Garbage center adjusting hours

Crittenden County Convenience Center will no longer be open afternoons on Wednesday and Saturday starting July 1. Crittenden County Judge-Executive Fred Brown said the center has been open all day six days a week, but due to low volumes and as a cost-cutting measure, the center will cut back its hours on those two days each week. The center will be open from 8 a.m., until 4 p.m., Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday and from 8 a.m., until noon on Wednesday and Saturday.

Sturgis boy dies in elevator shaft

Kentucky officials were investigating after the body of an 8-year-old boy was found with his head pinned in a church elevator as his family was cleaning up after his grandmother's wedding reception.

A state elevator inspector was expected to arrive at the church on Tuesday, said Dick Brown, spokesman for the state Public Protection Cabinet.

Kentucky State Police said Sunday that Zachary Waddell died at First Christian Church in Sturgis.

The church's pastor, the Rev. Nate Harper, found the boy's body Saturday in the doorway at the lower level of the shaft connecting the church's first and second floors, authorities said.

The Kentucky Department of Housing, Buildings and Construction, which oversees elevator inspections, has no documentation of an elevator at the church, Brown said.

Union County Coroner Stephen Shouse said the boy died as a result of compression asphyxia, meaning he couldn't breathe after the elevator came down on him.

He was found with his head pinned between the walls of the elevator and the shaft and his body was outside the elevator car, Shouse said. He said the elevator was purchased in 1963 and is similar to a freight elevator.

In a statement Sunday, state police said no foul play was suspected.

State police spokesman Sgt. David Jude in Frankfort said Tuesday that the investigation was continuing, and he said it is too soon to say whether any criminal charges are possible.

Pilot, plane survive harrowing experience

Engine failure forced Marion pilot Donnie Belt to make an emergency landing of this two-seat, experimental aircraft in a soybean field Friday. Belt and the plane suffered little damage.

STAFF REPORT

Donnie Belt admits his crash landing last week in a crop field near Marion was a harrowing experience, but he's not giving up his wings any time soon.

"I love flying. You have so much freedom up there. I just don't know how to describe it, but it's in my blood and I can't get it out," said the 57-year-old pilot who safely crash landed a SkyBoy Experimental airplane in a freshly planted soybean field just off Coleman Road before dusk Friday.

Belt was the only person on board the two-seat craft known as a light sport plane.

"It's between an ultralight and a Cessna 150 or 152," said Belt, describing the aircraft he was flying. The plane belongs to his friend Joe Nesbitt, and the two have flown it several times without incident.

Gary Cruce, who lives on U.S. 641 near the crash site, said he heard the plane sputtering so he jumped in his Jeep and headed toward where it was going down.

"It was circling and the motor was cutting in and out," Cruce said. "You could tell something was not right then I heard it hit the ground. We headed that way and called the police department."

Cruce said that when he arrived at the crash site, the pilot was standing outside the plane.

Belt said it was beautiful afternoon for flying and that nothing appeared wrong until his engine stalled in flight. He remembered seeing a freshly planted field behind him and knew that would be the softest place to land. His training taught him to be cognizant of his surroundings in case ditching the

Locals open dens to Bobcats

STAFF REPORT

When the last out has been made and lights go off at the ballpark, Marion's Bobcats head to their makeshift dens among host families throughout the county.

The summer collegiate league baseball team competing in its second season in Marion has won the hearts and minds of many sports fans, but the players have truly endeared themselves with their host families. Thirteen local individuals or couples have opened their residences to these athletes, some of whom are hundreds of miles from their own homes. And the bonds are growing more solid by the day.

"I never went to the ball games, but now I go," said Paula Miniard, who hosts Mike DeSanto, a shortstop from Philadelphia.

"I had an empty room back there that no one uses," Miniard explained. "So when they asked me about keeping one, I said I would do it."

Miniard converted her grandchildren's toy room into a bedroom and although she admits her city boy Bobcat is having to adjust to life without cable television or the Internet, there are some things she made sure he'd have.

"I don't have central air conditioning, so I put an air conditioner in the window just for my Bobcat."

Mary and Tommy Tabor are hosting a ball player at their home on Bellville Street. Mary says she told Zach Sutton, her guest, that he was welcome to anything in the kitchen.

"I am no Betty Crocker or Martha

Most of the 24 men on the Marion Bobcats roster are spending their summer with host families around the community. Those hosts include Ronnie and Deana Nix, Bill and Sherry Frazer, Paul and Harumi Nielsen, Paula Miniard, Gordon and Carole Guess, Gary Baulos, Jim and Myrle Myers, Tommy and Mary Tabor, Rev. Wayne Garvey, Sharon Murray, Rich and Mandi Gardner and George and Diane Sutton.

At the ballpark, Tommy and Mary Tabor enjoy watching the Marion Bobcats in action last week against the Tradewater Pirates, but the Marion couple is also taking pleasure in hosting one of the summer collegiate league players on the team.

Stewart," says Mary with a chuckle, "so I told him that if he wants something to eat he can just look for it."

Sharon Murray, who is retiring from the school system later this month, said she welcomes the company.

"After the games, we sit and talk for a while then he goes to bed," Murray said. "I go to work in the mornings and he sleeps to around dinner. We are seldom at the house at the same time."

The hosts interviewed for this article each agree that their ball players are well-mannered, courteous and respectful.

"He cleans up after himself very well and he's very polite," Miniard said. "I can't even tell when he's been in the bathroom."

Gordon Guess, general manager of the baseball team, said 23 players ages 18 to 21 are placed in host homes for 10 weeks. There are 50 games during that span, leaving just eight open dates.

Players are generally at the ball field by 3:30 p.m., for home games or loaded and gone well before that on days when the team is traveling to Owensboro, Fulton, Union City, Tenn., Sikeston, Mo., or Dawson Springs.

Tommy Tabor says there really isn't a whole lot of time for hosts and the players to spend together, but somehow he and his wife find time.

"We stay up waiting for him sometimes," Tabor admits, sounding like a father watching over a son.

Program allows parents to track kids at school

STAFF REPORT

The ever-watchful eye of mom and dad will gain a new measure of power next school year thanks to the Internet.

Beginning in August, parents can keep track of the children at school by logging onto a Web site designed to provide them with a variety of real time information about attendance, grades, homework or fees. Teachers and administrators will be posting data daily, giving parents a tool for tracking their children's whereabouts and progress between report cards.

Crittenden County was part of a pilot program and started two years ago integrating the Infinite Campus program into the schools. The high school and middle school have been using the system with access available only to teachers and administrators. Starting this fall, family members who are authorized to view individual student data can track a variety of items that will improve communications between the school and parents.

"For instance," explains Al Starnes, director of pupil personnel, "If you have reason to believe your child is not in school as he or she is supposed to be, you can go to the Web site, log in with your password and check to see if your child is in class."

Starnes said the information will be available in real time on a daily basis. Teachers will post homework assignments online so parents can keep up with those demands on students plus track

Code violations continue to be problem in Marion

STAFF REPORT

Though Marion Police Chief Ray O'Neal has made almost 30 code enforcement calls in the last month issuing citations and warnings, complaints on violations throughout the city ranging from tall grass to junk cars in yards continue to flow in to council members. But O'Neal, who issued three citations for violations on Monday alone, said citing property owners does not always get the job done.

"Just because someone gets a ticket doesn't mean it's going to get mowed," he told city council members Monday of citations for unkempt lawns.

Warnings and citations are a first step to remedy code violations, but if property owners do not comply, seeing even the slightest violation through to a remedy can be costly and time consuming.

Several complaints of violations were brought forward at Monday's city council meeting, both from the public and council members themselves. Marion does not have a code enforcement officer, so enforcement of such ordinances is carried out by the police department.

Councilman Jim Brown, a former police officer for the city, said the job of code enforcement should not fall on law enforcement. He has urged on numerous occasions for the position of code enforcement officer to be filled once again. However, that issue was not discussed on Monday.

Mayor Mickey Alexander said suspected code violations can be registered at city hall by calling 965-2266.

In other action, the city council on Monday:

Council members gave first reading Monday to a zoning map amendment that would allow Junior and Debra Duncan to move in another manufactured home to replace one that was destroyed by fire in August of last year.

Discomfort often follows progress

With progress often comes discomfort. When the digital age reached area television station WPSD in Paducah last week, it left in its wake a bunch of unhappy folks. People grumbling all across the region about the television station's inability to continue broadcasting its audio signal on the radio. Haven't heard a word about people being ticked off about losing the analog television signal, but the radio issue is a different animal. Seems as though the radio broadcast at 87.7 FM was a byproduct of the station's analog broadcasting capabilities. Now that the analog is buried, the signal went with it. Folks in this region have relied on 87.7 in times of disaster. We found out how important that station was when the ice storm covered us last winter, shutting off nearly every form of communication except for radio. From 87.7, we gleaned important information in the earliest hours of the storm and its aftermath. It was an invaluable source of information. Its loss will be widely felt in future crises.

ON THE local political front, it appears that other candidates are starting to surface with local primary elections less than one year away. A few weeks earlier we reported about some potential candidates for county judge-executive and other constitutional county offices. Mike McConnell of the Mattoon community tells me he's considering a bid for judge. He is the son of Magistrate Helen McConnell and the late Hayden McConnell, who also served as magistrate in the First District. McConnell is a Republican, which would crowd the field in that primary. Magistrate Greg West says he is running for judge and Jailer Rick Riley is also considering it. Both are members of the GOP. On the Democratic side, Larry Hearell remains the only person publicly discussing a potential candidacy. HAVEN'T BEEN able to track down all of the details to this story, but it appears that a Marion man may have died earlier this month as a result of wasp stings. According to Caldwell County Deputy Coroner Byron Poole, toxicology results have not been finalized, but it appears that Kenny Yates, 39, died at 10:48 a.m., Tuesday, June 2 at Caldwell County Hospital after being admitted for wasp stings. The deputy coroner says that Yates was working in Lyon County on a carpentry crew when he was stung three times by red wasps. He was taken to the hospital where he died a short time later. Poole said it's unclear whether Yates was allergic to the stings or whether he went into cardiac arrest after being stung. Test results are expected this week. Yates had recently moved to Marion from his native home of Kuttawa. A few weeks ago, an Evansville man died as a result of a brown recluse spider bite. Poole said it's unusual for someone to die from one, two or even three stings from a wasp. "Usually if you hear about something like this it's been where someone was stung 30 or 40 times," he said. "Certainly three wasp stings would hurt quite a bit, but it's usually not that serious." Yates' obituary is published in this week's newspaper. CRITTENDEN COUNTY lost a true angel of God last week with the sudden and unexpected passing of Mary Jane Watson. A devout Methodist, Mary Jane was a treasure to our community and enriched the lives of many people, including my family. We will miss her dearly. (Editor's note: Evans is the publisher and editor of The Crittenden Press. His column appears periodically.)

The Crittenden Press Letters to the Editor

Writer: Don't like it? Don't read it

To the editor: As I opened The Crittenden Press last Wednesday and read Mrs. (Roberta) Flanary's letter, at first I was angry; then I realized, since she didn't know Sis. Lucy (Tedrick), how could she make those accusations about her? I didn't understand why she had to use her name over and over again, since everybody in Crittenden County knows who she is and what she stands for. She has been our family pastor for 35 years, and she will always be our friend. I have never seen her advocate hatred in any way. She just speaks about sin and what it can do to family and country. Yes, Mrs. Flanary, she is an evangelist and has preached all over the United States. She could have gone very far in the evangelist field, but she chose to stay here in this county to try and win people for the Lord vocally.

Isn't it funny, since you mentioned communism, that last week's paper has the "Communist Rules for Revolution" in her column? (Too bad the Jews didn't heed the warning, many of them might be alive today.) May I suggest, Mrs. Flanary, if you really want to know about hatred, go and take a trip and visit Jeremiah Wright's Church. Since you don't like our religious views in our paper, don't read it. Most people I talk to look forward to it every week.

Oh, by the way, Sis. Lucy, has a radio program on the Princeton station every Tuesday morning at 9 a.m., you might want to listen.

As for Mr. (Bill) Belt's letter, after I read the paragraph where he stated he didn't know where our tax money went, I gave up and decided it was worthless drive.

Historical society appreciates visits

To the editor: The board of directors of Crittenden County Historical Society, as well as historical museum curator Roberta Shewmaker, appreciate the visit and questions of those who participated in last week's Crittenden County

Chamber of Commerce Business After Hours event. Forty visitors attended the affair and toured the museum.

The board members of the historical society have embarked on an effort to better make the community aware of relics and artifacts of their heritage. Participating in efforts like the chamber's After Hours event, we hope to open the museum and local past to an audience who might otherwise never pass through our doors.

Through the cooperative efforts of the chamber and the historical society, the After Hours affair drew several people who had never visited the museum at its location inside the former First Presbyterian Church. And, we also attracted representatives from the fiscal court in the person of Judge-Executive Fred Brown and Magistrate Dan Wood, the board of education in the person of Superintendent Rachel Yarbrough and Phyllis Orr, and the City of Marion in the person of Mayor Mickey Alexander. Magistrate Percy Cook, chairman of the historical society, was also there.

Such exposure is vital to our continued existence and ongoing efforts to preserve local history. Our community's history will not be found in encyclopedias nor in the great halls of history in Washington, D.C. In essence, our historical society and museum depend on you and your support to keep our past alive.

That is why we would like to offer our appreciation to the chamber of commerce and the community members who participated in last week's After Hours event. We also welcome everyone to visit our museum from 9 a.m., to 3 p.m., Tuesday through Saturday. The visit is free, but your voluntary contributions are welcomed to continue funding the preservation of Crittenden County's past.

Exchange pupils needing sponsors

To the editor: Did you know that in 2006-07 America took in 28,268 foreign exchange students? They come to America seeking a new understanding of American culture and education. Our way of life fascinates international exchange students worldwide because of the way they perceive Americans on television, Internet and the radio. Now, more than ever, international students want to grasp the understanding of democratic government and our country's freedom. They have a strong desire to make a difference, and coming to American can enhance their English speaking skills and improve their knowledge of our culture and people.

Foreign exchange students are looking for host families who are open-minded, share American culture and lifestyles and treat them as a member of the family, not as a guest. Host families establish reasonable family chores, and show an interest in learning about the student's culture.

Families are simply expected to have a separate bed for the student to sleep, present a quiet place for study, provide three meals a day, and offer encouragement and advice when needed. The students are open to sharing their culture and customs with the host family and community and will become a caring, responsible member of the family.

These students are fully insured during their visit, all they need is a family to provide them a place to stay as they experience their dream of coming to the United States.

International exchange students show consistent effort and are dedicated to their education. These students will attend school regularly and will be flexible, adaptable and positive. Exchange students will quickly adjust to the family's lifestyle and show respect for the host culture. Overall, these students are very eager to learn about America and what it has to offer. They enjoy learning our customs and traditions, and for them to experience this country will be life changing experience they will never forget.

This is your chance! Please take this opportunity to host a foreign exchange student so they can experience this school system and one-of-a-kind town in Marion, Ky. You will truly love having them as part of your home and our community as you make a life-long friend, gain a new understanding of the world

Tedrick offers nothing but love

To the editor: While driving to work today, I noticed a City of Marion truck with two men in the back. They were hanging American flags up and down Main Street. It made me stop and think how fortunate I am to live in a small community where we can celebrate our heritage. I am also thankful for this newspaper that allows all of us to express our opinions.

To disagree about politics and religion is what America is about. That's why there is an America. Along with baseball, hot dogs and apple pie, that's what we are about.

I would like to comment about a recent (letter) that appeared in the paper regarding Lucy Tedrick. The comments made were very personal in nature. Therefore, my comments will be of a personal nature.

I am currently 61 years old. I have lived in Crittenden County all my life. For the past 40 years, Lucy Tedrick has been my friend and my pastor. She has taught me about a loving, forgiving Savior and a just God. She has helped bury my loved ones, who incidentally, were not part of her congregation, marry my children and loved and encourage my grandchildren. She has devoted 40-plus years trying to make Crittenden County a better place to live for those who live here, or would come here, or come back here.

Time nor space would permit a list of all the causes she has devoted her time to. Just to name one, for two years in a row she sponsored a dinner for veterans of this county who put their lives on the line for the freedoms we all hold so dear.

As for being Christian and open minded, those things are determined by the respect we show for others.

If there is a joke in all of this, maybe it should be that all of us need to take a good, long look at ourselves. We just might get a good laugh. As for having to move again, we're sorry when people leave the county, but the road leads both ways.

Foreign exchange hosts still needed

To the editor: Have you ever dreamed of going to another country? Do you think that people from other countries dream of coming to America?

I can answer that question. There are many teens from other countries that would love to come to America to live or to go to school here for at least a year. You could have the chance to let them do that. In fact, I am writing this letter to encourage you to host a foreign exchange student for a year of school.

There have been many foreign exchange students come to our school since I have been in the high school. Every one of them I talk to loves it here in America. They love the chance to live in America and to go to school and learn here. It would be tremendous if we could host more foreign exchange students and give more of them an opportunity to experience the American way of life. We can do that by having more families from Marion to host foreign exchange students.

Foreign exchange students that don't come to America might not ever get the chance to see snow. One of our foreign exchange students this year told me that when it snowed, they had never seen snow before in their life. Therefore, the ice storm we experienced this year was the first time they had ever seen snow or ice. That is something they would probably never get to experience if no one would have hosted them when they came to America.

Many foreign exchange students have gotten to experience the American way of life, but there are many more who would love to get to experience it. Therefore, I encourage you to do your part to help them experience the American life. You can do that by hosting a foreign exchange student for one school year, so that they can see how amazing life is in America.

For more information about hosting a foreign exchange student, or just ways to support them, go to www.dmdusa.com.

Tedrick practices love, not bigotry

To the editor: I am writing in reply to the letter last week written by Roberta Flanary. While Mrs. Flanary has been away from this county for 40 years, I have been attending the Marion Church of God whose pastor is Sis. Lucy Tedrick. I have never felt that she was trying to use bigotry or fear to control me. What I have felt is a Godly love for me and my family.

I feel I have been extremely blessed in this congregation. Sis. Lucy has poured out her life in helping people of this county.

Mrs. Flanary, have you ever spoken personally with Sis. Lucy? Have you ever been in our church? Mrs. Flanary, are you really open-minded? I think not!

Where has fairness, justice gone?

When fairness and justice is not in the hearts of people, minds get warped and all suffer.

This month's killing of Dr. George Tiller, who murdered 60,000 late-term babies, babies that could have lived outside the womb, has been front and center on the major and very biased media.

But the gunning down of the 23-year-old soldier and the injuring of another in Arkansas recently by a Muslim has raised a deafening silence by the same media.

Both are horrible acts, but how sad it is that so many of our people have lost their way. We show little fairness and justice.

Dr. Tiller not only was a murderer of innocent people, but assisted in helping all of those 60,000 mothers be partakers of his evil deeds. How have we gotten so far from God that one believes he can kill innocent babies and still be a Christian is beyond comprehension.

No wonder there have been protestors outside that Lutheran Church in Wichita, Kan., ever since he started there, or at least as long as he has been made an usher.

Read the Bible to see how many times God has destroyed whole nations for killing innocent babies.

Many were destroyed in Israel when the people took up the pagan worship of Baal and gave their babies to his fires. This practice of paganism of offering our innocents on the altars of lust and convenience is not Christian and all who partake will pay the price sooner or later.

Who stops and grieves over the horrible and painful death a little innocent child goes through while they are being aborted and then pitched into the waste can?

If we are wise, we will learn from the lessons of history. God warned Israel and Jerusalem, but they did not heed His warning, and were laid waste in death, destruction and were carried away to heathen nations.

"Because they have forsaken me, ...and have filled this place with the blood of the innocents... I will make this city desolate, and an hissing... And I will cause them to eat the flesh of their sons and the flesh of their daughters... in the siege..." Jeremiah 19:4,8,9.

All of this took place in 585 BC. and in 70 AD where the hunger was so devastating when the Babylonians and the Romans came against the city, the women actually killed and ate their own children. See Flavius Josephus the famous Jewish historian of the first century AD, for more on this matter.

My heart cry is, what will be America's suffering of God's wrath?

(Editor's note: Rev. Tedrick is a Marion minister. She shares her views weekly in this newspaper. Her opinions are her own, and are not necessarily those of the newspaper. Rev. Tedrick can also be heard on WAVJ 104.9 FM at 9 a.m., Tuesday.)

Two motorcycle wrecks kill two, injure five more

STAFF REPORT

Last weekend was a dangerous one for motorcyclists in the area.

Two motorcyclists were killed Saturday in Cave in Rock, Ill., and one seriously injured in Crittenden County in separate incidents on the same weekend as the HogRock River Rally in Cave in Rock.

George E. Holland Jr., 42, of Murray was seriously injured in a crash on Dam 50 Road in rural Crittenden County at 4:30 p.m., Saturday. Holland was southbound on Dam 50 Road (Ky. 387) with a friend, William B. Miller, 45, also of Murray. The two were on separate Harley Davidson motorcycles.

According to Crittenden County Sheriff's Department reports, the two bikes, traveling in the same direction, collided with one another in a sharp curve. Holland and his bike were thrown off the roadway and Holland suffered severe head and facial injuries. He was flown from the scene by air ambulance to Deaconess Hospital in Evansville. Holland was not wearing a helmet, according to police reports.

The fatalities occurred about 15 minutes earlier Saturday across the river. That accident involved three motorcycles and a pickup that rear-end the three bikes as they slowed to turn off Illinois Highway 1. The driver and rider of one motorcycle were killed and the driver and passengers on the two other bikes were seriously injured. The driver of the truck and a passenger were only slightly injured.

The wreck occurred just north of Cave in Rock on the state route, near the site of the annual motorcycle rally. All vehicles were southbound when the motorcycles slowed to turn onto Lamb Road. Illinois State Police reported the driver of the truck, Danny L. Gaddis, 56, of Lockport, Ill., was unable to stop in time to avoid the collision with all three motorcycles.

According to The Southern Illinoisian newspaper, Thomas A. Bennett, 35, of Lerna, Ill., and his passenger, Charity M. Decker, 36, of Mattoon, Ill., were pronounced dead at the scene by Hardin County, Ill., Coroner Roger Little. Both suffered massive chest trauma, according to the newspaper.

Injured were Randall S. Brooks, 45, of Olney, Ill., and his passenger, Sandy Taylor, 44, of Noble, Ill.; and Richard A. Hall, 43, of Sumner, Ill., and his passenger, Dana Darnold, 49, of Lawrenceville, Ill. Both Taylor and Darnold were airlifted to Deaconess Hospital in Evansville.

The newspaper did not report whether any of the victims were wearing helmets.

Gaddis and a passenger in the truck, Nona L. Gaddis, 58, also of Lockport, Ill., were also treated for slight injuries. State police charged the driver with failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident.

Across Kentucky, four motorcycles were killed in crashes last week, though the nearest was in Daviess County. None of those victims was wearing a helmet.

Reward offered for cabin burglary

STAFF REPORT

Up to $1,000 reward is being offered for information leading to an arrest in a criminal mischief case in a remote area of Crittenden County.

Sometime between the last week of May and June 11, intruders broke into a remote hunting cabin on Travis Cemetery Road, destroyed personal property and damaged the building. Crittenden County TipLine and owner Mike Crider are offering up to $1,000 for information and anyone providing a tip that leads to an arrest will remain anonymous.

To report information regarding this or other local crime, call the Crittenden County TipLine at 965-3000. You do not have to leave your name. Your information will be assigned a case number, which will allow you to redeem the reward if an arrest is made.

MCC offering jump on college

SUBMITTED ARTICLE

Crittenden County High School students will once again have the opportunity to participate in the Jump Start Early College program at Madisonville Community College this fall.

There will be two classes offered at night at the Crittenden Ed-Tech Center in Marion, and students may be interested in one or more late afternoon classes on the North Campus of MCC. In addition, students may be interested in a Spanish I class that will be offered at Webster County High School. It will be followed by a Spanish II class in the spring.

These classes will be open to high school students as dual credit students and to regular college students.

For all classes taken at MCC, the college calendar and the Kentucky Community and Technical College System student code of conduct will apply. Classes start Aug. 17; and fall break for MCC is Oct. 12-17.

Students interested in participating in the Jump Start Program can fill out the application forms available from the high school counselors. Students must obtain the signatures from their parents/guardians and counselors in order to register for classes.

Students who have any questions can contact George Humphreys, Extended Campus Director at Madisonville Community College, at 824-1723 or by e mail at george.humphreys@kctcs.edu.

Toni Trowbridge (right) says April's redesign and upgrade of Electric Recreation's store in Marion has improved customer service for people like Ray Hall and Sandy Guess, both of Eddyville, at the AT&T Mobility center, allowing for more area to display different services and a wider selection of phone models that can actually be tried out in the store. "It's now a lot easier for customers to browse and play with phones to demonstrate their different features," Trowbridge said. Despite the name of the store carried over from when an array of electric vehicles were sold there, Electric Recreation simply deals in AT&T Mobility and related services. Trowbridge said that includes upgrades and accessories for current customers, setting up new wireless and land-line accounts, troubleshooting and even establishing DSL and DirectTV services.

grades and other classroom activities. Lunch room fees, book costs or other club fees will also be posted in students' files.

The school system has set aside two days this summer to help parents register to use the online service and learn more about it. Orientation periods are from 6 to 8 p.m., Thursday (today) and again next Thursday, June 25 at the high school annex off East Elm Street. Registration will take only about 10 minutes so parents or guardians may come and go as they please during the orientation period. They will be asked to sign an acceptable use policy agreement and to verify student information.

Prayer: The key to everything

Prayer is the key that unlocks all of the treasures of the Kingdom of God. It is a key that He has placed in your hand and invites you to use. Prayer is the conduit through which all the power and provision of God flows.

One of the questions people often have about prayer is: "If God knows what I need, why do I need to ask Him for it?" Jesus tells us in Matthew 6 that we do not need to worry about things because the Father knows everything we need (Matt. 6:31-32). He says in Matthew 6:8, "Your Father knows what you need before you ask him." Yet, He teaches us to pray, "Give us today our daily bread" (Matt. 6:9). He states the need to ask in even stronger terms when He says, "Ask and it will be given to you" (Matt. 7:7). Don't you find that interesting? Jesus assures us that God knows everything we need, yet tells us to ask Him for it. Consider why God has set things up so that prayer releases into our lives what He knows we need and wants to give us.

God wants our hearts

It's simple for God to meet your needs. Everything in the universe is His. Everything is at His command. It would be easy for God to do for you and provide for you everything you need without waiting for you to ask. But that is not how He has structured it.

God loves you and desires to live in intimacy with you. Prayer is more than the words you say that come sandwiched between "Dear God" and "Amen." Prayer is an openness to and awareness of His presence and His power in your life. He wants full possession of your heart. He wants you to live in the experience of His love for you.

Imagine what it might be like if God met your needs without engaging you in the process. You would never recognize His provision. It would seem to you to be coincidence or "just the way things are." But because you have the privilege of seeing Him meet your needs in response to prayer, you experience Him. You see how He provides for you even in the smallest details. You learn that a life lived prayerfully is a life lived beyond your limits.

In asking, you are recognizing the Source of everything. "Don't be deceived, my dear brothers. Every good and perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father of the heavenly lights, who does not change like shifting shadows" (James 1:16-18). God tells you to ask for what you need because this interaction keeps you aware that no matter what avenue of supply He chooses to make use of, He is the source.

Sometimes God is waiting for you to ask because until you see your need, you will not recognize His supply. He waits until the need is real to you. He waits until you have come to the end of your own resources; until you have tried everything you know to try. He waits for you to turn to Him as the one and only Source.

Prayer is a relationship

The foundation of a prayerful life is knowing God. A promise is only as good as the person who makes it. When you make knowing Him your focus, you will come to trust His promises and the power of prayer will become your reality.

How do you come to know Him more personally and intimately? Soak yourself in His Word. Let your life marinate in it—absorbing its truth and wisdom into your heart. Live in uncompromising obedience to Him. Set aside a time every day for focusing on Him without distractions. Regularly be in fellowship with other believers who share your passion for knowing Him. As you keep your life open to Him through these disciplines, you will come to know Him intimately. Trust in Him will come spontaneously. Peace will be the most natural state of your soul. You will find that you have moved from "saying prayers" to "living prayer."

(Editor's note: Dean is the author of numerous books on prayer and a popular speaker and conference leader. She is a resident of Crittenden County. Her column will appear monthly in The Crittenden Press. The preceding was adapted from "Live a Praying Life" by Dean.)

Jehovah's Witnesses prepare for end of World

Starting Friday, Jehovah's Witnesses will host three consecutive weeks of conventions in Roberts Stadium in Evansville.

This year's theme, "Keep on the Watch!" is designed to discuss world events and how they relate to the Bible's prophecy of the apocalypse.

While all conventions are open to the public, the Witnesses are specifically inviting the public to a discussion with the provocative title, "How to Survive the End of the World," which will be at 11 a.m., Sunday.

"We feel it is imminent," local Witness Robert Lamb said. "We can't really put a date on it, and scriptures like Mark 13:32 tell us that nobody knows the day or the hour, but we'll look at the signs as a theme of our convention and keep on the watch."

Jehovah Witnesses believe that while the apocalypse will be terrible for many, it will be the beginning of a better world for the faithful.

"The fighting against nations, we're seeing more earthquakes, you can look at the swine flu, all this, and it just points to the things that show we are getting very close to what we feel is the end," Lamb said.

Going door-to-door with Bibles and informational packets has become a trademark for the Witnesses, and Lamb said there's a reason recruiting is such a major part of their religion.

"While we don't relish the thought of destruction that's going to take place, that's why we feel so strongly about door-to-door work and warning people. If you knew a tornado was coming, and you were the only one and you didn't tell anybody, it would be on your shoulders. It's about more than just discussing the apocalypse - it's also about preparing for it. We take Jesus' warning seriously and try to take note of world events that indicate that Jesus' prophecy is being fulfilled regarding the last day," Lamb said.

Southern Baptists to decrease missionaries

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) – A decline in donations will force the Southern Baptist Convention to reduce its worldwide missionary force.

The Tennessean reports Southern Baptists sent 979 new missionaries to six continents last year. That number will decrease to about 600 missionaries this year. Tennessee Baptist Convention executive director James Porch says churches, associations and state conventions are struggling amid the tough economy.

The board has no plans to lay off missionaries. When missionaries retire or complete their term of service, many won't be replaced.

Southern Baptists are the largest Protestant denomination in the U.S., and the largest Christian denomination in Crittenden County.

We would like to thank everyone who prepared, attended, or helped in any way to make our 100 year celebration a success! A special thank you to Henry & Henry Monuments for donating the beautiful stone that marks our time capsule. We invite the community to visit this historic landmark for any of our weekly services.

Phat for fun

Camp motivating experience on the fitness highway

Who doesn't love a sense of accomplishment, especially when it took a little blood, sweat and tears to acquire that feeling.

I love that euphoric feeling, the big sigh, after completing a project – whether it's painting a room, creating an art project or cooking and cleaning for company amidst the normal chaos created by three kids under foot.

For the last 18 months, my personal challenge has been to get down to my playing weight nine years into motherhood. Along the way, I have finally discovered the fun in fitness.

I've also developed a love for doing the difficult, accomplishing what once seemed impossible on a physical level. The road to wellness – and personal satisfaction – is a long one; however, I've finally discovered that it can be as equally fun as it can be painful.

Most of my life I chose flip flops over tennis shoes, a remote over a dumbbell and a Big Mac over a turkey wrap. I'm still not sold on the idea of hitting the open road for miles and miles of huffing and puffing to achieve that runner's high, but I have learned to have fun with fitness thanks to the encouragement of my friend and trainer Serena Dickerson and the shared interest in fitness with a core group of friends.

Last weekend myself and five others had the ultimate workout experience when we spent three days at a fitness camp led by two-time world fitness champion Jen Hendershott. It's called Phat Camp.

What an amazing person, this highly accomplished athlete is! Not only is she amazing physically, she is full of energy and encouragement and has a generous pay-it-forward attitude that is contagious.

Admittedly, I was scared to death thinking of a weekend's worth of workouts under an accomplished fitness champion, but myself and my group had been appropriately prepared for the challenge and came home with a major sense of accomplishment.

I left there with a little muscle soreness and great nutritional advice, but I also came back to Kentucky with a lot of motivation to continue this quest for fitness, and Jen's encouragement to bless and encourage others as we've been blessed and encouraged.

The point to all of this is this: I've learned that you really can do anything you set your mind to. I'm not to the end of my journey by any means, but I'm proof that someone who lived the most sedentary lifestyle for 20 years can learn to love kick outs, bear crawls and pop squats.

The Phat Camp experience was a good one with good friends and good food (no Big Macs, mind you) and I'm so glad I went. My family did so well without me, I think they'll let me go again.

With dedication it's yours, paint, art or pot roast.

Dear readers and friends: This is the last edition of Southern Crittenden County News. HOMEMAKER NEWSMorning Glories

Go Green! It seems to be the politically correct thing to do these days, and it is essential if we want to breathe healthier air. Ours has become a throw-away society and now it's time to go green, recycle and think of the generations ahead of us.

When the Morning Glories met on June 11 at the home of Ruth Evelyn Robertson, it was pleasing to note that all of the members are engaged in some form of conservation, whether it be recycling, refraining from using household chemicals or taking their own totes to the grocery store.

We were happy to welcome a guest, Nadine Thomas, to our club and encourage her to join homemakers.

In the absence of president Merle Myers, vice-president Sharon Giltz conducted the meeting and reminded everyone of the upcoming Taster's Luncheon on June 23 at the Marion Baptist Family Life Center. Tickets are available at the extension office.

In addition to our lesson on "Green Products & Practices," led by Cindy Davidson, Barbara Gillihan presented a mini-lesson on making yogurt in a crockpot.

Instead of a summer picnic, the club decided to have an outing on June 29 in celebration of Ruth Evelyn Robertson's birthday. We will meet at 11 a.m., at The Store in Fredonia to carpool.

The meeting adjourned to a delicious lunch prepared by Ruth Evelyn.

Crooked Creek

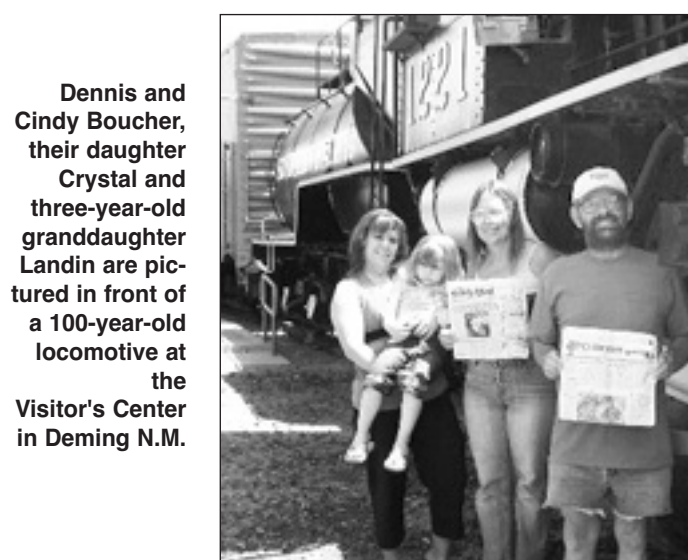

On June 9, the Crooked Creek Homemakers met for the last meeting of the club year. The meeting was held at Cave-in-Rock State Park. Present were eight members and visitor Sue Weaver. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Becky Long. Glenda Chandler presented the devotional.

A brief business meeting finalized our time schedule for the Taster's Luncheon June 23.

Hostesses Glenda Chandler and Kay Long co-coordinated a picnic potluck lunch enjoyed by all.

Travis Gardner celebrated his 75th birthday recently in Rockville, Ind., with family.

Helen Lewis and her daughter Judi Thompson of Ledbetter attended a Johnson family reunion in Denver, Colo., May 22-26. They are standing in front of a Colorado Blue Spruce.

Claudia Travis, Ruby Fowler, Margaret Gilland, Barry Davidson, Joan Winn, Jeff Winn and Grant Rogers represented Crittenden County at a Woodmen of the World Convention in Bowling Green in April.

Carrie Nesbitt and Steven Flahardy, both students at Western Kentucky University, were at the Federated 300 Nationwide race at Nashville Superspeedway to cheer on the 05 WKU car.

1922 Common Sense Business Review in Marion

In 1922, The Crittenden Press was trying to help promote local businesses and tell what they had to offer. The headline read, Common Sense Business Review Editorial, by Roland Kemper. From the archives of The Crittenden Press, here is the article from Dec. 22, 1922.

These editorials have been compiled with the express purpose of showing the people of this section of the state what some of their home industries have to offer. The elimination of much foreign competition will have to be brought about if Crittenden County is to prosper and be a power in western Kentucky.

The editorials contain facts and the people who feel that they are not too old to still be enlightened on things and will find in reading these articles a new angle to work upon.

W.O. Tucker Furniture Co.

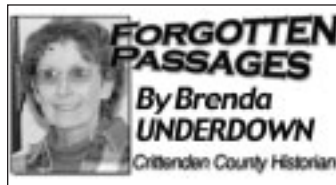

A furniture store, when one stops to deliberate, furnishes the essentials that go to make a home out of a house. The making of a home, I must admit, necessitates favorable relation between man and wife. But a perfect home only comes with husband and wife being agreeable and also having enough furniture in the house to make it comfortable and beautiful.

From this fact then we turn to the man who offers to the public this necessary part of the home and places more prestige on his business.

Mr. Tucker who conducts a furniture store bearing his name is another businessman who realizes that only as long as he gives a real service to the public will his establishment function in a successful manner.

This is an important fact for the people of this section of the state to know, because a knowledge of what basis he is depending on for success, ensures them of having at their disposal a furniture store that is fully stocked with goods of a high standard at reasonable prices.

An inspection of the store by the writer of this article disclosed many unexpected things. They are too numerous to mention but the outstanding general impression was that it is modern, offers a variety of products and that prices were indeed reasonable when the quality of good was considered.

Mr. Tucker has left nothing undone to secure many articles in his store that will make practical and appropriate gifts for the holiday buyers.

Mr. Tucker also conducts an undertaking establishment. During the time he has been identified with the professional life of the community, he has kept in touch with all that is new in the way of equipment but he is thoroughly abreast of the times relative to the latest scientific ideas on embalming. Courteous and efficient to a marked degree, he has won the confidence and heart felt commendation of many clients who have found great satisfaction in being relieved of troublesome details in the time of sorrow.

J.N. Boston & Son

Located in Marion is a modern and up-to-date building material company that has aided greatly in the development of Crittenden County. Its buying power enables this concern to go into the largest markets and secure large quantities, which are offered at reasonable prices. Its millwork is unexcelled and its business is built upon years of good service.

By reason of its improved and modern facilities and the large number of employees, which it maintains, the company is able to execute all classes of work and to furnish unexcelled service with promptness and dispatch.

By reason of the tremendous buying power, this local concern is able to enter the world's largest markets and secure vast quantities at prices so low that it offers the public astounding values in lumber and building supplies of every description. The tremendous power of such large buying cannot be too emphatically stated. It gives this local concern a prestige and an advantage, which accrues to the benefit of all its customers.

Shingles, doors, casings, sidings, roofing and a few of the builders materials are included in the stock of this large concern, suffice to say that it has absolutely everything that there is in the lumber and building material line and that its mill work is of a class unsurpassed by any of the kind in the country.

Throughout this part of the country it has come to be known as headquarters for all of these many things and by fair and honest dealings with the public, the company has not only increased its patronage but also held the trade of old customers for years.

Mr. J.N. Boston and his two sons are thoroughly conversant with every feature of the business and the large establishment, which they manage. These popular men have won the everlasting friendship and patronage of hundreds of customers.

Able and efficient, but at the same time genial and accommodating, they have become the prominent men in their line in this section and deserve the success that they have achieved and the commendation that is being given them by the public.

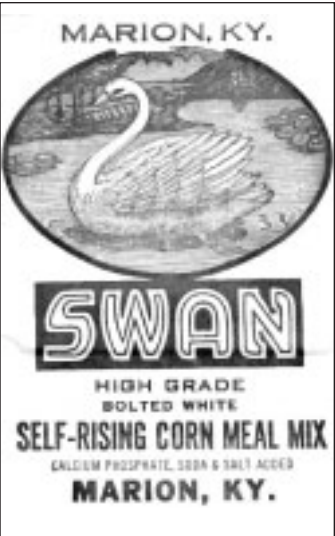

The industrial end of this concern has had an unusual growth. It has handled the contracts of practically all the buildings for the West Kentucky Coal Co., the Morganfield National Bank and practically every big building and residence in that city. It is evident that complete satisfaction has been rendered by this branch.

Marion Milling Co.

In making my business survey of the bigger industries of Crittenden County I find this concern occupying a prominent position in its line of products.

It is only when one realizes the fact that bread is the staff of life, that the quality of the contents of this food is given much consideration. With this knowledge of the important part bread plays in the health of our people it seems to me that rare discrimination should be given when it comes to the purchasing of flour and other breadstuffs.

A flour for example that has a look of fluff will not make as light a bread as the careful housewife demands, and on the other hand a flour that is lacking in the proper bleaching process is not white, consequently a dark bread is the result from its use.

I find that the Marion Milling Co. has left not a stone unturned to produce in Swan, their famous brand of flour, both of the qualities that have been discussed in this paragraph. This is a triumph in the modern milling industry and the proprietors of this mill in the rendering of this service to the people of this community are deserving of any amount of praise.

The men who operate this concern know that the success of their business is based upon the service they give their patrons, and it is with this view in mind that they are over striving to build this business on and again the interests in this business are well aware of the fact that a letting down in the quality of their products will enable other concerns in the field to soon have their business.

Boston Lumber Company (top) was located on the corner of East Depot and Oak Street. This photo was made in 1998. In its time, the J. N. Boston & Sons building material company was well respected for miles around. The W.O. Tucker furniture store (pictured above) was located on Bellville Street next to Mr. Tucker's funeral home. The Swan flour sack (above left) was from Marion Milling Co., which was located in the vicinity of where Marion Feed Mill is today.

So it seems to the writer that the housewives who are not already using Swan would do extremely well to investigate the quality of this home product. If found good, which I believe will be the case, then use and boost it with a vengeance.

F.O. Butler Garage

F.O. Butler is very large, but that's not the reason he runs a garage. The reason he does - so we are told - is because he gives service whether it's hot or it's cold. Second, the people like it and came from afar to have him make repairs on their car. And when the car is repaired, the work is the very best. If you want your car made safe as a bank, take it in and have it looked over by Big Frank.

Crittenden County High School was selected to receive a 2009 Lowe's Toolbox for Education grant in the amount of $2,000. The money was used for the Crittenden County Sign Garden Project. The signs have been placed at entrances at the school and Rocket Arena. Crittenden County High School was one of more than 1,000 schools or parent organizations awarded a Lowe's Toolbox for Education grant for parent-initiated school improvement projects benefiting K-12 public education across the United States during the 2008-09 school year. Crittenden County High School's landscaping class designed and developed the plans for three sign gardens on campus. The process began with students submitting plans for the sign gardens and the students voting on the best plan. Students also constructed, painted and hung the signs.

Go to tackle box for favorite lures

Catch plenty of summertime fish in Kentucky farm ponds

Lazy days spent fishing a farm pond are some of the best times afield. Many old-timers got their start this way, while today's kids often follow suit and catch their first fish from a pond. Stock your tackle box with a few well-worn favorites and you can also catch farm pond fish this summer.

"I always try to keep a good supply of some type of plastic worms," said Andy Mowrey, an avid farm pond angler and stream restoration biologist for the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. "I also like the good old-fashioned topwaters like Hula Poppers and Jitterbugs. Also, I keep some kind of jig-and-pig or crankbait; something that moves faster than a plastic lure."

Southwestern District Fisheries Biologist Eric Cummins keeps topwaters in his tackle box when targeting bass in farm ponds. "A buzzbait in white and chartreuse or a Pop-R are always a good bet," Cummins said. "If the fish are willing I always go the topwater route for bass."

As summer progresses, many farm ponds become inundated with moss, or filamentous algae. Anglers should change up their lures when fishing these ponds.

"You can use plastic worms or a 'do-nothing' worm if the farm pond has a lot of vegetation," Cummins suggested. "As the name implies, it's not weighted. You work it slowly and can hook it a variety of different ways to give it the action you're after. It will help keep you out of the moss."

Cummins again recommends chartreuse and white for these baits. "You can go crazy and use pinks and such, but usually I keep it simple," he said.

Live bait is a good choice when going after bluegill. Night crawlers, redworms and wax worms are bluegill favorites. Kids can even dig up their own worms or catch crickets around the bank.

Several artificial lures also work well for bluegill. "Beetle Spins would be an easy bet," said Cummins. "Black is a good color, or even a black body with white and chartreuse."

Mowrey casts flies tied a couple feet below clear teardrop-shaped bobbers. Some anglers call these casting bubbles. "That's a lot of fun," he said. "You can also catch a lot of bluegill on a fly rod."

Catfish are another farm pond favorite, and good baits can be as close as the refrigerator. Mowrey recalls hooking a monster blue cat on a piece of hot dog as a kid. Cummins uses chicken livers, worms and grasshoppers.

"If you dare, you can use stink baits," Cummins said. "But that comes at a price."

Head to the water early in the day as the weather warms up this summer. The fish are biting and the best fishing hole may be as close as your favorite farm pond.

Author Hayley Lynch is an award-winning writer for Kentucky Afield magazine, the official publication of the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. She is an avid hunter and shotgun shooter.

Pond fishing can be very rewarding.

Bobcats play .500 ball

Marion played .500 baseball over the last week, beating KIT League-leading Tradewater to even the season series at two games each and moving the club's overall record to 4-9.

A 9-5 win over the Pirates last Wednesday was marred by a scrape at home plate that led to the ejection of Marion's Andrew Harris. Harris, attempting to score in the bottom of the sixth, was tagged out high and hard by Pirate catcher Benton Yuan.

The fight that ensued led to the ejection of Harris, the first of the year for a Bobcat. One inning later, however, Zach Sutton would join Harris after being tossed for arguing balls and strikes with the umpire.

A rainout the subsequent night allowed tempers to cool. That game with Tradewater will be made up as part of a double header on July 5.

Marion came away with one win in a three-game set at Union City over the weekend. After dropping the opening game of the series 3-6, Bobcat bats came alive on Saturday, clubbing 12 hits and outscoring the Greyhounds 4-2. It was the highest hit total for the Bobcats since a 7-4 opening night win at Tradewater.

In the final game of the Greyhound series, Harris' college teammate at Vanderbilt University tied up Bobcat bats for eight innings, allowing one run on only one hit. Union City won the game 4-2, but Marion first baseman Rob Dyer, who doubled in two runs Saturday, added another double and RBI to remain the Bobcats hottest hitter.

Monday and Tuesday games against Sikeston were rained out, with make-up dates to be determined.

Coach's summer smiles

Hodge is pleased by offseason play

BY CHRIS HARDESTY
PRESS SPORTS WRITER

Coming off two consecutive winning seasons, the Lady Rocket basketball team is off to an impressive 6-2 record during summer action.

The Lady Rockets started the off-season schedule at St. Mary, playing the host Lady Vikings and First Region foe Murray. After upending the hosts by 12 points, they were defeated by Murray High, generally one of the better small-school programs in the First Region.

Last week, Crittenden's girls traveled to Campbellsville High School, playing four games. They steamrolled Campbellsville, North Bullitt and Berea, winning every contest by more than 20 points. The team's only loss while in Taylor County came at the hands of Lexington Dunbar.

Last Thursday, CCHS traveled to Madisonville, sweeping games against University Heights and neighboring Union County in overtime.

Lady Rocket coach Shannon Hodge has been very pleased with her team's work ethic during the offseason which has led to the fine record.

"I thought we played well. I've been very pleased with all of our players," she said.

The Lady Rocket skipper has been playing between eight and 10 girls this summer and hopes that depth will be a positive asset next season.

The trio of Summer Courtney, Tiffany Graham and Mary Mattingly has seen extensive playing time in the low post and each should figure into the team's plans next fall and winter.

There is also plenty of talent on the perimeter with returning starters Crittenden's Summer Courtney and Tiffany Graham provide low-post defense during a summer league game Monday at Rocket Arena.

Jessi Hodge and Hannah Brantley leading the way.

Other backcourt players the Lady Rocket skipper has been pleased with during the eight summer games include Megan Roberts, Jenna Franklin, Whitney Johnson and Bailey Brown.

Due to not having much time to practice before summer action started, Hodge has not employed much full-court pressure defense. However, she has been impressed with her squad's toughness defensively in half-court settings.

"Everybody has played hard and played together," she said.

The JV Lady Rockets are currently 2-3 in summer league play, and Hodge has been very pleased with their dedication and desire to improve.

Courtney on all-star game tour

Crittenden County's Gaige Courtney had five tackles and helped his West All-Stars beat the East 20-3 Friday in the second annual Best of the Bluegrass all-star football game at Western Kentucky University.

The all-Kentucky showcase began after the Kentucky-Tennessee all-star football game was eliminated three years ago.

Courtney played linebacker last week and will be back at that position Friday when he suits up again in the annual West Kentucky vs. Southern Illinois All-Star Game at Carbondale, Ill.

"Gaige played very well in the Best of the Bluegrass," Rocket football coach Al Starnes who attended the game. "It was kind of ironic because he split his playing time with Beechwood's linebacker."

Courtney was a senior on the Rockets' state semifinal team last fall that lost to eventual Class A champion Beechwood.

Courtney will play collegiate football at Kentucky State University in Frankfort starting this fall. He is the all-time leading tackler in Crittenden County High School football history.

Wildlife board establishes dates for early seasons

The Kentucky Fish and Wildlife Commission proposed the 2009-10 early migratory bird season dates at its quarterly meeting June 12.

The Kentucky Fish and Wildlife Commission recommends all hunting, fishing and boating regulations for approval by the General Assembly and approves all expenditures by the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. All recommendations must be approved by legislators before they become law.

Season lengths and bag limits remain the same as last year.

In other early migratory bird hunting business, the commission proposed changing one of the dove fields at Yellowbank Wildlife Management Area (WMA) to a field where hunters may only use U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service approved non-toxic shot. The change would go into effect for this year's dove seasons. This change reduces lead toxicity concerns as the field is located adjacent to a high-use waterfowl area.

The commission also changed the wording of the regulation that would allow the department to designate U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service approved non-toxic shot-only dove fields close to high-use waterfowl areas and wetlands as posted by signs on Additionally, the commission recommended closing West Kentucky WMA to the September Canada goose season beginning in 2009.

In fisheries-related business, the Commission proposed lengthening the boat length maximum limit to 22 feet on all lakes owned or managed by Kentucky Fish and Wildlife. Currently, several lakes have an 18½-foot maximum length restriction. Boat motor horsepower restrictions on these lakes would not change. This law would go into effect on March 1, 2010.

Old-Timers Night planned at B'cats game

A number of baseball players from Crittenden County will be recognized along with one pioneer of the old Kitty League during a special event at a Bobcats game next month.

The July 6 game against Tradewater in Marion will double as Old-Timers Night, inviting diamond legends of the county's past back for recognition. Bobcats General Manager Gordon Guess, one of those to play ball beyond the high school level, said a comprehensive list of "old-timers" has been compiled and those individuals are being invited to attend the ceremonies.

A special guest who never played baseball in Marion, but broke the color barrier in the forerunner of the KIT League in which the Bobcats compete will be on hand. In 1952, Mickey Stubblefield took the mound for the Mayfield Clothiers, becoming the first African-American to play in the original Kitty League.

His appearance came five years after Jackie Robinson became the first black to play Major League Baseball.

More than 40 youngsters are participating this week in the Rocket Youth Football Camp at the high school. Campers are instructed in techniques and drills, and participated in a punt, pass and kick and obstacle course competition. Pictured above is Gavin Davidson under the direction of Rocket football player Brian Berry.

Weeds lead to arrest of men smoking weed

STAFF REPORT

Marion Police Chief Ray O'Neal arrested two men shortly after 8 p.m., Friday for smoking weed because their grass was too high.

According to police records, O'Neal stopped by a home at 103 Brook Street as part of a routine code enforcement issue. It seems that the grass around the house had grown too tall and was in violation of a city ordinance. O'Neal stopped just to ask the owner to mow the grass, but then he smelled marijuana while knocking on the front door.

Reports say that the front door was open at the home and O'Neal observed children playing in the front room. When he smelled pot burning, the chief yelled a few times trying to rouse an adult. After about five minutes, another officer arrived and the two were about to enter the home when a bedroom door opened and out came a man.

Police records show that Josiah D. Kinney, 23, and Robert D. Claypool, 38, were arrested. Kinney faces a charge of possession of marijuana and Claypool was charged with possession of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Social services was called regarding the four children, ranging in age from 1 to 9, inside the home. The children were later released to the custody of a relative.

Tolu home burglarized

STAFF REPORT

Crittenden County Sheriff Wayne Agent is investigating a burglary Monday at the Paul and Karen Lowery home on Ky. 135 near Tolu.

According to sheriff's department records, the burglary occurred while the couple had gone to town sometime between 9:30 and 11 a.m.

A number of silver coins were taken valued at more than $300. The sheriff's report indicates that the intruders apparently had found other items in the home of value, but chose not to take them. Instead, they made off with only the coins.

The burglars entered the home through an unlocked basement door.

Crittenden County TipLine is offering a reward for anyone providing information that leads to an arrest in this case. To report information and remain anonymous, call 965-3000.

PSC surveys ice storm responses

Kentucky's Public Service Commission wants to hear from people who were affected by a devastating ice storm in January.

PSC Chairman David Armstrong says a new survey asks for details about several issues, including the duration of the utility outage, any costs incurred by customers to repair damage, and customer experiences in attempting to contact utility companies during the outage.

The survey is available online until July 31 at <http://psc.ky.gov/survey>. Comments can also be sent through mail to P.O. Box 615, Frankfort, KY, 40602 or faxed to (502) 564-9625.

A report detailing the PSC's findings and recommendations is expected in the fall.

The January ice storm caused more than $185 million in damages statewide.

State drug card program started

A new statewide discount drug card program called the Kentucky Rx Card was launched last week. The program, which is free to all residents of the Commonwealth, will provide savings from 30 to 75 percent on prescription drugs. This program has no restrictions to membership, no income requirements, no age limitations and no applications to fill out. Kentucky Rx Card is accepted at over 50,000 pharmacy locations across the country.

Kentuckians can download a free card by visiting www.KentuckyRxCard.com. Anyone not able to access the website, or otherwise obtain a member card from various distribution sites, can simply visit any CVS or Kmart location in Kentucky and ask the pharmacy to have their prescription processed through the Kentucky Rx Card program.

Kentucky Rx Card was launched to help the uninsured and underinsured residents of Kentucky afford their prescription medications. However, the program can also be used by people who have health insurance coverage with no prescription benefits, which is common in many health savings accounts (HSA) and high deductible health plans. Additionally, people who have prescription coverage can use this program for non-formulary or non-covered medications. Kentucky residents can search drug pricing and locate participating pharmacies at the Web site.

Anti-drinking film nearing release

A film highlighting the dangers of underage drinking utilizing volunteer actors from Crittenden, Caldwell, Lyon and other counties made its debut at a screening earlier this month.

"Voluntary Action," a film conceived four years ago should be ready for public viewing in July or August, said Dave Baxter, coordinator of the Lyon County Champions Against Drugs and the Kentucky Agency for Substance Abuse Policy's Black Patch Council, one of the principals involved in making the film a reality. The June 2 screening at Grand Rivers uncovered some glitches in the film, Baxter told The Times Leader newspaper in Princeton, so work is left to be done.

The film was based on a script penned by Eddyville Police Officer Brook Dixon, who became dissatisfied with the anti-teen drinking videos available for broadcast at the time. According to The Times Leader, producers are planning to enter the film in two festivals this year, and to develop accompanying curriculum materials, one for school districts and one for faith-based organizations.

Williams won't run for U.S. Senate

Kentucky Senate President David Williams says he's not running for the U.S. Senate in 2010.

Williams, a Republican, says he doesn't have time to focus on a U.S. Senate bid. Instead, Williams says, he's seeking another term in the state Senate and looking to retain the Republican lead in that chamber.

U.S. Sen. Jim Bunning, also a Republican, currently holds the post and says he's seeking another term.

Despite economy state's banks OK

State officials say Kentucky banks are profitable despite economic conditions.

The Kentucky Department of Financial Institutions announced Wednesday that Kentucky banks are ranked eighth in the nation in terms of return on average assets, which is a primary measure of profitability.

The Department of Financial Institutions regulates Kentucky's 157 state-chartered banks, which include The Peoples Bank and Farmers Bank & Trust Co., Marion's two locally-chartered banks.

Department Commissioner Charles Vice says Kentucky banks are generally well-managed and have stable asset quality and earnings streams.

Executive Inn shut due to unpaid bills

A Paducah hotel along the riverfront closed for the second time in a year after failing to pay its electric bill.

The Paducah Sun reports that the Executive Inn closed on Sunday and its power was shut off Monday after the local utility said the hotel has not paid its bills since electricity was restored in March.

A foreclosure lawsuit on a delinquent $3.5 million loan is expected to be filed in McCracken Circuit Court.

Florida hotel developer Bill Parsons, who has been operating the hotel since April, has yet to finalize the purchase of the hotel. Mayor Bill Paxton said he was looking to the future without Parsons as the owner.

plane became a necessity.

The aircraft was at 2,500 to 3,000 feet when it stalled. Belt realized he had enough altitude to glide for some distance, but knew he couldn't make it back to Marion Airport from where he had lifted off minutes earlier.

"If I would have tried to get back to the airport I would have ended up on somebody's roof or on the pavement," he said. "I really didn't have time to think too much about anything except going through my checklist."

Part of the procedure when preparing for a crash landing is turning off fuel lines and any electronics to reduce the chance of an explosion on impact, he explained.

"You don't want a big fireball when you hit," he said. "I was pretty confident I could land it though. I was real sure I could if I could get to that field."

Belt circled about three times on his descent then held the nose up as long as he could as the back wheels touched the ground.

"I did what's called a soft wheel landing," he explained.

On the way down, Belt says

Designed in 1992, the Skyboy is said to have great flight characteristics and one of the best landing gears in the market. "It makes bad landings look good," InterplaneAircraft.com writes.

In South Africa, the Skyboy has been used for surveillance by the authorities. In Australia it has been used for professional film and photo shooting And in Mexico it provides sightseeing services for American tourists. Be it Asia, Africa, Europe or the Americas, by far most Skyboys have been used for pure recreational purposes. he was too worried about hitting the freshly broken field than worrying about how bad it could be. He continued to try to start the aircraft as he glided in a downward spiral.

Bobby West, an off duty Marion police officer, was also among the first on the scene. He said the pilot had a small abrasion on his arm, but no other physical signs of injury. An ambulance was not called to the scene, but the FAA was notified.

Belt says the aircraft will be repaired and back in the air as soon as possible.

hensive Plan that restricts what type of building can take place inside the city, approved the amendment last month. The comprehensive plan prohibited placing another manufactured home on the double lot at the corner of Travis and Jarvis streets, though the Duncans' old home had been grandfathered.

Council members must approve the amendment with a second reading before the Duncans can move in their new home. A special meeting is expected to be called to grant that approval before July's regular meeting.

■ More than $1,500 in bad water and sewer debt from 28 customers was written off. However, that doesn't mean attempts to collect the overdue bills will not continue, said Alexander. The mayor said the bad debt list is less than usual, perhaps due to a higher reconnect fee that can reach up to $50 to get water or sewer service turned back on.
