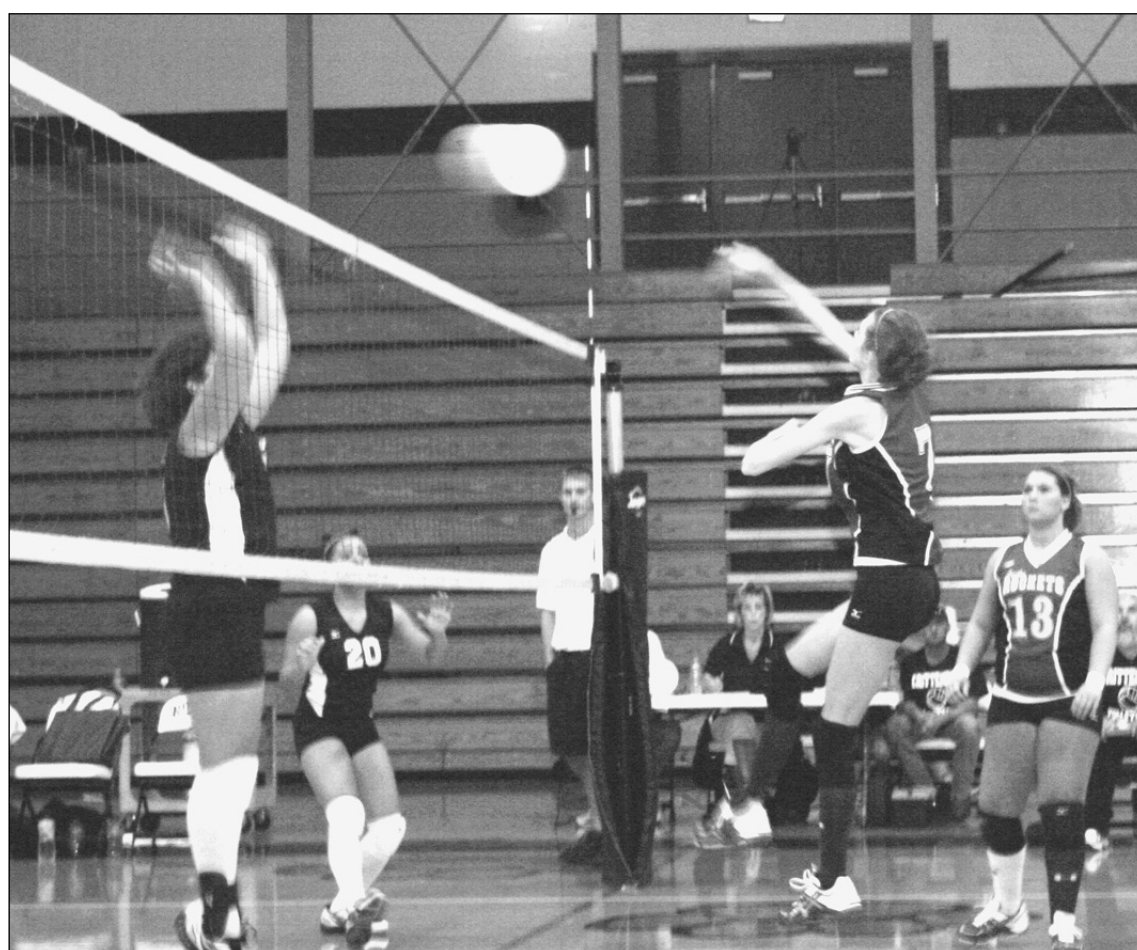

Lady Rocket goalie Hannah Brantley did her best to keep the Lady Rockets in the game, recording 27 saves.

With the Lady Suns ahead by a comfortable 5-0 score, Emily Owen relieved her as goalie for the last seven minutes of the game.

"I was really proud of them the first half," Lady Rocket

Lost to Webster County

The Lady Rockets were upended by host Webster County last Thursday by a tight 3-2 score.

Anna Jiminez and Mary Hollamon accounted for their team's offense, scoring a goal apiece.

"If we keep playing one possession games, some will eventually go our way," the Lady Rocket coach said after the game.

"We established that we can run the ball," Starnes said. "Our line blocked very well. I don't know if we will be able to do that with as much success this week against Lone Oak, but we will have to wait and see."

Against Lake County, the Rockets gained 440 yards on the ground as QB Gray handed off 50 times and completed just one of four passes.

Starnes pointed out that the special teams and other newcomers to the starting lineup such as Adams, Allen Kirk, Robert Cudnick, Dylan Thornton and Andrew Freeman played especially well.

"Our players who are supposed to be playmakers and supposed to perform well had big games. And, our other guys who had not been tested until Friday night played very well, too," the coach said.

Junior pro teams fall at Morganfield

Crittenden County Junior Pro football teams lost two games Saturday at Morganfield. The third- and fourth-graders were defeated 28-8 and the fifth- and sixth-graders lost a nail-biter 8-0 in the closing seconds.

Crittenden's teams will play at Caldwell County Saturday. Thursday's game at Webster was cancelled.

3rd & 4th graders

Morganfield controlled the tempo for the entire game, but Crittenden did manage to sneak in a touchdown late in the fourth period thanks to a 60-yard quarterback keeper by Paxton Riley. It was the opening game of the season for both squads.

5th & 6th graders

Morganfield scored in the final 12 seconds of the game to beat the Rockets' in what had been a defensive stalemate for the entire contest.

Crittenden's coaching staff was pleased with team's play. While disappointed with the outcome, the coaches were encouraged about the prospects for a good season.

COMBINED NOTICE
NOTICE TO PUBLIC OF NO SIGNIFICANT EFFECT ON THE ENVIRONMENT AND NOTICE TO PUBLIC OF REQUEST FOR RELEASE OF FUNDS

Date: September 4, 2008

Crittenden County Fiscal Court
(Name of Applicant)

107 S. Main, Marion, KY 42064 (270)965 - 5251
(Street, City, Zip Code) (Telephone #)

TO ALL INTERESTED AGENCIES, GROUPS, AND PERSONS:

On or about October 15, 2008, the above named County will request the Kentucky Department for Local Development to release Federal funds under Title 1 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 (PL 93-383) for the following project:

Crittenden County Health Department Construction Project
(Project Title or Name)

Construct 8,800 SF Health Department
(Purpose or Nature of the Project)

Industrial Drive, Marion, KY 42064
(Location - Street, City, County, State - of Project)

It has been determined that such request for release of funds will not constitute an action significantly affecting the quality of human environment and, accordingly, the above-named County has decided not to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (PL-91-190).

An Environmental Review Record respecting the within project has been made by the above named County which documents the environmental review of the project and more fully sets forth the reasons why such Statement is not required. This Environmental Review Record is on file at the above address and is available for public examination and copying, upon request, between the hours of 8:30 am and 4:00 pm.

No further environmental review of such project is proposed to be conducted prior to the request for release of federal funds.

All interested agencies, groups, and persons disagreeing with this decision are invited to submit written comments for consideration by the County to the office of Judge/Executive Fred Brown, 107 S. Main, Marion, KY 4064. Such written comments should be received at the above address specified on or before September 22, 2008. All such comments so received will be considered and the County will not request the release of Federal funds or take any administrative action on the within project prior to the date specified on the proceeding sentence.

The Crittenden County Fiscal Court will undertake the project described above with Block Grant funds from the Kentucky Governor's Office for Local Development (GOLD) under Title 1 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974. The Crittenden County Fiscal Court is certifying to the state that Fred Brown, in his/her official capacity as Judge/Executive consent to accept the jurisdiction of the federal courts if an action is brought to enforce responsibilities in relation to environmental reviews, decision making, and action; and that these responsibilities have been satisfied. The legal effect of the certification is that upon its approval the Crittenden County Fiscal Court may use the Block Grant funds and the state and HUD will have satisfied their responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. The state will accept an objection to its approval only if it is on one of the following bases:

(a) The certification was not in fact executed by the city/county Certifying Officer.
(b) The County has filed to make one of the two findings pursuant to §58.41 or to make the written determination decision required by §§578.57, 58.53 or 58.64 for the project, as applicable.
(c) The County has omitted one or more of the steps set forth at Subparts F and G for the preparation and completion of an EA.
(d) No opportunity was given to the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation or its Executive Director to review the effect of the project on a property listed on the National Register of Historic Places, or found to be eligible for such listing by the Secretary of the Interior, in accordance with 36 CFR Part 800.
(e) The recipient has committed funds or incurred costs not authorized by this part before release of funds and approval of the Environmental Certification by HUD or the State.
(f) Objections have been made by a federal agency.

Objections must be prepared and submitted in accordance with the required procedures (24 CFR Part 58) and may be addressed to the Kentucky Department for Local Development, Division of Grants, 1024 Capital Center Drive, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

Objections to the release of funds on bases other than those stated above will not be considered by the state. No objection received after October 7, 2008 will be considered by the state.

Courthouse trim turns Rocket blue

Some of the trim at the Crittenden County Courthouse is getting a new coat of paint - Rocket blue to be exact.

Judge-Executive Fred Brown said inmates are helping with the renovation under the direction of Jailer Rick Riley, who doubles as the county's buildings and maintenance director. The blue paint has replaced a yellow hue on the retaining wall and walkway behind the courthouse along Court Street. It is also going to cover the outdoor escape stairs leading from the top of the courthouse.

Board of Ed OKs tax rate increase

Crittenden County Board of Education members approved a tax increase last week that will cost the owner of a $50,000 home an extra $6.50 in property taxes this year.

The measure was passed with no opposition - not from any of the board members nor from the public during a forum held before the vote. The new tax on real and personal property for 2008 will be 42.7 cents per $100 of assessed value, up 1.3 cents from last year.

"It's not that we want to," said board member Eric LaRue of the increase. "We have to."

With the costs associated with school such as fuel, utilities and even milk on the rise, the school district is looking to increase revenue by as much as $185,000 with the tax hike. Since 1991, the board has enacted four tax increases on real and personal property, going from 39 cents per $100 to the current 42.7 cents.

In the years since 1991, according to the district's Finance Officer Brent Highfill, the cost of fuel to the school system has swollen by 334 percent and the cost of milk by 78 percent while the tax rate has increased only nine percent.

Board member Bill Asbridge blamed the financial crisis, in part, on funding mandates passed by the General Assembly but not provided for by the state.

"If our legislators would lessen a little more of those unfunded mandates, we might not need (a tax increase)," he said.

Fredonia inmates remain at large

Three inmates who escaped within the last two months from Western Kentucky Correctional Complex are still on the loose.

Jesse James Sebastian and Ernest Whisman have yet to be located after escaping the Fredonia facility on Aug. 16. The men were spotted the following day after an altercation with a Fredonia man but remain at large in the area, as reported by sightings.

Another man, James Ray Allgood, walked away from a work detail July 17 in Lyon County and was spotted several days later in Breckinridge County. He also remains on the lam.

Whisman, 26, was serving 21 years for several offenses, including assault. Sebastian was serving 13 years on multiple theft-related charges.

Allgood, 35, was serving a 30-year sentence for convictions in Hardin and Breckinridge counties. He was convicted of criminal possession of a forged instrument, theft by unlawful taking, burglary and receiving stolen property.

All men, if spotted, are to be considered armed and dangerous. Anyone with information may contact the sheriff's office at 965-3400 or state police at 1-800-222-5555.

Post 2 state police work busy August

Kentucky State Police in the Post 2 area arrested 64 drunk drivers in the month of August, according to a news release from the Madisonville post.

Thanks largely to those efforts and a total of 2,030 August citations issued to drivers in the Post 2 area, troopers saw only one fatality for the month in the seven-county area. The district, which includes Crittenden County, saw seven fewer highway fatalities through Aug. 31, 2008, than the same period last year, when 33 people were killed. There has been only one fatality in Crittenden County this year.

Meantime, 11 people were killed in the state over the Labor Day weekend, including three in the Post 2 area. Those three deaths occurred in a single accident in Muhlenberg County that took the lives of three 16-year-old boys.

Through Sept. 1, 502 fatalities have been recorded on Kentucky roads during 2008.

During August, state police issued 769 speeding tickets and 226 child restraint and seatbelt citations in the Post 2 district. Troopers responded to 1,103 calls for service, investigated 96 crashes and assisted 182 stranded motorists. They also opened 79 criminal cases and made 208 criminal arrests, according to Trooper Stu Recke, public information officer for Post 2.

Wreck on Ky. 91 injures local man

A Marion man was hurt Monday afternoon in a single-vehicle crash in northern Crittenden County.

According to Kentucky State Police, Stephen Tinsley, 37, was injured when his 1997 GMC Jimmy left the roadway after he swerved to miss debris in the southbound lane of Ky. 91 North. The vehicle overturned after leaving the road, according to Trooper Chris King's report.

The accident occurred at 1:45 p.m., about three miles south of the Ohio River ferry.

Tinsley was transported to Crittenden Hospital by ambulance for treatment of his injuries. He was released the same day.

Tinsley was wearing his seatbelt.

Dycusburg man hurt in ATV crash

A 23-year-old Dycusburg man who continues to recover from severe wounds suffered in the Iraq War, was hurt this weekend in an ATV crash near his home.

According to state police, Chase Matthews was thrown from his four-wheeler Saturday evening while traveling along Ky. 295 in Dycusburg. He was reportedly thrown from the ATV when it overturned after striking an earthen embankment.

wearing a helmet, was taken by ambulance to Crittenden Hospital for treatment of minor injuries.

Matthews, as a National Guard soldier with the Marion detachment, was severely injured in 2007 by a roadside bomb. In the attack, he lost parts of both legs and sustained other serious injuries.

Veterans benefits field rep changes

Veterans seeking benefits assistance in Crittenden, Livingston, Webster, Union and four other western Kentucky counties will now be able to find help from veterans affairs offices in Hanson and Owensboro.

Veterans Benefits field representative Renita Duff will be available at the two locations to help veterans and their families from those eight counties. Formerly, representatives from the Kentucky Department of Veterans Affairs in three different regions served those counties. The new regional configuration and county schedules for meeting with veterans allows each representative to serve veterans more effectively.

Duff's office is located at the Western Kentucky Veterans Center, 926 Veterans Drive in Hanson and can be reached toll-free at 1-877-662-0008.

Duff will be available to help veterans at the Hanson office Monday through Thursday, except for the first Monday of each month when she will be available at the National Guard Armory in Hanson. To minimize waiting, appointments are encouraged at both locations. Veterans should call Duff at her Hanson office to schedule an appointment.

Ed-Tech Center offers Islam class

The Ed-Tech Center in Marion will be hosting an array of community education classes the remainder of this year, including one on the religion of Islam.

Islam, Past and Present will be conducted over a two-hour period Nov. 11 and will answer the question, what is Islam and how does it affect us in the United States?

Join Dr. Brent Brantley as he describes his experiences while employed by Wycliffe in Indonesia and the Middle East. His extensive travels have given him a unique perspective on the religious faith of Muslims.

The class size is limited and registration closes Nov. 4. The cost of the class, which takes place from 6 to 8 p.m., Nov. 11, is $22.

Classes at the Ed-Tech Center are open to anyone. For further details on this or any other classes, contact Dulcie Hardin, community education coordinator, at 965-9294 or visit www.CrittendenCountyEDC.com on the Web.

Grant will shave off life-saving seconds

Marion emergency dispatcher Paula Miniard answers the phone Tuesday while speaking to a visitor at Marion Police Department. A grant of $435,912 from the Kentucky Commercial Mobile Radio Service Emergency Telecommunications Board recently awarded to the North Pennyriple E-911 Board will allow Crittenden, Livingston, Lyon and Union counties to improve their emergency response by upgrading equipment utilized by dispatchers. Currently, any 911 calls are routed to Kentucky State Police Post 2 in Madisonville before being transferred to the county of incident. This requires callers to explain the situation twice, taking up valuable seconds. Once the new system is installed and it becomes operational sometime next year, local calls will go directly to Marion dispatch.

unwitting granddaughter Brooklyn Barker, who arrived a month after Katrina dissipated.

On Monday, McKenney was fully aware of what Gustav had left for he and his wife Marty. The McKenney's share residence between Long Beach, Miss., and their Marion farm, so over the weekend, Tom headed south to tend to the Gulf Coast home, utilizing back roads to avoid delays that may have prevented him from arriving in time to batten the hatches.

"I felt like it was my responsibility to be down here," he said over the phone after the storm had passed.

The McKenneys, who rent a cottage behind their daughter Melissa's Long Beach house, fared much better than three years ago when their Ocean Springs beach-style home was completely washed away by Katrina's storm surge, as was their son Jeff's.

"It was nothing like Katrina, but then again, there's nothing like Katrina," Tom said Monday, planning to return to Marion as soon as things were back to normal in Long Beach.

Ironically, the McKenney's signed the papers to purchase their first Mississippi home amid 1979's Hurricane Frederick.

At press time Wednesday, Hargis and her family, who packed into two vehicles to escape Gustav along with almost two million others from Louisiana, were uncertain of when they would leave Marion for the coast. None were looking forward to what awaits them.

"I kind of feel like Mother Earth wants her coast back," Hargis' daughter, Melissa Pearson said.

Pearson, who lives in New Orleans with her children Madison and Aidan, has a second-story apartment but still insisted on placing valuables high off the floor before leaving last week. After Katrina, she was taking no chances.

Hargis and her son, L.J., also took to high ground with their irreplaceables, or what was left of them after flooding from the Pearl River and Lake Pontchartrain filled their Slidell home three years ago. This time, the same attic that provided an escape hatch onto the roof from rising flood waters is holding their valuables.

"It was so bad," Joan said of the quickly-rising floodwaters in 2005, "it turned over the refrigerator."

That was after they rescued the family cat from on top of the appliance and their puppy rafting on a pillow inside the home. No one was hurt, but everything - cars, photos, clothes, furniture, etc. - was lost.

"That was the hardest part," Joan said. "The whole family was displaced for a year."

In fact, after gutting the home for mold, mildew and water damage, the Hargises just finished the Katrina-spawned renovation last month. Now, it could all be to do over again.

"If you didn't experience it, you cannot understand," said Joan, who also lost her mother, Elizabeth Stevens, and her father, John Sanders, in the last year. "It's been a rough three years."
