Election Coverage

Our election coverage begins this week. It will continue next week with profiles of magisterial and regional candidates. See pages 9-11.

Community Christmas

Families seeking assistance with food or gifts for the holidays can register for Community Christmas from 9 a.m., to 3 p.m., Friday at Emmanuel Baptist Church. There will be a second signup period from 2-6 p.m., Nov. 5. Bring proof of household income. Questions concerning eligibility should be directed to Kathey Penn at 965-4763. Questions concerning Community Christmas can be directed to Nancy Hunt at 965-5236 or Mona Manley at 965-5229. Community Christmas is a project of the Inter-Agency Council. Families with children and households with only adults can apply. These are the only two signups.

Candidate forums 2 days next week

There will be two public forums next week for residents to hear candidates discuss current issues. The events will start at 6 p.m., Tuesday and next Thursday at the Marion Ed-Tech Center. Countywide candidates will speak Tuesday and magisterial, school board and city candidates on Thursday.

Western Baptist doctor to speak on childhood obesity

Cardiologist Patrick Withrow, M.D., vice president and chief medical officer of Western Baptist Hospital, will visit the Crittenden County School District on Monday. Dr. Withrow will give a presentation on childhood obesity. His presentation will include pig organs – which closely resemble those of humans – to demonstrate how fat affects the body. He will also have containers of fat to show the audience while making his point about health risks associated with poor diet and a sedentary lifestyle. The presentation will begin at 9 a.m., at the multi-purpose room.

Meetings

- ✓ Crittenden-Livingston Water District meets at 7 p.m., Monday at Salem.
- ✓ Crittenden County Board of Education meets at 6 p.m., Tuesday at the high school library.

Things to Know

✓ Absentee voting is now underway at the Crittenden County Courthouse for voters who will be out of town on election day, Nov. 2.

Council agrees on station setback

STAFF REPORT

After a great deal of debate and discussion about a variety of issues regarding the design and precise location of a proposed new fire station, leaders finally came to a consensus during Monday's regular monthly meeting of the Marion City Council.

Council members agreed to sacrifice part of the fireman parking at the department in exchange for protecting public parking spaces around the courthouse. Debate for the past three weeks had centered around whether the city's new ladder truck would be able to quickly maneuver from the new station onto the city street in front of the new station, which is to be built on the corner of Main and West Bellville.

Fire chief Red Howton points to a set of station blueprints as engineers and council members look on Monday.

der truck would be able to quickly maneuver from the new station onto the city street in front of the new station, which is to be built on the corner of Main and West Bellville.

Scooting the building back off the street would improve the exit, but create other problems in the rear with grade and proposed parking for firemen.

City Councilman Donnie Arflack maintains that he thinks the lot is too small for the station, but firemen, engineers and other city leaders believe they have a solution. They have decided to move the spot where the new station will be built back 15 feet from the sidewalk. That will allow the 38-foot ladder truck to swing wide out of the chute and onto the street without much trouble.

Seven city firemen attended Monday night's meeting that lasted two hours. Much of the time was spent looking over drawings and talking about what could be done to keep the fire station attractive, safe and functional. Council members stressed that it would be a disgrace to build a fire station without commonsense functionality well into the

TODDLERS DIALING 911

Police ask parents to remove batteries from cell phones before giving them to children as toys.

Police want phone assistance

STAFF REPORT

Emergency dispatchers say they've been inundated with what they believe are 911 calls from children playing with cellular phones.

Lt. Marty Hodge, communications officer for the Marion Police Department which runs the emergency dispatching center, said countless calls are creating potentially hazardous situations. The number of "911 hang-up calls" is increasing and Hodge thinks it's because there are so many old cell phones lying around the home and toddlers find them interesting.

Federal law requires cell phones to be able to dial the emergency 911 number even if they have been de-programmed or had their memory card removed.

"We have had about 40 calls from one child," said Paula Miniard, a dispatcher in Marion.

Cellular phone calls to 911 show up on the computer screen at the call center, but because the phone is normally no longer programmed, it's not traceable.

"We can't figure out where it's coming from," said Police Chief Ray O'Neal.

By policy, if dispatchers receive a 911 hang-up call, they immediately try calling the number back to see if a real emergency exists.

O'Neal said new technology is coming to Marion's communications center that should improve the police's ability to pinpoint calls, even from disconnected cell phones.

Hodge said police are asking citizens to remove and properly dispose of batteries from used cell phones.

"Simply taking the SIM Card out does not disable the phone's ability to dial 911," he said.

CAPTURED MARKET

Marion business owner Kim Lain says it's always interesting to see the ingenuity in children's costumes, and she uses the opportunity of Trick or Treat on Main Street to market her business.

Marion hosting Trick or Treat on Main Oct. 29

STAFF REPORT

While ghouls and goblins have taken a backseat to Buzz Lightyears and Hannah Montannas for choice costumes, all sorts of Halloween characters will be on parade during Trick or Treat on Main Street next week.

An annual event is sponsored by Marion Main Street, Inc., and Crittenden Health Systems. The fun and candy are for children 12 and younger. Downtown businesses and offices will be supplying sweet treats during daylight hours, creating a safer environment for the holiday tradition.

Marion Main Street Director Susan Alexander organizes the event with big help from the businesses that will be supplying candy. Crittenden Health Systems will supply reflective trick or treat bags.

Next week's trick or treating will be held from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Participating businesses will have a poster in their door or window identifying them as active partners in the event. They will be providing treats to the children.

Signature Salon will be one of several businesses participating. Owner Kim Lain looks forward to the event.

"I enjoy getting to see all of the kids and what their costumes are," she said. "Some of the kids really get creative. Last year we had Mario and Luigi while another came as a John Deere tractor. It's neat to see what ideas they come up with."

While Lain supplies candy to the trick or treaters, she also makes sure to give out a little something to the older generation as well. It's a chance to market her shop during the fun.

"We give coupons to the parents," She said. "We want to treat everyone."

The Crittenden Press will be taking its traditional halloween photographs to be published in the following week's newspaper. Cost is $10 per picture.

Marion United Methodist Church will host its Trunk or Treat in conjunction with the Main Street event. The church will have candy for children on its lawn at the corner of East Bellville and College streets. Marion Baptist Church will have a similar event from 11 a.m., to 2 p.m., on Saturday.

Immediately following Friday's candy harvest in town, Crittenden Health Systems Advocacy Council will host the costume contest starting at 5:15 p.m., in the front entrance of the hospital. There will be four age groups: 1-under, 2-4, 5-7 and 8-12 years. Prizes will be awarded in each age group.

Participating Businesses

- Peoples Bank Branch
- Signature Salon
- Crahtree's Barber Shop
- Coach's Cleaners
- Five Star

Lions turn demo derby into Sosh benefit

STAFF REPORT

Crittenden County has suffered its share of tragedy this year. In 2010, there have been at least 10 accidental or unintended deaths that have shaken the community.

Two drownings, a helicopter crash, fatal fire, five traffic deaths and last week's logging accident that killed a young husband and father of three are among the tragic events. Pain and sorrow have been too prevalent in the community, said Mayor Mickey Alexander.

Crittenden County Lions Club was hit especially hard by last week's tragic death of Brian Sosh, who was fatally injured in a tree-cutting accident.

Sosh and a few others had been integral in planning and manning recent events at the fairgrounds, including the annual county fair and a more recent tractor pull. Sosh was also among the crew getting ready for a demolition derby this weekend. Because of his energy, spirit and involvement in the Lions activities, the club has decided to devote Saturday's demolition derby to Sosh and his family. Proceeds from the event will go to a memorial fund established at Farmers Bank for his wife, Chasity, and three young children, ages four, two and one.

"Us older guys have been fortunate the last few years to have young members like Brian who were eager and enthusiastic to help us with things like the derby and tractor pull," said Alexander, who is also a longtime member of the Lions.

"Brian and those other guys had been working their tails off to help us hold events outside the fair," Alexander explained. "We had our regular meeting last Monday night and Brian was so excited about the derby. The next morning, he was gone."

Alexander said the tragedy has affected many in this community.

Following last week's accident, the Lions gathered for a special meeting and decided to give all of the money from this week's derby to the Soshes.

"We're hoping for big community involvement in this," the mayor said.

Sosh was laid off from a job in the coal mines. He was cutting wood last Tuesday morning in rural Crittenden

This is why our American schools are failing

Keeping the promise of last week here is some of the NEA's Legislative Program which sets forth the marching orders for NEA lobbyists and the authority for political donations in 2010:

- Mandatory full-day kindergarten attendance for all children.
- Repeal of the right-to-work provision of federal labor law.
- A tax-supported, single-payer health care plan for all residents of the U.S., its territories, and Puerto Rico.
- Federal funding for the education of illegal aliens.
- Federal programs to teach schoolchildren about different sexual orientations.
- Legislation to study possible repaying to African Americans over residual effects of slavery.
- Opposition to the testing of teachers for job retention, promotion, tenure or salary increases.
- Opposition to designating English as the official language of the U.S.
- Opposition to the use of voter ID cards for voting in all elections.

They demand that “diversity-based curricula” (homosexual, lesbian teachings) be imposed on preschoolers.

They urge members to offer “diverse role models” via the “hiring and promotion of diverse education employees in public schools.” The NEA puts “domestic partnerships, civil unions, and marriage” on an equal footing.

They want to teach children how to use condoms for premarital sex, as well as social and psychological programs and services, without parents being notified.

They want public schools to take over the physical and mental care of students through school clinics that provide services, diagnosis, treatment, family-planning counseling with “intensive counseling” and access to birth control methods “with instructions in their use.”

The NEA is strong for multicultural education in incorporating the values and behavior and interdependency in sharing the world's resources.

They have many more resolutions on pro-homosexual, pro-abortion, anti-parent, environmentalism, diversity, self-esteem, racism, immigration, gun control, suicide, peace and the United Nations issues.

These people even lobby congress to ratify the International Criminal Court Treaty, which puts all of Americans under a world court for any criminal offense for which we might be charged. That means nations like China, Russia, Cuba and the rest of the world would be passing judgment on American citizens instead of our own courts. God have mercy on all of us.

The NEA is seeking funding for programs for children “from birth through age eight.” They are wanting more time to indoctrinate their fertile minds.

They adamantly oppose any mention of God or Christ in the schools but permit teachings of Allah.

What in the world does all of this have to do with the education of our children in the basics to equip them for a life of peace and success in taking part in the American dream?

If you read the Humanist Manifesto One and Two you will see the NEA parrots its entire standards. Also the ungodly, atheistic, Marxist ACLU pushes for all the above.

These teachings in our government schools have been going on for many years. I read of all of this 30 years ago and thousands of our children have gone on to colleges that are riddled with this slop.

No wonder we have in-country enemies of the America we grew up in, love and appreciate.

Those with strong family and Bible convictions let the slop roll off of them and have gone on to higher callings. They love this nation and thousands of them are willing to fight and die for their country and family. However, many have been brain washed by the government, or these organizations working for the total demise of the nation we know as the Land of The Free and the Home of the Brave and would not lift a finger to protect it.

Thousands of these students we have paid our tax dollars to so-call educate are working to blindly lead us into a socialist, communist one-world government, marching to the drum beat of lazy radicals of all stripes, with policies that have failed all through history in every nation that have tried them.

No wonder they do not know these historical facts, the NEA and all its other organizational siblings have rewritten our history. They have left out true world history and listened to the pied pipers that are dedicated to bring America to a third world status so they can control the world.

They better hurry, for the radical Muslims have the same plan. Only God and our waking up and coming to Him can defeat the two of them. This is God's country, bought by the blood of thousand upon thousands of brave men and women who believed and belonged to something bigger than themselves.

The NEA spent $56.3 million of their members' dues on the 2007 and 2008 campaigns and 97 percent of it went to Democratic candidates or to promote leftist ballot issues.

Twenty years ago America was first in education in the world and now she ranks ninth. Yet we spend $11,152 per student, the second highest in the world.

Now you see that time in most schools has been used to undermine the children's nation, and not to educate minds so students can truly achieve the American dream. Instead, they are being taught to turn it into an American nightmare!

Letters to the Editor

Kenny Floyd can turn around our county like store

To the Editor:

As we all know the Nov. 2 election is fast approaching. There are several candidates on our ballot this year running for different seats. The seat and candidate I am referring to today is Crittenden County judge-executive and candidate Kenny Floyd. Kenny is an honest, upstanding and pulls-no-punches-type of man. I've known Kenny for over 30 years and his wife Marcia for at least 40 years. Kenny stands for what he believes in and isn't swayed by other's opinions or by what is popular with everyone else. If he doesn't agree, he's not afraid to tell you. That is what Crittenden County needs – someone who isn't part of a certain click and isn't afraid to step on toes if need be.

Kenny is retiring in November regardless of the outcome of the election. But, as judge executive he would be able to give his 100 percent undivided attention to the job. He sees that this county desperately needs changes and he is willing to fight for those changes.

He wants to help people and will go out of his way to do so. Case in point, during the 2009 ice storm Kenny kept his store open during the whole ordeal. He donated all of the perishable food items from Five Star to the shelter, not to mention his time. He also helped with meals at the shelter and went to Pizza Roundup to help prepare the meals and deliver them back to the shelter every day. This is the kind of man we need in that office. He puts his best foot forward to help whomever and whenever he possibly can.

It isn't just a desk job to him and he's not afraid to jump in there and get his hands dirty. At the same time, Kenny wouldn't ask anyone to do a job that he himself would not do!

When Kenny Floyd took over Y'all's, which is now Five Star, over 17 years ago, it was about to go under and close its doors. Look at it now. It is a booming business. He has saved it from bankruptcy and made it a prospering place of business. If he can do that, just think what he can do for Crittenden County given the chance. That is all he is asking for, a chance to help Crittenden County the same way he helped Five Star. We agree that this county needs a change, and Kenny Floyd is the man for that job. Let's give him the chance on Nov. 2.

Thanking Press for help with opry in Cave In Rock

To the Editor:

I want to thank The Crittenden Press for being so good to us. You have run our news items in your paper and given us encouraging words, telling us you would help get our project off and running. We are now registered with the state as a non-profit organization.

We started out without a penny, and hopefully we can grow until we can have more and more ads in your paper. For now, you've allowed us have a few items in your paper to let everyone know that we are working, trying to make plans on how to really have entertainment for the people over here and also reach out to our sugar boogers.

It was discussed at our last committee meeting, the fact that your Early Bird reaches everyone in southern Illinois and also in Kentucky. Therefore, why not do the biggest part of advertisements through you. I told the committee that you had told your crew to use the news items that Ms. June sent in. That settled it for everyone.

Of course the news items that I will write up is to prick the interest of a lot of you sugar boogers, but when we get a time and date set for a show then we will buy our ads. You have been so wonderful to help us.

Our county paper said that since we charge at the door we would not be allowed to run our news items about the opry house. We started out with six or seven members and have grown into the teens now. People are seeing that we have our area's growth in tourism on our minds. Since we are starting out in the red it's really going to be hard. Lonnie and Shirley Lewis had enough faith in our small group that they stepped up, bought the opry house and are not charging us a thing for the use of it.

I am sending a news item leading up into our next events coming up really soon. Again thank you so much for being so wonderful to us.

Writer supports Johnson because of child support

To the Editor:

As a single mother of three sons, I would like to state my opinion about the upcoming election. In the past, I struggled daily to work and make a living to support my sons. After many attempts to receive my child support, I had nearly given up. When Rebecca Johnson came into office at the last election, I finally started receiving child support for my sons.

Rebecca has always been helpful and understanding. I don't think most people realize how hard it is for a single mother to support her children, giving them just the simple things in life such as food, clothing and a home.

It is never easy when you have to decide between paying your light bill or buying groceries for your family. I've had to make that choice before, but since Rebecca has been in office, I now have child support coming in regularly. I am grateful for Rebecca Johnson, and for all the help she has given me. I will be voting for her next month with the knowledge and confidence she will continue doing her job for all the single parents in our county.

Tax code needs to be replaced with national sales tax

To the Editor:

Most people believe that the United States needs to reform its tax code. The current system is overly-complicated, burdensome and outdated. It unfairly hits many Americans harder than others and creates loopholes which exempt certain groups. Worst still, our tax system has proven to be a hindrance to economic growth and job creation in many instances.

Many proposals are pending in congress to simplify our tax code and eliminate provisions which unfairly target hard-working Americans. For example, the federal estate and gift tax, more commonly referred to as the death tax, is imposed on the transfer of all taxable estates and gifts of a deceased person passed onto a beneficiary. This tax is consistently ranked as the least fair and most unpopular tax in America and nearly 75 percent of Americans, including myself, believe it should be repealed.

The AMT is another tax which needs to be repealed to shield millions of middle-income Americans from a substantial tax increase in January. Current law protects approximately 15 million Americans from having to pay the AMT. However, this provision is set to expire in January which will subject 28 million Americans to the tax. Congress can fix this by repealing the AMT.

Many experts believe one way we could simplify our tax code is by replacing our current tax system with a simple, straightforward sales tax. The Fair Tax Act, which has been in five successive congresses, is an example of a bill that could do that. The bill abolishes all federal personal and corporate income taxes, gift, estate, capital gains, alternative minimum, Social Security, Medicare, and self-employment taxes and replaces them with one simple, visible, federal retail sales tax. This would allow workers to keep their entire paychecks and retirees to keep their entire pensions. Kentuckians know far better than Uncle Sam how to spend their hard-earned dollars and a bill like the Fair Tax Act could help ensure taxpayers are able to decide where their dollars go.

The Fair Tax Act could also go a long way in helping to spur economic growth and create jobs. The bill completely eliminates federal taxes imposed on business expenses, which would give business owners additional capital to expand their ventures and bring new employees on board. Additionally, the Fair Tax Act would abolish capital gains as well as the estate and gift taxes. This would allow Kentucky's small business owners and farmers to pass on their life's work to their families.

While some people say the sales tax implemented under the Fair Tax Act would be too high, it's important to remember that one sales tax would replace all other taxes, so this would be the only federal tax citizens pay. Additionally, many economists say the prices for all goods and services would drop substantially under this plan. Currently, consumers of goods and services pay all of the taxes imposed during the various production and manufacturing stages, through higher costs for products. It is estimated that under the Fair Tax Act the prices of goods and services would decline by approximately 25%, not only balancing out any sales tax implemented under the Fair Tax, but in many cases reducing overall costs.

It is also important to remember that under most versions of the Fair Tax anyone whose income is at or below the poverty level would not be impacted by the tax. For example, a family of four making roughly $30,000 would receive a nearly $7,000 rebate every year to offset the cost of the tax.

As of this date, there has never been a hearing held in the Ways and Means Committee on the Fair Tax, and so we do not anticipate it would be adopted anytime soon. The reason for this is that even though the existing system is extremely complicated, there would have to be a national debate about the benefits and consequences of the Fair Tax Act before it can ever be implemented. I do believe we should continue to elevate this issue and have a national discussion about it.

Simplifying our tax code will go a long way in easing the tax burden on individuals and businesses and, in turn, help turn our economy around and put Kentuckians to work.

courthouse. While Daniel always has time to speak, he is always hustling as he tries to get his cases resolved in our courtroom so that he can be in another county or federal court at nearly the same time to take care of cases there as well.

Over the last several weeks, I have heard both Daniel and his opponent speak at gatherings across the county. And while I have nothing against Daniel's opponent, I do find it interesting that for all of the experience that Daniel's opponent claims to have, I never see him in our local courthouse. A quick check on a public record terminal will confirm that Daniel Heady's name will appear in at least twice as many cases as that of his opponent and that does not even include the very large number of juvenile cases that Daniel appears in here in Crittenden County. Rest assured that Daniel Heady has represented numerous clients and cases over the last several years and that his experience both in and outside of the courtroom need not be questioned.

While you may dismiss my support of Daniel Heady because of our close relation, there is no denying the hard work that he has put forth over the last several months in running this campaign. What I want you to know is that hard work is nothing new for Daniel Heady, and that I have no doubts that Daniel will put the same amount of effort in serving as our next district judge as he has in trying to get elected.

Handicapped get shaft at gas pump

To the Editor:

I have a friend who has been in a wheelchair for over 30 years. He has to go to full service at the gas stations because he cannot get out to pump his own gas and they have to pump it for him, charging six cents more on the gallon. It is not right to charge him because he cannot walk. We have places in town for handicapped people and have handicapped parking, so why not pump gas for them? Would you want to pay more for gas just because you couldn't walk? Think about it.

Council of council provides valuable feedback to schools

Each school year, we offer two meetings – one in the fall and one in the spring – where we bring various stakeholder groups – including student council representatives from each school, SBDM Council teachers and parents from each school, district administrators, school administrators, all board of education members and the superintendent – together and discuss the progress of our school district and listen to suggestions for continuing to get better.

These Council of Council meetings serve as a great way for individuals to share opinions, kudos and concerns. The agenda for these meetings is set so that some time is dedicated to the district personnel sharing new initiatives for the current school year but the majority of time is dedicated to small group conversations focused around two guiding questions: “What are the good things happening in our schools or district?” and “What suggestion for improvement would you make to help us continue to get better?”

Certainly input from the adults in the group is important; however, it goes without saying that the most important voices in the room are those of the students themselves.

Listening to students' opinions and suggestions is truly the greatest benefit from this type of feedback session for the board of education and the leadership overall. I have included the verbatim “good things” and “suggestions for improvement” that were recorded at the recent fall 2010 Crittenden County School District's Council of Council meeting.

What are the good things that are happening in our school or district?

Community has finds peaks, valleys through Pink Week

Our community has been very high and very low over the past few days.

We have lost a young husband and father, and a budding community volunteer. Twenty-five-year-old Brian Sosh died in a freak timber cutting accident last week. He was one of the Crittenden County Lions Club's newest members and was proving himself as a valuable asset, as have many of the young, energetic Lions.

To honor their fallen club member, the Lions will be devoting the proceeds of Saturday night's demolition derby to his family, which includes a young widow and three children ages four and under.

What I know about Brian is that he was a great father and a person who was already doing big things in his community. I urge you to help the Lions in their endeavor to raise support for this family. If you can't go to the derby, there is a fund established at Farmers Bank. Contributions may be made at any branch.

As painfully as this story was last week, our community found a way to show its support for breast cancer awareness and some of our residents who are fighting their own battles against this disease.

In what I would characterize as the most spirit seen in some time, Marion and Crittenden County suited up for a team effort against breast cancer – mostly dressed in pink. The all-women's flag football tournament two days last week and the high school football team's Pink Out Friday night were uplifting testaments to the vivacity of our citizenry. The events raised well over $5,000 for a variety of causes, all centered around breast cancer prevention and treatment.

As a community, we will have these peaks and valleys – times when our losses seem too great to press ahead. However, we persevere. Paul of Tarsus told us in his writings that at our weakest moments, we will find refuge and our greatest strength in our faith.

Through that continued faith we find peace and fortitude to tackle obstacles whether they be cancer or a heavy heart.

Through tragedy and triumph, I am increasingly proud to say that I too am a Crittenden Countian because when there is a cause or a cross to bear, someone is always there to carry it.

Evans is the publisher and editor of The Crittenden Press. He is also author of the book, "South of the Mouth of Sandy," which is available from online bookstores. His column appears periodically.

Letters to the Editor

Writer thinks Frazer will save money

To the Editor:

I have read the past weeks about the money that is being paid to Rebecca Johnson in rent and salary. It looks like the office is paid well. I see how she can pay for all those yellow signs.

My point is that tax money is our money first and I think we should keep as much of our money as we can. The rent for the child support office should go to the county. If it did, maybe the county would not have to raise property taxes in the future. Jails to keep criminals are expensive, too. There are different ways of treating criminals and not all of them have to be locked up.

I like Bart Frazer's ideas about letting the county get the rent for the child support office and having other ways to handle criminals without just putting them in jail which costs the taxpayer. I believe Bart will protect the county from crime and protect the taxpayer from wasteful spending.

Attorney likes Frazer's ideas

To the Editor:

My name is Brandi Rogers and I am an attorney here in Marion. I am a partner at Frazer, Rogers and Peek and enjoy my work in this community immensely. Over the last four years I have worked with Bart Frazer and want to share my thoughts regarding this election with the voters of Crittenden County.

The county attorney election is an important one and with that it is my hope that you will seek out the facts on the issues facing our community in making your decision. As co-chair of the Crittenden County Drug Coalition, I see first hand how difficult our battle with drugs and finances are in this community. It is very important that our next county attorney make improvements in prosecution and expenditures to keep our county safe but also protect our taxpayers.

Bart has embraced the challenges our county faces. His ankle bracelet program is not soft on crime. He will use the program to punish non-violent offenders where it hurts the most, their pockets, not the taxpayers! There is no statistical support for incarceration of such offenders and using the jail irresponsibly takes advantage of the position of county attorney and takes advantage of the taxpayers. It is Bart's plan to use the jail for offenders who are dangerous, deadly, or put our families or themselves at risk. Bart is, and always has been, tough on crime. However, Bart is also mindful of the effective methods of punishment. Bart will use all programs and options available to this county to see this county have choices for punishment, treatment and deterrence of crime.

Further, Bart's plans to cut expenses in relation to child support collection are admirable because again, it will save the taxpayer money. His plans, however, will in no way effect collection or the work of the child support workers. I care very deeply for the collection of child support and know Bart will continue to see that collection is a priority.

I am voting for Bart for county attorney because of his smart ideas and focus on the citizens of this county. That is the only reason. I know he will dedicate himself to this county with his service to the fiscal court and as prosecutor. We must have a county attorney who works well with every county official and builds bridges to the future.

I do not speak lightly of issues before you this election as I am a Crittenden County resident and taxpayer. I think of my family first and know that to see this county grow we need Bart as county attorney.

Brandi Rogers
Marion, Ky.

Cherry has been friend to our county

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter in response to a letter entitled, "Thoughts about race for Kentucky House District Four" by LCDR Dan Gatewood."

Mr. Gatewood seemed to object to Rep. Mike Cherry stating he was a citizen of the world, the United States and the State of Kentucky. Mr. Gatewood tried to imply Rep. Mike Cherry was somehow less patriotic than his opponent Mr. C. Lynn Bechler.

Kentucky State Rep. Mike Cherry has been a citizen of Kentucky since 1943, his opponent first voted in the State of Kentucky in 2008. Mr. C. Lynn Bechler is a former resident of Missouri, and he is considered a very new resident of the State of Kentucky.

Mr. Bechler claims he worked at a defense plant in St. Louis during the Vietnam War, his opponent Mike Cherry is a former Captain, U.S. Navy retired, who served with distinction in Vietnam as a combat veteran.

Mike Cherry has been responsible for bringing millions of dollars into his district for road construction and repair, school projects, and many other community projects too numerous to mention. He recently helped Crittenden County get $200,000 for a much needed asphalt and blacktop project.

Mike Cherry is seeking reelection to his seventh term in the Kentucky House of Representatives. He has attended the veteran ceremony in Crittenden County as long as I can remember. He has been the hardest working Kentucky state representative in my memory. He is a strong veteran advocate, a patriot and a true friend to Crittenden County.

Supporting all of our coaches

To the Editor:

I'm writing in concern of our athletic coaches. I'm a proud mother of varsity cheerleading, softball, gymnastic and soccer players. I support these sports and others in the community as well. I guess you can say that I'm a Rocket fan!

There have been some things said about our cheerleading coaches. I believe and know for a fact that these two ladies are doing an excellent job with our girls. They have gone above and beyond to get new uniforms for the girls, new sweat outfits and matching carrying bags, too. We parents are having fundraising projects and donating our money and our time to see that the girls look good and support their school proudly.

Furthermore, it isn't easy being a coach. They give up so much of their time to be with our children and away from their families and friends to coach these kids. As parents, we need to support our coaches and trust that whatever decisions or rules they have are the best ones for our children.

Remember, they are parents too and just want the best also. Without these coaches there would be no sports for our children to be involved in. However, I support all of my daughter's and son's coaches for the good job they do. Keep up the good work Rocket cheerleading coaches and the other coaches, too!

Michelle Kinnis
Marion, Ky.

Bart has those qualities we need in office

To the Editor:

The election is soon here and many are just making up their minds. I want to help push the undecided voter to Bart Frazer. I worked for a county attorney for two terms and I saw what it takes to be a good county attorney. Patience, understanding and toughness are all qualities needed.

When Bart graduated law school, he came back to Marion and began his practice with Bill Greenwell. I was there. I soon found Bart to have those qualities I said were needed to be a good county attorney and more. I always found Bart to be considerate and he treated everyone the same, regardless of who they were. Bart was always helpful and was always the same, day after day.

I have watched this campaign and Bart has not been negative. He has given us reasons to vote for him and not against his opponent. I believe Bart when he says he will be tough on crime yet also protect taxpayers by looking at different ways of punishment for offenders. For all the right reasons, I will be voting for Bart Frazer on Nov. 2.

Nancy Landreth
Marion, Ky.

Johnson has done good job

To the Editor:

With the election coming up I'm reminded of our right and duty to vote. With our vote we hire someone to work for us. The elected official is our employee.

Four years ago, we had the choice of Johnson or Frazer for county attorney. Frazer said he would keep things the same. He said that he would be a carbon copy of his predecessor. Johnson said she would improve the office. She made several concrete, easily verifiable promises. She has fulfilled those promises.

Frazer says he will reduce punishment, run the jail, maintain law offices in Crittenden and Livingston counties and reduce cost in legislation in Frankfort. None of these is the job of the county attorney. If Mr. Frazer wants these jobs, he should run for them.

Rebecca Johnson has been a good employee of Crittenden County.

School success starts with parents’ daily reading

Early in the school year, teachers in the primary grades notice the children who are good at reading and the ones who are struggling. A saying among educators is, "Until third grade, a child learns to read. After third grade, a child reads to learn."

Children who can read well in third grade are more likely to graduate from high school. Those children are more likely to go for more education or get a job. In some states, officials project the number of jail cells that will be needed partly on the failure rate on third grade reading tests. Clearly, we as adults are critical to children's school and life success.

If you are a parent or relative raising children, you may say, "Yes, I read to my child each day." You are giving your child a life-long gift. Recent research shows that average middle-class homes have 54 age-appropriate books. In contrast, lower-income homes have, on the average, only zero to two age-appropriate books.

Income level by itself does not determine the amount of family reading that goes on. Rather, it is access to books and the ability of adults to read or tell the stories to their children. If purchasing books is not an option, parents can check out books from the public library if they live near a library. If you are a child's caregiver, you may make sure that you plan a quiet time for reading into the daily schedule.

You may say, "But I have no contact with any child."

As a community resident, you can be especially useful in furthering children's literacy. Perhaps you could purchase inexpensive books to contribute to parents and child care providers. You may be able to volunteer to read regularly to children in a child care facility. You may be able to persuade an organization or business to donate books to families in rural areas without libraries.

Book reading and the conversation that goes along with it are the biggest investment that adults can make in children's school success. The Extension program Feed Hungry Young Minds through Storybook Adventures and its accompanying resource Project Story Time provide helpful suggestions and resources. For more information, check with me at the Crittenden County Extension Service, 1534 U. S. Hwy. 60 East, Marion.

Painting the town pink

Crittenden County nurse practitioner Alicia Clark shared risk factors and warning signs of the top 10 causes of death among women Thursday during a Paint the Town Pink luncheon sponsored by Crittenden Health Systems. A good portion of Clark's discussion included information about breast cancer, the second leading cause of death among women. The event was attended by nearly two dozen women to bring awareness to the disease during Breast Cancer Awareness Month. Clark, a Crittenden County native who lost her mother to cancer, has been a nurse practitioner at Family Practice Clinic for seven years and an RN for 22 years.

Pianist to bring the sound of fall to Fohs Hall

Fohs Hall Community Arts Foundation is will present an upcoming afternoon of music, highlighting falling leaves and musical wonderment by the pianist Ron Creager at 4 p.m., Sunday.

Creager has family ties locally as his father is physician, Dr. Wes Creager, and his mother, Barbara, is a noted musician.

Creager has played piano on five continents in numerous major international cities and he's now pleased that he can add Marion to the list. For more information, please visit www.ron-creager.com.

This concert will include the audience in a quick game of "name that tune."

Patriotic tunes along with show tunes, family songs and "time" will be the feature of the program.

This concert is sponsored by Fohs Hall Community Arts Foundation which falls under the auspices of the Kentucky Arts Council.

The concert is free. For more information call Susan Alexander at 965-5983.

Homemaker News

Crooked Creek
Submitted by Sally Boyd

The monthly meeting of the Crooked Creek Homemakers Club was held at the UK Extension office recently.

The meeting was called to order by co-president Wanda Rudd and after the pledge, devotional and roll call, the question "what is one thing you do to save energy?" was answered by 11 members. One member was at large.

During Homemakers week, Oct. 10-16, reports and announcements were given which will air on WMJL.

An area meeting will be held on Tuesday, with a fee of $12 which includes a lunch.

The Homemakers are looking for help with a 4-H sewing project. Interested parties need to contact Cindy Davidson. An angel tree will also be ready Nov. 8. Homemaker members are encouraged to have ovarian cancer screenings. They are free to members.

A business meeting discussing a kitchen shower for the Extension office was tabled until the January meeting.

During the meeting, members had sack lunches and dessert, which was served by Boyd.

A LINE HAS BEEN DRAWN

The line that divides us is how your County Attorney will save taxpayer dollars. On my side there are two ways.

One way is ankle bracelets for nonviolent, often first time, offenders who can be supervised while keeping open beds for state and federal prisoners who generate revenue for the county.

The second way is moving the child support office back to the courthouse and returning to the county $10,200 a year which is the present rent being paid to Mrs. Johnson.

It is not who is going to be tough on crime, or collect child support, or collect cold checks. Each of us will, and I think each of us will do it well. The line that has been drawn is that I will use your tax dollars to benefit you the taxpayer.

State Representative • 4th District

(Caldwell, Crittenden, Livingston, McCracken)

For most families, the last several years have been anything but easy because of the economy. That goes for State Government. Over the past three years, there have been seven state budget reductions to make up for hundreds of millions in declining state revenue deficits and an eighth is in the works for the current two-year budget.

Given this challenge, our goal earlier this year was as easy to describe as it was hard to do — we had to (again) trim State Government costs without trimming vital services. I asked you early in the year and you said to live within our means, to cut spending, not raise revenue — and that's what we did! Here's what the state's leading conservative newspaper (Paducah Sun) said: "Frankfort has resisted the temptation to pursue more tax revenue since the recession began in 2007 ... as a result, the Tax Foundation raised the Commonwealth's business tax climate 14 spots ... to 20th in 2010."

Cutting costs, living within our means — that's what I've been helping do in Frankfort, and with your help will continue to do so.

I (and the House Democrats) did not vote to increase taxes in any manner. To say otherwise is, well, simply misleading.

Events scheduled for Cave In Rock Opry

The restoration of the river front Opry House is moving right along, according to the Cave In Rock restoration committee.

After hosting their first event at the Opry House, a gospel singing featuring three groups, the committee was pleased with the crowd that was in attendance. June McDowell, reporter for the committee, says that they're on their way to drawing tourists.

"With Lonnie and Shirley Lewis being so gracious to let us use the Opry House and The Crittenden Press for letting the public know how we're coming along, we're just ever so thankful," McDowell said. "Why not help our area draw tourists? Branson, Missouri started out with one theater and we have the Opry House and Fohs Hall, so stand back Branson! We have one theater up on them."

Plans are currently underway for the next event, which will be a musical comedy.

The Return of the Beans Family will feature Lima, Brown, Pinto and the northern bean may possibly make an appearance, according to McDowell. The time and date will be released closer to time.

Also in the works are a talent show, a fashion show, a 50s show and a performance by Stained Glass, a youth band. McDowell also hints of a visit from Vince Gill.

"We'll just have to let you know - there's a really good chance that he will be visiting," she said.

The next committee meeting will be at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 1 at the Opry House. Everyone is invited to attend.

IMPACT'10

RETHINKCHURCH

The song says "Heaven is a Wonderful Place," and so is Marion, Ky., especially when it comes to people helping people. On September 25, Marion United Methodist Church "hosted" a Community IMPACT event, but the participation of YOU, the Community, made it a wonderful day for all. So many of you donated cleaning supplies and personal care items as volunteers stood outside Conrad's, Family Dollar Store, Food Giant, and Pamida. And "Thank You" to the stores for allowing us to invite their shoppers to pick up "something extra" for our collection. Members from First Cumberland Presbyterian helped us share Marion's Care with 60-65 fellow residents. Boy Scout Troop 30 and their Scout Leaders, along with the CCHS FBLA Club, picked up refuse from the downtown streets, Greenwood Heights, Veteran's Park, and the roads around the City/County Park. Volunteers were also able to go into about a dozen homes to do repairs/chores that the homeowners found difficult/impossible to do themselves. Different kinds of caring, to different people, but all for the COMMUNITY, in a desire to show the love of God. Thank ALL of you so much for stepping up to work together as fellow citizens of our wonderful city!

Bringing lost siblings 'home' again

While I was shopping in a department store, a small girl came running around a counter, calling for her mother. Being taller than she, I looked around but couldn't see a lady who appeared to be a mother of this child. She continued looking calling, "Mommy," ever more anxiously. Soon another girl, somewhat larger, appeared. She too was running and looking, though not calling for a mother. I assumed (correctly) this is the first child's sister sent searching by the mother.

I asked the larger girl, "are you looking for your sister?" She was about to answer then thought better of it as she realized she would be talking to a strange man about her lost sister. I pointed in the direction the first girl had disappeared and she took off that way. Soon, both girls were smiling, holding hands and running presumably to their mother.

What a pleasant experience – a lost child found, by her sister no less, and taken "home" to mother. It's a true story, but do you recognize the plot? When Andrew met Jesus, he went looking for his brother, Simon, and brought him "home" to the Lord (John 1:41).

If the mother sent the older child to look for her sister, I wonder what went through her mind. Did she perhaps fear this child also could get lost (it's a large department store). Might she have wondered if some harm had befallen her sister – harm that could also visit this older child?

What confidence the mother showed in this daughter. One child was already lost; would she risk another? Yes, she was sure this daughter would find her sister.

A news item about these two stories could read as follows: "Siblings find lost siblings. Jack and Jill (mankind) were lost in the wild, wicked world. With great confidence, their Father (our heavenly Father) sent their brothers and sisters to look for them. The children found their sibling and brought them back to the Father with great joy for all.

You realize, of course, that is the gospel story and it will work just like that if we recognize God as our loving Father and lost mankind as our brothers and sisters.

Shotgunners go for turkeys Saturday

■ Seven-day season runs through Oct. 29

Hunting strategies are different, calling is not as critical to success, and birds are often in big flocks, concentrating on local food sources – everything about fall wild turkey hunting makes it more challenging than the spring season.

The key to success in the spring is getting close to gobbling toms and seducing them into gun range with subtle hen calls such as clucks, purrs and yelps. Communication between the sexes is a major part of the mating ritual.

Bagging a turkey in the fall is as much about finding concentrations of birds as figuring out their daily patterns. Birds are segregated by sex and key on food sources.

“In the fall, turkeys spend a lot of time in forests feeding on acorns,” said Steven Dobey, wild turkey biologist for the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. “This fall’s mast crop looks good, so they won’t have to move around much to find food.”

Setting up a portable blind near areas where turkeys feed and waiting for their early morning arrival is one of the most effective fall hunting strategies. Hunters who don’t know a flock’s whereabouts or the daily route a flock takes between roosting and feeding areas must first locate some birds.

Typically, that takes quite a bit of walking.

Find a flock of hens and young birds and intentionally scatter them, then call them back together using an old hen assembly call. This call is basically a long series of impassioned yelps.

Kentucky’s first fall turkey season was held during the 1997-98 license year. Hunters may take birds of either sex in the fall. Typically more hens are killed than gobblers. For example, during the 2008 fall season, hen turkeys made up 70.3 percent of the harvest.

The gradual increase in the percentage of adults in the fall harvest during the past decade is the most significant finding in the harvest data.

“There’s a higher proportion of adults in the population today, and hunters have become more selective (in what they harvest),” said Dobey.

Government forefathers respected for achievements

This article first appeared in The Crittenden Press on Feb. 1, 1906. Mr. J. P. Loyd shares some of his memories and knowledge of the time with the readers of The Press. These old articles help us to know what was going on in our county and town many years ago.

Crittenden Press, Feb. 1, 1906, Editor: As I sit thinking over past incidents, and quite a few are yet fresh in my memory, I will share with your readers some happenings in the year 1886.

I was teaching school at the time at old Cookseyville in this county, and in those days we would send in a monthly report of our schools, which Mr. Walker, being scarce of news, I suppose would publish most any article in writing sent him.

Here are some items that may be interesting to many of your readers. First I will give the names and business of some of our people who advertised in The Press in those days.

Crayne & Henry, dealers in tombstones, A. E. Clark, transferring and handling drummers.

Dr. T. H. Cossitt and J. H. Hillyard were selling drugs, Pierce & Son was in the business of selling hardware, Woods & Walker and G. C. Gray, selling dry goods, also Sam Gugenheim was selling a bankrupt stock of goods sent here by his brother for Sam to dispose of.

K. B. and R. F. Dorr and Jesse Olive were selling furniture. P. R. Finley selling groceries. W. M. Morgan shaving his friends, R. L. Tinsley laying brick and Misses Orr and Steward were trimming the ladies' hats.

I will next notice the name of the boys who were burning the county with political fire. The following were candidates:

Circuit Judge, M. C. Givens and Ben P. Cissell; Commonwealth Attorney, J. H. Powell; County Judge, Lemuel H. James, John A. Moore and John B. Kevil; County Attorney John G. Rochester and W. C. Monroe Travis; County Clerk Will Hill and Dave Woods; Circuit Clerk Harry A. Haynes and Henry A. Hodge; Sheriff Albert J. Pickens and Wm. F. Summerville; Assessor Thomas J. Yandell; School Superintendent E. E. Thurman and Geo. W. Perry; Jailer Sid Lucas, M. L. Hayes, and Al Wilborn; Surveyor George H. Crider and Wm. K. Minner; Coroner Jas. F. Flanary; Constable, Marion Prescient John Grisom.

Now while on this line of thought and in order to make it more interesting to the elder people I will give something of the men and incidents of the early history of Crittenden County.

The first circuit court of Crittenden was held at the house of Samuel Ashley, on the 28th day of May 1842. Judge Wiley P. Fowler presiding. The court appointed Harvey P. Bigham clerk of the court. There were five lawyers present at the term. They were George W. Barter, Francis H. Dallam, Patterson C. Lander, Robert H. Marr and Sumner Marble.

There was only one civil suit on the docket and that was a chancery case. Only three indictments were found during the term, and strange as it may seem, there was a woman in two of the cases. The whole proceedings of the term, organizing the term, impaneling the juries, appointing officers, recording oaths and bonds, all only occupied a little over three pages of space in the order book.

The office of clerk, which is so desirable now, would not have furnished much roast beef and patent plows at that time.

The first grand jury impaneled in the county was as follows: Alexander Dean, Edward Ashley, William Ashley, Matthew Parmley, Martin Hammond, William Hoggard, John M. Wilson, Isaac Loyd, Jacob Gill, George Melton, John F. Wilson, Uriah Witherspoon, Andrew J. Hill, Thomas Akers, and Andrew J. Hill, and Angus McAlister. The last surveyor, Andrew J. Hill, died a few months ago.

But the descendants for the list of honored patriots constitutes a large and respectable portion of the present population of the county who can refer back, with pride to their origin.

The next circuit term was held at the brick church near Marion, for the reason it being impracticable on account of the inclemency of the weather, to hold a court at the house of Samuel Ashley the place designated by law. (The brick church in this statement was located on the corner of the Old Marion Cemetery near were U.S. 60/Gum St. and Moore St. meet today.)

This court was begun on the 28th day of November, 1842. The following lawyers were sworn as members of the bar; David W. McGoodwin, Willis G. Hughes, Robert A. Patterson, Livingston Lindsey, W. H. Calvert, Hiram McElroy and John W. Headley. Most of these men became eminent in their profession in southern Kentucky.

We find that in October 1843, Judge Ben Shackelford succeeded Judge Fowler on the bench. The cause of this change I am unable to find. It was a time when this officer was appointed by the governor and both of the men were of the same political party. His argument and it was said that under the old constitution the Old Hunters, as they were called, never resigned and very seldom died.

It is said that Judge Shackelford had the appearance on the bench of being very austere, but it was in other days thought to be more the style to excite the fears than to win the love and admiration of the people.

John H. Bruff was the first jailer and he received for his services in attending on court, such as making fires, and other duties assigned by the court, for a whole term of circuit court a sum of $10. The first courthouse our county had was not occupied until October 1843.

And now Mr. Editor, down deep in our heart we still have a love for those old grandfathers. We salute them, never were men hotter or cooler of head, more buoyant of temper, or shrewder. They loved the dark and bloody ground; they left a history that will be praised for generations to come.

Our present generations are still proud of our state

Kentuckians who are a people by themselves, parts being made up of politicians, money makers, trouble makers, shouters, and world savers. Step on a Kentuckian's toe and you perpetrate a horror greater to him than a hundred Calabrian earthquakes.

I image our forefathers could view the state from any angle and the result was pleasing. Its format, the history, its limitless resources, it's matchless landscape, its exhilarating climate, its magnificent achievement, its splendid civilization, all went to stimulate state pride and found ready response in all the glowing hearts of its enthusiastic people.

Slander the state and every one of its citizensresents it as a personal offense. We all believe the Omnipotent Artist never painted fairer skies than those that arched their pretty and prolific hills, and the Giver of all good never endowed a land with a richer heritage than that which he has lavished upon the corn cracker state. Signed by: J. P. Loyd.

****
James Preston Loyd, was born Aug. 23, 1873 and died Dec. 8, 1953 and is buried at Crayne Cemetery. Loyd was a retired farmer and elder at Crayne Cumberland Presbyterian Church, of which he was one of the charter members. The Lloyd Road a short distance south of Crayne was where James and Minnie Loyd lived and where the road received its name. From Mr. Loyd's home location he could view the matchless landscape which included the Twin Knobs, Woodall's Bluff and Jackson Hill.

PART OF MARION #1, #2, #3, #4, & #6

Judge-Executive Candidates

Kenny Floyd

Kenny Floyd, 62, married, wife Marcia (Prado) Floyd. Three children, Tony, Kevin and Krista Floyd; and four grandchildren.

Education: I graduated from Crittenden County High School. Through my years in manufacturing and business, I have taken many courses on labor management, budgets, profit and loss and business management.

Experience: I have never held a public office before, so I am a newcomer to politics. I do not belong to any organizations other than the Lakeland Chapter of the American Red Cross. However, I belong to the largest group of people in America and that is the men and women who go out every day to make a living for their families, better known as the silent majority. I am currently manger of Five Star Food Mart and have been for the past 18 years. Before that, I worked at Potter and Brumfield for 18 years with the last six years in Juarez, Mexico as plant superintendent. During all these years in management, I have constantly worked with budgets and labor relations.

Personal Profile: I was born and raised in rural Crittenden County. My parents were Ralph and Erma Floyd. I had three brothers Mike, David and Randy. My wife, children and brothers all attended Crittenden County schools. Crittenden County is our home and I care about our community and the people here. During my years at Five Star, I have enjoyed meeting and talking with everyone and helping them out whenever possible. I have watched their children grow up and now become customers at the store themselves.

Message to Voters: I will be retiring from Five Star in November, and if elected, I will be able to devote my full time to the position of judge-executive without any other business distractions. If elected, I would ensure an open, honest and fair county government. We have many problems facing us and the next few years will be trying with the economy in the shape it's in. We have to spend wisely and run our county government more efficiently. We have to make sure our existing county roads are repaired before building new ones. We have to have a disaster plan in place and communicated to the people of our county so that we are prepared if anything happens. We must run the jail as a business. We have to increase revenue from the state and federal level and reduce expenses at the same time. These are some of the first items I would work on if elected. But above all we must have a county government for all Crittenden Countians.

Larry D. Hearell

Larry D. Hearell, 55, married, wife Debra Herrin Hearell; one son, Dusty; two daughters, Tiffany and Stacie; and one granddaughter, Mad-die.

Education: Attended Tolu Elementary School, and graduate of Crittenden County High School. I took welding and busi-ness classes at Madisonville Community. Certi-fied supervisor for hazardous material cleanup by the International Union of Operating Engi-neers.

Experience: 33 years in the construction in-dustry as an operator maintenance supervisor, foreman and general foreman. My many years in construction management have given me a well-rounded background in problem solving and finding a common ground to build a strong working relationship with the fiscal court and other government agencies and business.

Personal Profile: I am a lifelong resident of Crittenden County. My family has lived in the Tolu and Sheridan area of the county since be-fore the Civil War. I grew up near Lola on a farm, raising cattle, hogs and hauling hay. This taught me what hard work is. After welding classes at Madisonville Community College, I worked at Turner and Conyer Lumber Com-pany in maintenance and driving semi trucks. I have worked for Kenspar Corporation at Mex-ico Spar Mine. In 1977, Mr. Jack Hall recom-mended me to the International Union of Operating Engineers Local 181 where I have worked for the past 33 years as a heavy equip-ment operator. Like most of the workforce of our county, I have spent most of my adult life spending 10-14 hours and driving 60-200 miles a day to make a living for my family. We bring our paychecks back home to support local business people, many of whom make up an elite group that poses to act on our behalf, spending our tax money to bring jobs to our area, but have produced none. Until we take power away from this group, our county will never live up to its potential. We made a small step in that direction four years ago. I am a state certified volunteer firefighter, member of the Sheridan Volunteer Fire Department, Life Member of the NRA and served on the board of directors for 11 years in the Kentucky Junior Rodeo Association.

Message to Voters: Some of my plans to make our county a better place to work include adjusting our tax rates so that real estate taxes would increase, and vehicle taxes would be lowered. So, if you own property and vehicles, your taxes would be about the same. If you just own property, like out-of-county hunters, you will pay more.

I would like to eliminate funding for the Crit-tenden County Economic Development Corpo-ration and create an Industrial Park Board to handle economic development. I would lobby to require buggy licenses for Amish. This would generate money for the county clerk's office and increase insurance tax revenue. I would lobby for legislation to have money follow the man. This would let your payroll tax money now paid to the county in which you work, come back to where you live. I would work to get I-69 back in Crittenden County like the original plan called for. I would work with Liv-ington, Pope and Hardin counties to revive the spar industry. I would lobby to get a bridge from Cave In Rock to Kentucky – this is long overdue. I would work with the jail staff to keep low-cost labor for county projects and make the jail financially independent.

Perry Newcom

Perry Newcom, 47, one daughter who is a senior at CCHS this year.

Education: I have a bache-lor of science degree in agri-cultural business from Murray State University with a minor in business administration. I also attended the University of Nebraska as a graduate student in agronomy.

Experience: I have held no public offices in government prior to seeking election as judge-executive of Crittenden County.

Personal Profile: I am a veteran of the United States Air Force, having served during Desert Storm. I served as a supervisor of satellite operations for Air Force Global Weather Center. As a result of my service during Desert Storm, I was awarded the Air Force Achievement Medal for Meritorious Service. I have over 20 years of retail management ex-perience, 15 of which have been as owner and manager of Crittenden Farm Supply. Prior to owning Crittenden Farm Supply, I was an as-sistant manager for Falder's in Mayfield for four years and transportation manager and salesman for Parrish Shop and Sales in Hen-derson for two years.

I have been extremely fortunate to be se-lected to serve on behalf of numerous local and state boards and organizations. I feel that for a community to be successful one must be willing to offer his experience and services to various organizations. Some of the organiza-tions that I have been involved in over the past several years include the Crittenden County Lions Club, past president and current fair chairman; Crittenden County Chamber of Commerce member and past vice president; Agribusiness Association of Kentucky, past president and current member and board member; Crittenden County Extension Council member, Crittenden County Extension District Board, past chairman; Kentucky Ag Advance-ment Council member and representative of the Pennyrile Area; Crittenden County Cares board member, American Legion member; and Crittenden County Board of Education facilities planning committee member. I have been and will continue to be active in our community and state on behalf of the entire county.

Message to Voters: I believe that my past leadership and business experiences have prepared me to lead our county as the next judge-executive. We are currently experiencing unprecedented economic and social chal-lenges and I feel that I have a great deal to offer Crittenden County to help meet these challenges, and overcome what lies ahead. We must continue to work together, and I be-lieve that I possess the qualities, education and experience to unite our efforts to make Crittenden County the best that it can possibly be.

County Attorney Candidates

Bart Frazer

Bart Frazier, 43, married, Sharie Belt Frazer, former Crittenden County School teacher in Frances and Tolu elementary schools. Two chil-dren, Tucker, 15, and Regan, 11.

Education: Graduated from Crittenden County High School in 1985. Graduated from University of Kentucky 1989 with a bachelor's degree in business administration. I then began work at Farmers Bank & Trust Company in Marion and, while working, enrolled in the Kentucky School of Banking where I graduated in 1992. While continuing my work with the bank, I attended Murray State University part-time and received a master's degree in busi-ness administration in 1995. I then moved to Jackson, Miss., to attend Mississippi College School of Law where I graduated in December 1997 with a juris doctorate. I was admitted to practice law in Kentucky on April 27, 1998.

Experience: In a small town law practice, a lawyer gets to do many things. For four years, I worked as a prosecutor, and the rest criminal defense. My practice has also focused on real estate, probate and civil issues. In criminal and civil work, I have trial experience. Also, since January 1999, I have been the city attorney for Marion which gives me a very good back-ground in municipal issues such a procure-ment, open meetings and records and recruitment of businesses in Crittenden County.

Personal Profile: I am a Christian who is politically conservative. I am pro-life and strongly support our Second Amendment right to own firearms. I am proud to be rated A by the National Rifle Association. I believe that smaller government is better government. I know that it is not government's money, it is the taxpayers', and that includes county, state and federal. In the end, we the people pay the government's bills.

Message to Voters: Normally county attor-neys do not talk about costs and taxes. This moment is not a normal one in our country. We are facing a huge debt and a massive payment will be due from the taxpayers. Every office-holder must be aware that each has a duty to cut costs and work with other officeholders to do the same. As county attorney, I will cut costs. I will work to keep your taxes, county or state, from increasing as a result of expenses from the county attorney's office. I will work with the county jailer to maximize revenue in our detention center. As prosecutor I will al-ways be tough on crime and remain committed to keeping our streets safe. My commitment is that everyone will be treated as an individual with respect regardless of income or status. Crittenden County is my home. I was raised here, educated in our public school system and am now raising my children here. I have never wanted to live anywhere else. I would never jeopardize your safety, or my family's safety for that matter, by being soft on crime. We must be open to different ways to save money and I will be. It is my goal to help make Crittenden County the best it can be.

Rebecca Johnson

Rebecca Johnson, 49, husband, Ken Crider, who is employed at Westlake Monomers Calvert City. One child, James, 7.

Education: Graduate of Crittenden County High School, Western Kentucky University, summa cum laude, with bachelor of arts in English. Was Spirit Master Student Ambassador, mem-ber of Alpha Omicron Pi social sorority, Student Government Association, junior class vice-president. Graduated from Vanderbilt Univer-sity with juris doctorate law degree.

Experience: Served as county attorney since 2007. Practicing attorney for 23 years. Served as master commissioner 1997 to pres-ent, public defender 1993 to 2001, guardian ad litem for children in family court 2002 to pres-ent, special domestic relations commissioner and volunteer lawyers project 1996 to present.

Personal Profile: Member and for 18 years pianist and organist at Marion United Methodist Church. Served 3 years as chair of church administrative council, 11 years as member of Crittenden Health Systems Board of Trustees, past director and president two years of Fohs Hall Community Arts Founda-tion, member and past director of Crittenden County Chamber of Commerce, member Mar-ion Main Street, Crittenden County Economic Development Corporation and Marion Woman's Club.

Message to Voters: I am a tough and fair prosecutor. Four years ago when the people of Crittenden County elected me their county at-torney I made several promises, promises of changes that I intended to make. I have ful-filled those promises. When the people elected me four years ago they were voting for a strong and experienced prosecutor, a prosecu-tor who would help fight to take back our com-munity from the drug offenders. When I took office, the first thing I did was to send a clear message to drug offenders in district court that if you are guilty of a drug offense that you will either go to jail or to drug court. District judges typically consider an ankle monitoring system in those rare cases where a juvenile public of-fender is awaiting an adjudication hearing be-cause juveniles can only be housed in an approved juvenile detention center – the clos-est such detention center is in Paducah. Dist-rikt court also typically uses an ankle monitoring system when the accused or the convicted defendant has health problems too severe for our jail to accommodate. To advo-cate an ankle monitor system for others con-victed of crimes with jail sentences creates an injustice: those who can afford to pay the costs of the device will serve their court-ordered jail time in the comfort of their home and those who cannot afford the device will spend their time incarcerated.

Over the past few years we have had an in-creasing number of drivers who are driving under the influence of drugs and often times drugs and alcohol. Myself and other county at-torneys across the state lobbied with our legis-lators to pass more comprehensive laws dealing with drug-impaired drivers. This new law gives prosecutors like myself better tools to keep impaired drivers off the road. I have a 92 percent conviction rate for DUI offenders which is the seventh highest in the state.

Child support affects everyone in this county not just the parents and grandparents who are raising children. If the parents who are oblig-ated to pay support do not pay, then the tax-payers must support these families. I established a mission statement of "putting children first" in this county and as a result we are now collecting child support for several hundred children in Crittenden County. My of-fice continues to receive awards for the work we do. In 2008 we were voted the most im-proved child support office in the state; in 2009 and again in 2010 we were recognized as one of the best child support offices in the state. My Child Support Office is currently ranked second in the state in Child Support Enforcement and Collections. The County does not pay one sin-gle penny to me or to any of my workers to col-lect that child support. It hasn't always been the case. Before I took office, the county paid the retirement of the child support workers and the county attorney. After I took office this ben-efit was taken away. So not only does the county not pay a penny toward the collection of child support, I have saved the county $40,000 in retirement benefits costs.

While in office I have implemented several other programs to help the people of Critten-den County. I started a new cold check collec-tion program and have assisted over 71 Crittenden County merchants in collection of over $4,500 in cold checks. I have developed a new program to give property taxpayers some relief. In recent years several out-of-state com-panies from places like New York and Texas have bought unpaid tax bills. These companies would then charge the taxpayer exorbitant fees and costs or they would sell their property. I started a new property tax installment plan which allows taxpayers who cannot pay a tax bill in full to make payments over a three-month period of time.

In short I have worked very hard these past four years for the people of Crittenden County. I have treated everyone fairly. I have done what I said I would do four years ago, and if re-elected I will continue to work hard and con-tinue to serve the people of our county.

Have We Forgotten...

The following excerpt is written by Dave Miller, Ph.D., of Apologetics Press in a monthly publication called REASONS & REVELATIONS. You may visit them via the web at www.ApologeticsPress.org. The article is entitled "WHAT THE FOUNDERS SAID (PART1)".

John Quincy Adams reminded his son: Great is my veneration for the Bible, and so strong my belief, that when duly read and meditated on it is of all books in the world, that which contributes more to make men good, wise, and happy...I call it the source of all human virtue and happiness...Man must hold his fidelity and virtue on the condition of obedience to God's will. It should come as no surprise that the Founders of American civilization understood this principle and wove it into their official utterances. How did the architects of American civilization believe Americans could achieve happiness? By being holy--by being submissive to "the holy laws of our God." They believed that human happiness is integrally linked to the spiritual condition of the people--and that spirituality is tied to God and His Word. On October 11, 1782, Congress issued this proclamation: It being the indispensable duty of all nations, not only to offer up their supplications to Almighty God, the giver of all good, for His gracious assistance in a time of distress, but also in a solemn and public manner to give Him praise for His goodness in general, and especially for great an signal interpositions of His Providence in their behalf; therefore, the United States in Congress assembled...do hereby recommend it to the inhabitants of the states in general, to observe, and request the several states to interpose their authority in appointing and commanding the observation of Thursday, the twenty-eighth day of November next, as a day of solemn thanksgiving to God for all His mercies; and they do further recommend to all ranks, to testify their gratitude to God for His goodness, by a cheerful obedience to His laws, and by promoting, each in his station, and by his influence, the practice of true and undefiled religion, which is the great foundation of public prosperity and national happiness. The practice of true and undefiled religion, i.e., Christianity, is "the great foundation of ...national happiness?" But we are being told that the happiness of a people depends on a strong economy, health care for every citizen, a monthly check from the government, ready access to abortion, same-sex marriage, and amnesty for illegal aliens. NOT ACCORDING TO THE FOUNDERS!!!! The entire nation's happiness depends on a majority of its citizens pursuing the Christian religion.

Marion City Council Candidates

Donald Arflack

Donald Arflack, 53, married, wife Barbara.

Education: Graduated Crittenden County High School and Paducah Community College with associate's degree.

Experience: Marion City Council, currently in second term. Employed at Crittenden Health Systems 33 years, a registered nurse for 27 years.

Personal Profile: Chief of Crittenden County Rescue Squad for 20 years and squad member for 32 years. Member of Marion City Fire Department and Crittenden County Volunteer Fire Department for 25-plus years. Member of Marion Baptist Church. Honorably discharged from U.S. Army Reserves, rank of sergeant.

Message to Voters: I consider myself a voice for the residents of Marion. I was one of three who spoke against and voted against the current proposed location for the new fire department. I try to look at our projects and expenditures to make sure they are being used for the best interest of the citizens as a whole; and that we are spending tax dollars prudently.

The City of Marion faces many challenges in the coming years with the impending replacement of aging water lines and a water treatment plant that is going to require a major renovation in the near future. I think we (the city government) have a long way to go on disaster preparedness and planning for future disasters that may affect us. The previous two ice storms have shown us that we are lacking in many areas and need to work on them.

tist Church, member of the Marion Fire Department, secretary-treasurer of Marion Cemetery Association and secretary of Crittenden County Lions Club.

Message to Voters: I have approximately 15 years experience. Having lived here all my life, I know what the people need and want. I want to see the new fire station built and improvements made to the city sewer system.

Andy Hunt

Andy Hunt, 26, married, wife Brooke O'Nan Hunt.

Education: Crittenden County High School graduate. Bachelor's degree in accounting from the University of Kentucky.

Experience: I am the vice-chairman of the Community Healthcare Foundation. I serve as a Crittenden County School System volunteer and participate in the student mentoring program. I presently work at Farmers Bank & Trust Company as a loan officer. I have served on the Crittenden County Chamber of Commerce.

Personal Profile: I am a sixth generation resident of Crittenden County. My father has been a self-employed businessman in Marion for 35 years and my mother has been employed here for 32 years. Both have instilled in me the importance of being involved in the community and that is something I enjoy doing very much. I am a member of Marion Baptist Church. I am currently chairman of the Crittenden County Athletics Hall of Fame. I am also the statistician for the high school football team.

Message to Voters: I will do my best to attend all meetings and be present in the council chambers when business is being discussed. At all times I will strive to be a positive representation of what an elected official should be for the City of Marion. I will try not to make snap decisions or let my own personal opinions cloud my judgment. I hope this will allow me to make sound decisions based on the facts. I feel my financial background can be helpful in council decisions. I entered this election carrying no hidden agendas or grudges, and I will take the time to listen to your concerns. I want to give something back to the community I have always called home.

James Brown

James "Jim" Brown, married, wife, Kathryn and daughter Debby. Two sons, Ronnie, who lives in Marion and owns Brown Auto Body Shop, and Jammie.

Education: High school with some college credits.

Experience: I have held a public office as a city councilman for the past six years. I served in the U.S. Army with the 101st Airborne Division and worked for U.S. Steel. I also worked for the Marion Police Department as a policeman.

Personal Profile: I like the outdoors and I am a hard worker. I like to be around people.

Message to Voters: If I make a promise, I will keep it.

Jared D. Byford

Jared D. Byford, 30, married, wife Amy. One son, Noah.

Education: Crittenden County High School graduate, various courses in banking, finance and real estate.

Experience: Extensive public work history, served on Tax Appeals Board and County Election Commission Board. I work with non-profit organizations. I am a member of Chamber of Commerce and have served as treasurer for the past two years.

Personal Profile: I love God, my family, my country and my community. I have worked at Farmers Bank & Trust Company as a loan officer for the past six years. I am just an average citizen with the desire to make Marion an ideal place to raise our children and grow old.

Message to Voters: I'm honest and straight forward. I am not backed by any special interest groups. The residents of Marion are my special interest. I am a good listener and readily available. If elected, my decisions will be based on resident input and what would be deemed best for the City of Marion.

Mike Byford

Michael R. Byford, 57, wife, Diana; two children, Natalie and Nathan; and three grandchildren, Cali, Rhett and Riley.

Education: Crittenden County High School Class of 1971. One year of college at Murray State University.

Experience: Current member of Marion City Council, having served for approximately 15 years.

Personal Profile: Treasurer of Marion Baptist Church.

Crittenden County Chamber of Commerce held one of its Business After Hours events Monday evening at the law offices of Frazer, Roger and Peek in Marion. The local civic organization holds the events regularly for members to fellowship following the work day. Pictured at this week's event are (from left) attorney Brandi Rogers, Judge-Executive Fred Brown, attorney Bart Frazer, Mayor Mickey Alexander and Paducah engineer Mary Austin.

Board of Education Candidates

Barrett Belt

District 2

Barrett Belt, 38, married, wife C.J. Belt; and two children, Logan, 10, and Evan, 5.

Education: Graduated from Crittenden County High School 1991 and Georgetown College in 1995.

Experience: No public office experience. I have been employed by Farmers Bank and Trust Company for 15 years. My work experience and volunteering with several community organizations has provided me with skills that will be helpful when making decisions as a school board member.

Personal Profile: I am a lifelong resident of Crittenden County. I am also a deacon at Marion Baptist Church and a 12-year volunteer of the Marion City Fire Department.

Message to Voters: I have a vested interest in our school system not only as a parent, but as an active member of our community. I believe that providing a sound education to our children is key to their future as well as ours as a community.

Phyllis Orr

District 5

Phyllis Orr, married, husband Larry Orr; two children, Ginger and Jordan; and one granddaughter, Lacey.

Education: Graduate of Murray State University with a bachelor's degree in elementary education and a master's degree in education.

Experience: Two-term board of education member for District Five. I was a teacher for 27 years, of which 24 were as an elementary and middle school teacher in the Crittenden County Schools. I have achieved level five with the Kentucky School Board Association (KSBA) and have gained 258 hours of training.

Personal Profile: I was raised in Murray and moved to Crittenden County in 1976 with my husband shortly after the birth of my daughter. In my spare time, I serve as a member of the board of directors of the Crittenden County Chamber of Commerce and I am an active member of the Crittenden County Retired Teacher's Association. I am a member of Marion Baptist Church. I also enjoy spending time with my granddaughter.

Message to Voters: I have had experience as a member of the Crittenden County Board of Education for the last eight years. I pledge to do everything possible to help make our schools the best they can be by continuing to put kids first in every decision I make. I will continue to be accountable to you and our children. I expect our schools to provide children with an excellent education and I will continue to make educational excellence my number one goal. I will also continue to work for you to set policies and budgets that are fair to all students, faculty and parents.

James Eric LaRue

District 2

James Eric LaRue, married with one daughter.

Education: Master's degree in education from Murray State University and more than 60 additional graduate hours in English, education and educational administration.

Experience: Served on the Salem City Council for 10 years. Member of Crittenden County Board of Education the past 4 years.

Worked at Crittenden County High School for 32 years as a teacher and principal. Taught college English for 14 years. As a teacher, I worked under five superintendents and nine principals, always observing what worked and what did not. As a board of education member, I've worked with two superintendents. I've coached baseball and basketball, directed over 20 plays at the high school and at Fohs Hall, was student council sponsor for 20 years and served on the high school site-based decision-making council for 3 terms.

Personal Profile: I enjoy reading and writing and love to solve problems. I deal in antiques and collectibles as a hobby and have a great love of history and the arts. Technology fascinates me as to the potential educational uses.

Message to Voters: My educational experiences allow me to look at our school system from several different viewpoints. My experiences help me to know what should be happening in the school system. I'm willing to spend the time necessary to help move our schools forward and I am a problem solver. I try to look at each problem from different viewpoints. I'm willing to "think out of the box" to solve our problems.

I'm as excited about education now as I was during my first year of teaching. Our schools should be about the business of preparing our students for their future. While test scores may keep us in good standing with the state, it is true learning that prepares our students for the rest of their lives.

Frank Pierce

District 5

Frank Pierce, 49, two children, Alec and Francesca.

Education: Bachelor of science in education from Murray State, master's degree and rank one administration from Murray State.

Experience: A teacher, assistant principal and coach for 22 years. Owner of Coach's Cleaners and rental property.

Personal Profile: Lived in Marion since 1987. Proud to say I'm from Marion and Crittenden County. I think this is a great place to live and raise a family. My dad was a pilot in the U.S. Army which provided us the opportunity to travel throughout the U.S. and Europe. We got to see things that most people only read about. I strongly believe that education is the key to success in anything we do.

Message to Voters: I will be a tireless advocate for our students and their futures, and I will work just as diligently for our faculty and staff, both certified and classified. I do have concerns including the number of quality educators who have left in the last several years. That and constant turnover in leadership at both the middle and high schools must be addressed. Also of concern is the amount of time teachers have to teach while being overwhelmed with programs and other things. Teachers should be left to teach and not have to take time away from the classroom.

County Jailer Candidates

Rickey Riley

Rickey Riley, 63, married to Barbara Tinsley; and have one son, James.

Education: Two years of college and graduate of Draughn's Business College.

Experience: I have been Jailer since August 16, 2003. I have 42 years of law enforcement experience and seven years as jailer. I spent 25 years with Henderson Police Department. I served on the Board of Directors for the Kentucky Jailers Association for three years, serving as chaplain.

Personal Profile: I am a Christian and member of Barnett Chapel Church. I serve as trustee for White Chapel Church and Cemetery. I am a trustee and moderator for Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 9 and past-president. I am a member of the Board of Directors of Crittenden County Cares, member of Kentucky Association of Chiefs of Police and a Kentucky Colonel.

Message to Voters: I am an experienced, proven leader.

Rick Mills

Rick Mills, 47, married, wife Mary Jo Mills; and have four children, Bryant, Cody, Misty and Nathan.

Education: Webster County High School.

Experience: This is my first time seeking public office. I am a former police officer and deputy jailer.

Personal Profile: Born in Sturgis and went to school in Union and Webster counties. I am honorably discharged from the U.S. Army Reserve and work for Harris Gas in Salem.

Message to Voters: I will work hard with fiscal court, state and local authorities to make the detention center a valuable resource. I will introduce programs that will ease the burden on the taxpayer. We are a Christian family and believe you should give back to your community. My spare time is given back by being a volunteer firefighter for 26 years and I also work with the rescue squad. I am a member of the Marion Masonic Lodge and we attend church at Marion Baptist. I am ready to give 100 percent to making Crittenden County a role model for other counties in the state.

Rockets turn Pink Out into blowout

MARION, Ky. - Crittenden County's Pink Out turned into a blowout as the seventh-ranked Rockets colored Fulton County pale with a 48-0 First District victory on a night when Breast Cancer Awareness was the theme.

Wearing pink socks and wrist bands, the Rocket football boys showed their team spirit in the fight against a cancer that affects one in every six women. The game was billed as a Pink Out as players, coaches and fans dressed in light rosy attire to bring awareness to a dreaded disease.

It was a wipe out for Crittenden as senior running back Andrew Freeman scored the first three touchdowns, causing a fumble to set up the final TD in his hat trick.

Underclassmen did the rest of the offensive damage as junior Dustin Hernandez scored on a dazzling 57-yard run and sophomore Grant Gardner and freshmen Travis Gilbert and Zach Tinsley tacked on three more touchdowns. Gardner also recovered a fumble.

Crittenden's defense held Fulton (0-5) at bay, yielding just 63 total yards and forcing five punts. Fulton turned the ball over on downs twice and fumbled once.

The victory solidifies the 7-1 Rockets' grasp on one of the top two spots in the district race. Crittenden will play at Mayfield next week to decide who wins the coveted league crown. It's the third straight year the teams have squared off for the title.

This week's game

CRITTENDEN CO. (7-1)
Class A District 1 (3-0)
Offense: Multiple
Defense: Base 4-3
Rankings: Bluegrass Prep 8th in Class A, Associated Press 7th in Class A Injury Report: Brenden Phillips (shoulder) game time decision.

MAYFIELD (8-8)
Class 1A, District 1 (3-0)
Rankings: No. 1 in non-Class A polls
Offense: Spread, H formation
Defense: 4- and 5-man fronts

The series: Mayfield leads the series 12-2. Crittenden has won one of four regular-season games against the Cardinals. Coach Starnes is 2-11 against Mayfield.

Game Notes: Mayfield has won its last 14 games at home dating back to 2008. Crittenden has now won at least 7 games for three straight seasons for the first time in the school's history. The next win this season will give the Rockets the most wins in any three consecutive years in the school's history. This season, Crittenden has scored more points through 8 games than it has in school history and 7-1 ties the second best start of any Rocket team. CCHS kicker Micah Holloman is tied for sixth in career extra points made with 25 (tied with Buddy McDaniel). Andrew Freeman is 8th in school history in rushing touchdowns with 25 and 11th in points scored at 178.

Scouting Report: QB Luke Guhy is the central figure in the offense. He's a heady player who reads defenses. He has 14 capable receivers with William Higginson, Devin Jones and Javarious Richardson the most effective. Guhy has thrown for more than 1,500 yards this season. The Cardinals have rushed for almost as many. Jonathan Jackson, Decole Noorian and Stuart Mills are the top backs. Jackson, a sophomore linebacker, too, is perhaps the best defender in western Kentucky. The secondary is loaded with talent. The Cardinals have picked off over 10 passes this season.

Rocket coach Al Starnes says Mayfield has no weakness. The Cardinals are side-line to sideline better than last year. Starnes says it's one of the best team's Mayfield has had since his Rockets have been playing them. "We are going to have to meet or exceed their intensity in order to be competitive," Starnes said. Starnes said keys to the game will be limiting Mayfield's big plays early and being just as physical as the Cardinals.

What's at Stake: Championshps of the Class A First District. Both teams have already locked up a first-round home game for the playoffs.

Cardinals' Score Sheet

Four hurt in Monday wreck

STAFF REPORT

Four young adults were injured in a single-vehicle accident Monday about 7:30 p.m., on U.S. 641 South just outside Marion.

Dakota Owen, 18, of Marion was driving a small Honda car southbound when he swerved to miss a deer. The car left the roadway, hit a culvert and then a utility pole.

Owen and three passengers were all taken to area hospitals with serious injuries, but none appeared life-threatening. Also hurt were Brittany Tinsley, 18; Dylan Tabor, 18; and Tanner Beavers, 21.

According to police reports, the vehicle traveled 157 feet after leaving the roadway before striking the pole, which it snapped in two. None of the car's occupants were wearing seat belts.

The wreck knocked out power to a good portion of that part of the county for several hours.

Monroe

Charles Monroe 87, died Tuesday, Oct. 12, 2010.

He was a World War II veteran, having served in the Third Army Infantry under Gen. George Patton in Europe. He was a member of Disabled Veterans of America, 55-year member of the Indiana Board of Realtors, formerly president of the Northern Indiana Board of Realtors, a lifelong member of the Salem Kentucky Masonic Lodge, member of the Glen Park Baptist Church in Gary, Ind., and was a singer and musician.

Surviving are his brother, James Monroe of Evansville, Ind.; his son, Gerry Monroe wife Betty of Nicholasville, Ky., two grandchildren, Michael Monroe of Crown Point, Ind., and Renee Monroe of Louisville; and two great-grandchildren, Lilly and Griffin Monroe.

He was preceded in death by this wife of 67 years, Elba Weldon Monroe, whom he married in Marion in 1942. He was the son of Charles and Dottie Monroe from Salem.

A memorial service, including military rites, was held Friday, Oct. 15 at Boyd Funeral Directors in Salem. Online condolences may be left at BettsandWestFuneralHome.com.

Memorials may be made to the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation in the name of Lilly Monroe at: JDRF.Org.

Marion PACS office helping residents get ready for winter heat

STAFF REPORT

Marion Pennyrile Allied Community Services (PACS) will begin helping local people heat homes next month.

Through its Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP), PACS provides heating assistance to eligible households. Residents may apply between Nov. 1 and Dec. 9.

Last year, more than 279 households in Crittenden County received financial assistance from the LIHEAP program. Based on the economy and high unemployment, PACS Coordinator Kathy Penn expects more people are having trouble making ends meet.

"Last year we received more applicants than the previous years," she said. "I fully anticipate that number to be more for this year."

Eligible households must meet basic criteria. The persons must be responsible for home energy costs, directly or as an undesignated portion of their rent. They must also have a combined household income, for the calendar month prior to the month of application, not in excess of 130 percent of the federal poverty level. In Crittenden County, a one-person household must earn less than $1,174 per month and two-person household less than $1,579.

Applicants are taken in alphabetical order at the PACS office. Anyone over the age of 18 must bring a photo I.D.; the most recent heating bill; social security number or permanent resident card for each member of the household; and proof of the household's income for the preceding month.

"Everyone is welcome to call the PACS office to inquire about eligibility," Penn said.

The application time is about 10-15 minutes if applicants have brought all of their required information. Penn says that if an applicant's heating service has been disconnected for past-due fees, the process can take up to an hour or longer.

The PACS office is now taking donations of small ceramic (electric) heaters. A waiting list has been established for elderly and disabled residents who need help keeping warm this winter. If you would like to donate, contact the PACS office at 965-4763.

County volunteers helping return property to residents

DEREK MCCREB
STAFF REPORTER

With the help of local officials, more than $350,000 in unclaimed money and property could be returned to Crittenden County residents. Kentucky State Treasurer Todd Hollenbach was at the Crittenden County Courthouse last week to finalize his program's plan with Judge-Executive Fred Brown.

Treasure Finders Kentucky is a program that attempts to return money and property to local residents. Hollenbach said the funds are mainly from insurance companies and banks who were unable to locate account holders. By law, businesses and banks are required to report unclaimed property to the treasury. Every year, the Kentucky State Treasury receives millions of dollars from these companies, and it is a requirement under law that the state make an attempt to reunite the property with its rightful owners.

The program will be set up at the Crittenden County Courthouse Law Library on Tuesday, from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. Hollenbach said local officials and volunteers will be contacting Crittenden County residents who are on the list to inform them of their unclaimed funds and how to get it back.

"There are 977 claims totaling $350,209.56 in Crittenden County," Hollenbach said.

With the help of local volunteers and officials, Hollenbach and his team will set up a dispatch center that will go through the list of claimants and attempt to contact them over the phone. Volunteers are a vital part of the process, Hollenbach explains.

"Those who have deep roots and knowledge of the community are important to make this process more successful," he said.

Taxpayers are not footing the bill for this program, Hollenbach said. There is no time limit on filing a claim to get property back. If the owner of property is dead, the heirs have the right to all claims.

Money is not the only thing being held in the vaults in Frankfort, Hollenbach said. Physical property that is turned over to the state is held for a time and then sold at auction. The owners or claimants of the property are then entitled to the money that was collected from the sale.

"We have everything from false teeth and ashes of loved ones to jewelry, and even gold bullion," Hollenbach added. Despite having a 35 percent smaller staff than the previous administration, Hollenbach says the Treasure Finders program is off to a great start.

"Each year about 20 percent of unclaimed property is returned to its owners," Hollenbach said. "Already we have had a 300 percent increase in the number of claimants found and property returned this year."

The treasurer's office has created a Web site to allow Kentucky residents to check and see if their name is on the list of unclaimed property owners. Go to kytreasury.com. Once residents have been contacted by local officials, they will be advised to contact the Kentucky State Treasury Unclaimed Property Division at 800-465-4722 or by email at treasury.web@ky.gov to begin the claim process.

For more information on the program or if you would like to volunteer contact Sue Padgett at the Crittenden County Courthouse at 963-5251.

Judge Executive Fred Brown, Sue Padgett and state treasurer Todd Hollenbach hold up a sign for the Treasure Finders Kentucky program.

BLAST FROM THE PAST

NEWS FROM 1960

Jerry Allen Woodall, 1960 graduate of Crittenden County High School, was elected Vice President of the Freshman Class at Murray State College last week. Mr. Woodall is one of 1,300 members of the Freshman class and was selected from three candidates. He is attending Murray on a football scholarship and is majoring in business administration and minor in physical education.

NEWS FROM 1985

The Crittenden County Hospital Auxiliary will again help entertain the children of hospital employees at a Halloween party Oct. 25 at the Methodist Church.

It was announced that 593 hours had been worked by Auxiliary members from Aug. 23-Oct. 4.

Correction

In the Oct. 7 article written by Brenda Underdown about Rosebud Church, it was noted that the Rosebud window was painted by Mrs. King in 1900; however, the windows that now grace the church were made and donated by the late stained-glass artist, Will Ed Arflack of Marion. Judge sentences two in circuit court cases Circuit Judge Rene Williams has sentenced to men to prison after they pleaded guilty to various charges in Crittenden Circuit Court last week.

In separate cases, Rick W. Crabtree, 32, of Marion and Howard Troy Martin, 47, of Marion were each sentenced to five years in prison.

Commonwealth Attorney Zac Greenwell will not oppose shock probation motions from both defendants as part of the plea agreements.

Crabtree was sentenced to five years on a felony charge of receiving stolen property (under $10,000) by complicity, and 12 months on two charges of receiving stolen property (under $500) by complicity. He was charged this summer in connection with a stolen vehicle, license plate and license plate decal.

According to police reports, Marion Officer Bobby West was investigating a separate case Aug. 19 on South Main Street in Marion when he discovered a vehicle bearing an alleged stolen license plate. The subsequent investigation discovered that the plate was reported stolen from Madisonville, as was the decal on the plate, and that the vehicle had been reported stolen from Ohio.

Crabtree's wife, Abby, was also charged in the case. She is scheduled to appear in court at a later date.

In return for his guilty plea, Crabtree will likely spend only 30 days in jail. His attorney, Public Defender Paul Sysol, is expected to file a motion for shock probation after a month and without opposition from the state prosecutor, he will likely be released. Probation would be for five years, and he will be responsible for any restitution to the vehicle's rightful owner. He was also ordered to pay fines and fees.

Martin pleaded guilty to charges of failure to wear a seat belt; failure of owner to maintain required vehicle insurance; driving on a DUI suspended license and fourth-offense DUI.

Judge Williams sentenced Martin to five years in prison. The commonwealth will not oppose a motion for shock probation in this case after Martin has served 120 days. The balance of his sentence would be probated for five years. He was also ordered to pay fines and fees.

Crittenden among counties declared with Level 2 drought

Crittenden is among more than a dozen western Kentucky counties that have been declared part of a Level 2 drought by the state climatologist office and the state Energy and Environment Cabinet, in coordination with the Kentucky Drought Mitigation Team.

Other area counties are Ballard, Calloway, Carlisle, Christian, Fulton, Graves, Hickman, Hopkins, Livingston, Lyon, Marshall, McCracken, Muhlenberg, Todd, Trigg, Union and Webster. There are 50 in the state that are considered under a Level 2 drought.

A Level 2 drought indicates that Level 1 risks are becoming an actuality. A Level 1 drought indicates moderate drought conditions have developed, primarily affecting soil moisture and vegetative health. Serious impacts to agriculture water needs and increase wildlife risk, water supply shortages for municipal systems on small lakes and reservoirs and other water-sensitive sectors can be expected.

Water conservation advisories or mandatory restrictions on water use should be anticipated by residents in those Level 2 counties.

Crittenden County has had outdoor burn bans for several weeks this summer due to dry conditions. Right now, only nighttime burning is allowed.

Wildfires are becoming a major concern with the drought.

Deer hunter hurt in fall on Hurricane

A deer hunter fell from a tree stand and broke his leg Saturday evening while hunting on Hurricane Island on the Ohio River near Tolu.

Local rescue personnel and PHI Air Ambulance were called to the scene just before 5 p.m. Robert Sherer of Tolu was hunting on the island when his climbing stand gave way and he fell about 15 feet. He used a cell phone to call his brother, who summoned help. Sherer was flown from the island to a nearby hospital.

Saturday was the first day of a two-day muzzleloader deer hunt in Kentucky.

The hunter was on the northern end of the island when he was injured.

Three juveniles face charges in break-in at City-County Park

Three juveniles face charges of criminal mischief for breaking into the concession stand at Marion-Crittenden County Park.

The incident happened on Aug. 5. Marion Police Department received a tip regarding the alleged crime and Officer Jerry Parker investigated it.

Two 16-year-old males and one 15-year-old male have been charged.

Transportation Dept. will be mowing for next 2-4 weeks

Kentucky Transportation Cabinet is starting its fall mowing cycle. That means motorists will be encountering mowing zones along highways across western Kentucky.

Contract mowing crews will be working along the Natcher Parkway, Western Kentucky Parkway, Audubon Parkway, Pennyryle Parkway, Purchase Parkway, Interstate 24, and major highways including U.S. 60, U.S. 641 and other secondary highways in Crittenden County.

Mowing will take two to four weeks.

Due to a higher than usual number of work zone incidents this year, motorists should be aware that highway officials have asked police agencies across the region to step up patrols in mowing zones and other work zones.

Motorists should be alert and reduce driving speed whenever they encounter a mowing zone. From time to time operators have to maneuver mowing equipment into and across driving lanes as they mow around obstacles and go about their work. Appropriate caution is required whenever you encounter a mowing zone.

I am first a Christian, a college graduate. I am a husband and father, a community and business leader who can be a part of the team that will work for our future and strengthen our county.

If elected, I will represent all the residents of District 1, and I will dedicate my time and efforts to serving you.

Dotiki mine cited in April miner deaths

ASSOCIATED PRESS

The owner of a western Kentucky mine was cited Oct. 8 after federal investigators concluded an inadequately supported roof led to a collapse that killed two people in April.

Alliance Resource Partners properly followed the roof control plan at the Dotiki mine, but a non-detectable formation of slippery rock called slickenslides or slips caused the roof to cave in an unsupported area being mined, the Mine Safety and Health Administration concluded in a report.

The report says the collapse couldn't be foreseen at the massive coal-mining complex in Kentucky. MSHA cited the mine for failing to adequately support the roof, causing a section up to 76 feet long, 19 feet wide and up to 10 feet thick to collapse on April 28.

The initial citation requires Tulsa, Okla.-based Allied Resource Partners, which owns the mine's operator, Webster County Coal, to correct the problems that led to the fall. Investigators said the company couldn't have known that the slides would cause a collapse, but added that the roof wasn't "adequately supported or otherwise controlled" to prevent falls from the roof.

MSHA spokeswoman Amy Louviere told The Associated Press a citation was written for the condition that resulted in the accident, but there was no negligence assigned because the condition was not visible. Louviere said the law used to cite Alliance Resource Partners does not require knowledge on the part of the mine operator.

Louviere said the company will be fined later but must first be allowed to contest the citation.

Kenny Murray, the vice president of Tulsa, Okla.-based Allied Resource Partners, said in a statement that because the collapse wasn't foreseeable, the citation is unjustified.

Health Quest Wellness Center's team won last Thursday's championship in the Girl Iron Glory women's-only flag football tournament. The event was held two nights last week at Rocket Stadium to raise awareness and money to fight breast cancer. Five teams, which included almost 100 women, participated in the tournament. The Rockets football team carried the theme into their high school game against Fulton City Friday. It was billed as a Pink Out with fans donning pink attire and player uniforms punctuated by pink socks, wrist bans and other gear. Many fundraising activities were associated with last week's event. All proceeds went to fight a disease that affects one in every six women. Pictured in front of the winning team is Jennifer McDaniel, a Marion woman who continues to battle breast cancer. Team members are (front from left) Ginger Melton, Terri Belt, Adria Porter, Patty Creasey, Shawna Sharp, Morgan Morris and Lee Anna Boone, (back) Pepper Yancy, Tommi Paulson, Tracye Newcom, Michelle Reddick, Lee Ann Keller, Leslea Barnes and Ashley Soriano.

Crittenden County Elementary School student Hannah Morrison, 11, got some help from family and friends in her effort to make the royal court for the school's Fall Festival, which is Saturday. Morrison was selling candy on the roadside in front of her house on Ky. 654 North last weekend. Pictured are (from left) Jasper Morrison, 8; Jacob Kurtz, 8; Hannah; and Zander Morrison, 6. ## STATION future.

Fire Chief Red Howton, fireman Gary Cruce and others testified that they'd gone to great lengths to measure the exact space needed to pull the longest trucks from the building without having to stop and backup to complete the turn from the building.

Physical obstacles or permitting issues with the state highway department eliminated most of the proposed solutions. The only choice, determined the council, is to move the building back off the street. They voted to do that and to reject four of five bids from contractors. B.H. Green and Son of Paducah submitted the low bid last month at $942,000. Other bids ranged upward to the highest at $1.2 million. All of the bids were considerably higher than projected.

Councilmen decided to enter into negotiations with Green, hoping to trim cost from the project. Architect Kevin Perry and engineer Mary Austin were at Monday's meeting. They said 13 potential cost-saving options had been identified. Those will be discussed with the contractor then presented to the city council. The council could decide to leave the upstairs of the building unfinished, not brick the back of the building, eliminate or scale back a proposed clock tower on top of the structure or eliminate any of several other finishing details in order to save money.

The fire chief says the items identified for cost-cutting will not affect the functionality of the station. Howton said the upper floor can be left unfinished to save money. It would be used in the future for sleeping quarters if there is ever a need for full-time paid firemen instead of volunteers.
