UK studying county road safety

STAFF REPORT

University of Kentucky specialists are looking around the state trying to identify safety issues on rural roads and have asked local leaders for help.

Last week during their regular monthly meeting, Crittenden County magistrates spent some time poring over data that helped them determine which two county roads would be studied as part of the Safety Circuit Rider Program, which is headed by UK.

They chose Reuters View and Mexico Church roads, both in the southern quadrant of the county.

In fact, the two roads intersect west of Crayne. They are among the top five roads in the county for injury accidents. Data show that between the two paved, yet un-striped county roads there were 11 people injured and a dozen different accidents reported during a period between 2011 and 2015.

Executive Perry Newcom said Crittenden was among two counties in the Pennyrile Area Development District to be selected for the safety audit.

"This program has been in existence for a while, but this is the first time it's had any funding," Newcom said.

Albeit, not very much. Newcom said there is federal

Schedule altered at garbage center

Crittenden County Convenience Center, known as the county's trash dump, has altered its hours. The center has shaved a half-hour off its schedule for Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. It began its new 8 a.m.-to-3:30 p.m. schedule on those days last Friday. The center is manned by Crittenden County Detention Center staff and work release inmates. Jailer Robbie Kirk said the dump will remain open 8 a.m. to noon on Wednesday and Saturday. It is closed on Sunday.

No driver testing in county Oct. 7

There will be no driver's testing, written or road, on Friday, Oct. 7, per Crittenden Circuit Clerk Melissa Guill.

HOMEGROWN HIT

The first-ever Farm to Table dinner sponsored by Crittenden County Chamber of Commerce was a big success, and organizers plan to bring back the locally-grown meat and produce meal. All-local meal newest annual event

STAFF REPORT

Chamber of Commerce leaders are very pleased with the turnout and success of Saturday's first ever Farm to Table dinner featuring meat and produce grown locally.

Crittenden County Chamber of Commerce President Randa Berry said 49 people were served, just one ticket short of a sellout. Since this was the inaugural event, Chamber leaders limited the number of meals it would serve, opting to focus on quality instead of quantity.

It worked beautifully, Berry said, even though there were a number of other worthy community events going on at the same time.

"With our first Farm to Table dinner behind us I can definitely say that it was a success," said said. "I'm very proud that we could provide an event that was solely sourced from our local farms and businesses.

"I also want to thank everyone who donated items or their time to make it a success. I would especially like to thank the members of our local FFA who served our guests," Berry added.

The Chamber intends to make this an annual event.

Meantime, Chamber members are catching their breath only long enough to recharge for the Saturday, Oct. 1 Pumpkin Festival in downtown Marion.

Neighbor asks city to close jail's expansion

STAFF REPORT

At least one neighbor of Crittenden County Detention Center wants to see its new restricted custody center shut down. On Monday, the City of Marion was asked to force that closure, though that's not likely to happen.

Mike Harris and Rosanne Chandler turned to the council at its monthly meeting for help with complaints related to the newly-opened annex built to house low-risk work-release inmates. Since the 39-bed RC center opened a couple of weeks ago, the sight of prisoners in the fenced, outdoor recreation yard, the thought of them leering back and reported catcalls have unnerved the two, and they want the problem eliminated.

"The RC center was put in to make money. It's a business," Harris said, addressing the council. "I feel it is an undesirable business, and I want you

Flu an early guest in Ky.

STAFF REPORT

While it was still summer when the sun came up this morning (Thursday), it may be time to start thinking about that flu shot.

Normally, flu season begins in October or November in Kentucky, but already, state health officials have confirmed 10 cases of influenza for the 2016-17 season. With the early start, those public health experts are encouraging Kentuckians to get immunized.

"Getting the flu can be debilitating and sometimes life-threatening, and vaccination is the best tool we have to prevent illness,"

Kenergy rate increase approved, but bills will decrease

STAFF REPORT

A rate increase for Kenergy Corp. was approved last week by the Kentucky Public Service Commission (PSC), but as a result, the utility's rural electric customers will be receiving a refund.

That's because the approved rate is slightly lower than the requested rate Kenergy was allowed to start charging in May of this year.

The average residential customer might be getting back enough money to buy a cup or two of coffee, but for some customers, the refund could be a bit more significant.

Last Thursday, the PSC granted an adjustment that will increase the electric distribution cooperative's revenue by $2.36 million, or 1.8 percent. Kenergy had sought an additional $2.56 million in revenue, but the PSC felt the lesser amount was enough to allow the utility to remain in compliance with borrowing requirements set by the Rural Utilities Service, its primary lender.

As a result, the average monthly bill for residential customers will be about $3.60 more, or about 2.3 percent higher. However, because those customers have been paying a few cents more than that since May based on the rate Kenergy has been allowed to charge, many of the utility's 55,800 customers in its 14-county service area, which includes Crittenden County, will see their bills fall.

The PSC set the monthly residential customer charge at $18.20 – $2.60 more than prior to May but 30 cents less than has been charged since that time – and reduced the proposed residential customer charge to 10.2038 cents per kilowatt-hour from the 10.2042 per kWh levied since May. The charge before the spring increase was 10.1304 per kWh.

A kilowatt-hour is the amount of energy used by a

Illegal dumping at ‘PACS office’ helping no one

There's perhaps no address more associated with helping local people in need than 402 N. Walker St. in Marion, but Crittenden County Assistance Center to some is apparently little different than Crittenden County Convenience Center.

Sometimes referred to as simply the PACS office, the building that was once a public health department is actually home to much more. True, it is the site to access services from Pennyryle Allied Community Services, but it's also where Crittenden County Food Bank and the local American Red Cross call headquarters. Notice there's no mention of a garbage collection center.

Unfortunately, some people feel that because the offices at the building accept donations for distribution to the less fortunate in our community, it's a good place to dump off their discarded items. Surely, somebody can use those clothes from the 1970s you cleaned out of Grandma's basement, right? And who couldn't make use of a washer or dryer that no longer works or a broken rocking horse for children? What about a piano?

These unsolicited donations help no one. In fact, they cost the very people some intend to help with their junk. Because most of it is unfit for distribution, at the county taxpayers' expense, a crew is forced to make its way to the center and cart off other people's trash. And those workers haul it to the convenience center, the same place where the dumper was happy to avoid and save a few bucks.

Recently, the county needed about 10 man-hours to clear away the mound of useless goods piled at the back door of the assistance center that included, yes, a piano. Such a move speaks highly of the motivation of the dumper. Just not for their discretion.

A good rule of thumb? If it's too worn out to wear, too dirty to clean up, too broken to fix or it's something you wouldn't be caught dead with, it's not appropriate to believe it will help others. That's our words, not the center's, so feel free to call the center at (270) 965-4763 or stop by for a more technical definition of what helps.

The less fortunate, the underprivileged and those down on their luck aren't a stray dog you leave scraps for each night. They are deserving of the same respect you give your neighbor, the person in the pew behind yours on Sunday morning or your own flesh and blood. True, there are people who work the system, but let the staff at the center do the needs-vetting.

For those who still don't get it, dumping off your items at the center – or anywhere – under cover of night – or anytime – is illegal. That's right, if you get caught, you can face a stiff fine, jail time or both.

Crittenden County Assistance Center encourages donations, and, in fact, needs them to carry out the various missions of the organizations who call it home. Cash donations can feed the hungry, help pay a heating bill for a senior on a fixed income or send a fan to a home without air in the depths of summer. Donations of new or gently used clothes can give a kid in tatters a boost of confidence or get a family back on their feet after a house fire. Furniture, toys and even appliances are accepted, but only if they are in once piece and working.

By no means do we intend to discourage anyone from giving. Quite the opposite. We urge you to give more, but let it come from the heart, not a desire to save a few bucks at the dump.

If you are uncertain how to help or want to find out current and pressing needs, just contact the center. They will thank you. The people you will help thank you. And the taxpayers tired of cleaning up others' junk thank you.

Trick or Treat on Main set for Halloween day

STAFF REPORT

Trick or Treat on Main has become an anticipated annual event in Crittenden County, and it's just a few weeks before all the little ghouls and goblins hit the streets.

Marion Main Street Inc. offers this event to children 12 and under.

"There is a great safety aspect that goes along with this event," said Main Street Director Susan Alexander. "The kids can trick-or-treat in the daylight hours and receive those tasty treats from businesses that we all know and trust."

Alexander works with the downtown merchants and other offices to offer candy for the event. This year's event will be on All Hallows' Eve, which, of course, is Monday, Oct. 31. It will run from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Halloween day in downtown Marion. Children can begin at the Marion Tourism & Commerce Center, and all participating businesses will have a flyer posted in their window or door.

"This event has continued to grow over the years and everyone seems to look forward to bringing the children out to visit businesses in Marion," Alexander said. "One of the key elements of the Marion Main Street organization is to promote downtown business, and this event brings out the parents along with the children.

"We feel it is a safe way to enjoy Halloween, gather up the candy and have fun. Our hope is that parents will also think of these businesses that are furnishing treats and return to shop or trade with them in the future."

Agent going for Walk to discover cure for MS

STAFF REPORT

In August of 2011, Melissa Agent was diagnosed with multiple sclerosis, an autoimmune disease that affects the central nervous system. On Saturday, she will be walking to raise awareness and money to help fight MS.

Her diagnosis five years ago was a terrible blow, and the Marion woman recalls the stress it put on her life.

"I certainly was not ready for this," she said on her Walk MS web page.

Her fight with MS has been difficult, but she finds reassurance in her Christian faith.

"My favorite verse is Philippians 4:13, 'I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me,'" said Agent, wife of Crittenden County Sheriff Wayne Agent.

The Multiple Sclerosis Foundation estimates that roughly 200 people are diagnosed with this disease every week in the United States. That means that in August 2011, the month Melissa was diagnosed, something close to 800 people received the same news. But for every person fighting MS, there is an army of family, friends, neighbors, co-workers and congregations behind that person who are willing to step up and help.

That's where Walk MS comes in. Walk MS is the largest private funder of MS research in the world, with 330,000 participants at 550 different locations every year. Since 1988, the walk has not only been funding the search for a cure, but also providing services and a supportive community for those currently affected by multiple sclerosis. More than $43,000 was raised by the Paducah chapter last year alone, and participants are optimistic about continuing this level of contribution.

The Western Kentucky Walk MS will be held at Noble Park in Paducah at 10 a.m. Saturday. For more information, call Walk Chair Alicia Ray at (270) 564-9010.

"There are a dozen or so more tiles we're waiting on FEMA to hear what they are going to do," Maraman said.

Mowing crews are getting caught up after being behind due to the heavy workload created by summer storms, the road foreman said.

Contractors will be working this week and next to chip seal a few county roads. Among them are J.P. Hower-ton, Claylick Creek, Jeff Clements, Cross Creek, Wolf Creek, Deer Run Lane and Guy Hodge roads. All of it will be resurfacing work.

Additionally, the county hopes that state flex funding in the amount of $197,169 will be flowing this fall in the form of new blacktop on Blackburn Church Road, Lewis Croft Road, Weston Road and Main Lake Road.

In other business: - Sheriff Wayne Agent will be getting a new Dodge Durango. Magistrates opened sealed bids last week and opted for the lowest priced vehicle meeting its advertised specs. The new 4x4 SUV will come from Freedom Dodge in Lexington at a cost of $30,908. Four other dealers submitted bids.

The new rig will replace a 2010 Ford Explorer with 105,000 miles that has been plagued by maintenance issues.

The sheriff said rigging the new Dodge with lights and other policing equipment will cost about $6,000 additional.

- Crittenden County Clerk

Carolyn Byford said tax bills should be printed and proofed in the coming days, and Sheriff Wayne Agent projects them to be mailed by Oct. 1. Agriculture land owners will see a marked increase in the assessed value of their property this year, which will mean higher taxes despite the fiscal court's decision to lower tax rates.

- Crittenden County Detention Center was built in 2007 to hold 133 inmates. This week, the inmate population at the jail and newly opened restricted custody center will likely reach about 190. Putting a dollar figure on that number, Crittenden County receives about $6,000 per day, or close to $2 million a year, to house felons from across the state.

It's big business and just got 39 beds bigger with the opening on the RC center.

Additionally, all of those housed in the RC center will be working in the community, mowing and providing other services that will save the community a projected $1 million in labor costs.

The jail recently hired three new deputy jailers to compensate for added responsibilities at the RC center.

Magistrates suggested that inmates assigned to the county road department could be deployed to clean out culverts. A number of road tiles have been washed out recently, largely due to heavy rainfall. Keeping them free of debris will help routine water flow and perhaps alleviate problems during heavy rains, magistrates said.

- Shady Grove and Crittenden County volunteer fire departments each submitted their annual financial reports to the county, as required by law.

Shady Grove's receipts for the fiscal year ending in June were $24,516, the majority of which came in the form of $6,063 in fire dues, $1,279 in donations, $2,943 from fundraisers, $8,250 in state aid, $3,200 in grant funding and $2,750 from the sale of surplus equipment. The department spent $12,778, with equipment and maintenance being the costliest items, amounting to nearly $10,000.

The county department shows anticipated revenue from the current fiscal year to be $93,660, of which $30,000 is expected from dues, $1,000 from donations, $1,000 from fundraisers, $11,000 from state aid (which is increasing this year) and $50,000 from loans. The largest projected expenses are $11,000 for equipment, $11,914 in debt service and $4,000 for maintenance.

- Crittenden Fiscal Court will start picking up more of the tab for belonging to the Pennyryle Area Development District. The City of Marion and county have always split the fee, which is $2,794.50 this year. Judge Newcom said the city has asked that the fee be divided based on population, which will mean the county will pay $1,882.80 and the city $911.70.

The development district assists the community in a number of ways, from facilitating grant applications to helping secure economic development incentives.

eral money backing the program that could cover new signage or vegetation removal that might make roads safer. The maximum amount Crittenden County could receive is $5,000.

“Most counties haven’t participated in this in the past because there was no incentive, no money,” Newcom added. “Now, there’s a little money to put toward the problems they find, but it won’t go far.”

A group of UK professionals from the Transportation Center at the university will be coming to Crittenden County in a few weeks to present its plans to the fiscal court. Then, the group, along with select local officials, will actually travel the identified roads and study their problems. A few weeks later, recommendations will be made, and perhaps, a little money will come the county’s way.

The two roads selected for the study were picked after magistrates discussed a number of options and collaborated with Sheriff Wayne Agent.

“Personally, I think Mexico Road is the main one,” Agent said.

Although Axel Creek Road had more accidents in the five-year study period, it wasn’t selected for the program. Agent said his deputies haven’t worked a crash on that road in quite some time. He said speed is the No. 1 contributing factor for crashes on rural roads, particularly Axel Creek.

“In the winter months when there’s snow and ice, we have a lot of problems on Ford’s Ferry Road,” the sheriff said.

Marion VFW Post 12022 held a Missing Man ceremony at the post on North College Street. Maj. Tim Morgan (above) of Cadiz was the featured speaker at the event, which sets aside a table with a single empty chair paying homage to American service members still listed as missing. There are more than 1,500 soldiers, sailors and airmen still listed as missing and unaccounted for from the Vietnam War, though none are from Crittenden County. However, according to information previously gathered by The Crittenden Press and featured each year on our Fallen Heroes tribute, there are four men never accounted for from World War II and Korea. Those are Pfc. Degarth Hall and 1st Lt. Johnny R. Hillyard who fought in Europe during World War II, Sgt. Jack L. Woody shot down over the Philippines during World War II and Sgt. James Roger Bissell taken prisoner in North Korea.

Health Commissioner Hiram C. Polk said in a news release.

No cases of influenza have been reported in Crittenden County or the entire five-county area served by Pennyriple District Health Department, according to Director Charles Hiter.

"There are none that I'm aware of," he said Monday.

All 10 cases in the commonwealth were reported in Jefferson, Fayette and Bullitt counties in central Kentucky.

The influenza virus is estimated by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) to kill 3,300-49,000 Americans each year. It is especially a risk to seniors, infants, toddlers and those with serious health issues.

Adequate supplies of flu vaccine are expected to be available this year. Vaccination can be given any time during the flu season.

Hiter said vaccinations should be available at all five of the district's health departments as early as next week. Already, a flu clinic at the health center in Marion is scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 19, in Smithland on Tuesday, Oct. 18 and in Princeton on Thursday, Oct. 13. However, once this season's doses are received by the centers, vaccines may be requested at any time.

Infection with the flu virus can cause fever, headache, cough, sore throat, runny nose, sneezing and body aches. Flu can be very contagious.

While health experts agree that vaccination is the best way to prevent the flu and that getting a flu shot early is better than not getting one at all, some are encouraging those 65 and older to wait until at least Halloween to assure optimal protection later in the season, Julie Appleby reports for Kaiser Health News.

Influenza: Risky business

Who should get a flu shot?

Pretty much everyone. The CDC recommends the vaccine for most people 6 months and older. However, the CDC urges the nasal spray flu vaccine not be taken during 2016-17.

Who is at a high risk for developing flu complications?

According to the CDC, these people are particularly susceptible to developing serious problems if infected by the virus:

- Children under 5, but especially those younger than 2.
- Adults 65 years of age and older.
- Pregnant women.
- People with serious existing health issues.

If you are pregnant or have a baby under age of 3 months, you are invited to

2016 football homecoming

Crittenden County High School crowned its homecoming king and queen Friday night before the annual homecoming football game, which the Rockets won 28-6 over the Webster County Trojans. The homecoming court was (from left) freshmen Jagger Hayes and Shelby Cooper; juniors Christian White and Kaitlyn Hicks; seniors Dylan Smith and Alexis Tabor; Queen Jessi Brewer and King Charlie Johnson; seniors Emily Tinsley and Will Perkins; sophomores Ashley Wheeler and Devon Nesbitt; 2015 Queen and King, Kali Travis and Tyler Coleman. The flower girl was Lilly Fernlund and crown bearer was Josh James. Everyone loves a parade, and last Thursday's football homecoming edition was no different, especially for children. Above left, Avery McDowell, with her dad Quaid, was wowed by the floats and rewarded with candy. But the business of the parade was honoring the floats entered by each class at the high school. Clockwise from above, the seniors took top honors with their Trojan Horse filled with Rocket warriors who jumped out to slay the enemy with their rocket projectile and shields. The parade had a Greek theme, paying homage to this year's Olympic Games and the homecoming opponent. The sophomore float kept with the theme, placing a Rocket athlete atop the medal stand alongside the vanquished. Longtime educator Nancy Lacy served as the grand marshal. Juniors donned their himations, the Greeks' forerunner to the Roman toga, with an oracle forecasting a Rocket victory. Freshmen held an Olympics-style opening ceremony with a local flare.

1890s Closing day at schools a big deal for students, parents, community

From the archives of The Crittenden Press, let's visit with some of our old county schools. These schools only had six months for their term, so their schools were closing in January and February. Always a big day for the school and community, parents and friends all turned out for the activities of the last day. It was an all-day gathering from morning until night.

Forgotten Passages

Jan. 30, 1897
Going Spring School

Our school closed Jan. 28, and the closing ceremonies were a splendid tribute to the success and popularity of our industrious, patient and efficient teacher, Mr. T.W. Watson. The forenoon was spent in hearing recitations by various classes, and the spectators and friends of the school were gratified at the proficiency shown by the pupils. Messrs. Ira C. Hughes and A.A. Fritts were called upon for speeches, and they responded in a happy style and their remarks were appreciated.

When the school dismissed for dinner, a sumptuous feast was spread by Miss Annie Hughes and Mesdames Wm. Paris, Frank Fritts, Ira Hughes and Milton Terry. The baskets of these generous ladies were overflowing with skillfully prepared ham, chicken, turkey, cakes and pies. In the afternoon, a spelling match was an interesting feature; the match began with 40 contestants and finally narrowed down to Misses Alice and Cora Fritts, with Miss Cora being victorious.

The teacher rewarded the prizes of merit as follows: first prize, Miss Cora Fritts; second to Johnnie Fritts; and third to Master Vernon Stone. After this the entire school had an old fashioned "treat" of good things from the teacher, and to say that everybody enjoyed it, is mildly expressing the situation.

Mr. Watson closed the school with a timely address, giving the pupils some good advice and expressing his affection for the school. Mr. Watson has taught us to be one of the best schools our district ever had.

Feb. 4, 1897
Post Oak School

The Post Oak school closed Jan. 23, and an entertainment was given by the school that night. A large crowd was in attendance from all parts of the county, and everyone that expressed themselves said it was "exceedingly nice." While there were comic plays, there were also those of good morals, and all with the excellent music made by Messrs. Will Duvall and Will Marvel and Miss Ida Duvall, made the whole scene a pleasant one.

The closing speech by Miss Berta Schoocraft aroused the hearts of the hearers, and especially the pupils and teacher, it reminded them of the fact that they soon would have to say "good bye." It shall not be farewell. It brought to memory the many happy hours they had spent together there, to return never more. It was through the untiring efforts of our teacher, Miss Pearl Cook, that it was a success. Miss Pearl taught us a good school and the memory of her past kindness towards her pupils, and her daily efforts to draw our minds upward and onward to knowledge, success and usefulness will long dwell in our minds. Signed: A Pupil.

Olive Branch School

Miss Maud Gill closed her school at Olive Branch, Jan. 13. The morning was spent in spelling. The 12 o'clock meal was very good and lasted for some time, and was enjoy by all. Parents came with baskets of fried chicken, boiled ham, pickles, breads, pies and cakes to be spread together. The programme for the afternoon was as follows: "Way of the World," Annie Roberts;

SUBMITTED PHOTOS

Post Oak School (above) was located about 4.5 miles from Marion on U.S 60. Land for the school was donated by James Pleasie and Thelma Howerton, and the frame building was constructed in the late 1880s. The school was closed in 1929 and the students sent to Mattoon. Olive Branch School (right) was located about 6 miles from Marion on the Earl Hurst Road. It was named for the Olive Branch Church that used to be nearby. The school was discontinued in the 1940s. The lumber was sold and the land reverted to the heirs of Frank Lamb, who gave it for the school. Oak Hall School (above right) was located on the old Ford's Ferry Road about 6 miles from Marion. It sat across the road from where Alfred Dean's two-story house used to be. Oak Hall was discontinued in 1942.

"Little Jim," Virdie Fox; "I'm Glad I'm Not a Girl," Milton Walker; "Mrs. Wasp, Mrs. Bee," Maurice Horning; "Smile When You Can," Effie Deboe; "Good Night," Men-dozen Deboe; Dialogue: "The Smith Family" by Walter McConnell, Maggie Waler, Kate Horning and Milton Walker.

The following received presents for head marks, regular attendance, etc.: Annie Roberts, Ealie McConnell, Verdie Fox, Marion McConnell, Olva Drennon, Willie Baker, Milton Walker.

Nice talks were by H.N. Lamb and Miss Maud.

Feb. 2, 1899
Glendale School

Miss Leaffa Wilborn closed a very successful school at Glendale last Wednesday, Jan. 25. A large crowd attended the closing exercises. The forenoon was spent in spelling. An hour at noon was spent in enjoying the splendid dinner, which was furnished by the patrons of the school. The exercises in the afternoon were begun by a few recitations and ended with talks by trustees, patrons and teacher. This was Miss Leaffa's first school and she proved to be an excellent teacher.

Patrons and pupils alike appreciated her ability and skill as a teacher.

Oak Hall School

Miss Maud Hill closed her school here on the 27th. It was a beautiful day and there were many present. The exercises were enjoyed very much by all present, and showed that Miss Maud Hill deserved much credit as teacher and entertainer. The program was as follows: Spelling in the forenoon by pupils, visitors and patrons; the "old people" had a spelling match, which was enjoyed by them, for it seemed to bring back long forgotten days. Then came the dinner which was done ample justice by all. In the afternoon there was recitations by the following pupils; want of space forbids a minute description of pieces: Maud Clark, Lillie Postlethwait, Annie Dean, Roy Belt, Lettie Conditt, Allie Postlethwaite, Essie Conger, Macy Barger, Henry Conditt, Ellis Fritts, Ollie Ford, Homer and Monta Morril, Pearl Butler, Zoa and Johnnie James, Ada Belt, Maud Butler, Calvin Corley, Given Ford, Charles Lanham, Johnie

Clark, Merl Clark, George Conditt, Alma Postlethwaite. Also recitation and reading by Joe Dean and recitation by Irvin Robeson. Song by Edith and Ethel Robinson. Messrs Conditt, Ford and Conger made some nice talks, then came the "sweet stuff" which delights the little fellows and makes the big ones smile. After this Miss Maud gave them a talk, which was full of good thoughts and kind feelings toward pupils and patrons. Miss Maud then bid them farewell and it was a very sad farewell to the pupils and the faces of many were very sorrowful ones.

Shady Grove School

Our school closed at this place Feb 3. We had a large crowd to attend the closing exercises. Our dinner was enjoyed by all. In the afternoon speeches were delivered by the little folks and very interesting talks by the patrons. We had a nice entertainment, although it was a bad night, but the house was still crowded. The opening speech was made by Bessie Towery. This is our exhibition by Dixie Towery; a welcome address by Lena Cardwell; A man's home is not here, by Stella Tucker; I'll make a bow, by Stella Elder; Pap's pet, by Grace Atwood; Little chatter box by Winnie Tucker; Papa's ship by Cuara Cardwell; The bridegroom and the bride, Myrtle Towery; Are they living yet, by Effie Tucker; The landing of the pilgrims, by Lena Towery; The faithful engineer by Bertha Cannon; A girl's mind, Ross Fox; Johnie boy, by Fred Easley; If the people would all agree with me, by Roy Towery; The wood church, by Willie Cannon; Dewey did that thing, by Earl McChesney; A boy by Kennie Tucker. There were several more speeches and dialogues. Mr. Towery taught us a good school and we would like to have him again. --- A good time was had by all that attended these special closing school days in 1899.

Sin, darkness are avoidable: Your choice

BY FELTY YODER

It is a fact that our flesh is full with all kinds of sinful desires. Consequently the tempter comes along with proposals that are in agreement with our sinful inclinations.

Temptations are proposed by the evil one to lure us into sinning. If he can not get us to sin otherwise, he simply has to come with a proposal. We ourselves decide, by exercising our free will, whether we want to accept or reject his proposal. We will say "yes" or "no" to his various proposals. A proposal is not necessarily an order to sin. That is why temptation is not sin, but a proposal to sin.

We have a golden opportunity to overcome sin by quite simply, firmly, decisively with endurance and conviction, repeatedly saying "No," James tells us, "Blessed is the man that endureth temptation, for when he is tried he shall receive the crown of life which the Lord hath promised to them that love Him." (James 1:12)

The thing is Satan goes around with temptations. All he has to offer is lies, he is the father of lies. He has nothing good, useful or rewarding to offer, that is lasting. We can easily be fooled by the prince of darkness when we ourselves are in darkness.

When we walk in the light of the Lord Jesus, we won't so easily be enticed to sin. We can get true light in all areas by taking all the Word of Life to heart.

You are drawn to what you think is to your advantage. When you lack clear light you can easily be drawn to what will bring you eternal loss, harm and corruption.

When you give in to temptation, sin in the flesh is holstered and activated by compatible spirits in the world of darkness, and an unholy conception takes place, and the serpent brings forth after his kind.

Generally speaking, there is a crying lack of true light of life. That is why one is so easily tempted and falls into all kinds of sin without even considering it sin, because the darkness is so great even among those who hear God's word in spirit and in truth.

It is to one's true and eternal gain to follow all the laws of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus. It will continually increase one's happiness, joy and well-being to the place where one can always be happy in the midst of this evil and ungodly

For our kingdom is not of the world.

(Editor's note: Felty Yoder, of the Salem area, shares his views periodically in this newspaper. His opinions are his own and are not necessarily those of this newspaper.)

Garden Club to consolidate two events

BY JANET HUGHES

SALEM GARDEN CLUB

In September 2007, the Salem Garden Club first organized and set goals to improve the looks of town. At that time, a vacant lot full of concrete and weeds next to Faye's Furniture was an eyesore. We needed funds to purchase the property and add improvements such as the pavilion and a walkway to city hall. We wanted to do this without any financial burden on the city or its citizens. Many fundraisers were held, including Salem Day in May and a Fall Jamboree in October. The support of the community was outstanding. Private donations came in, and we completed this project sooner than expected.

The city was very supportive in all of these events. It took a lot of work from more than just us ladies in the Garden Club. Our husbands and families were always there helping to set up or take down. The mayor, city commissioners, Salem Fire Department, Livingston County CERT team and many others stepped up to the plate. Salem Baptist Church always allowed use of their parking lot, let us borrow tables/chairs or use the CLC in inclement weather. We are so very grateful for everyone's support.

With all this being said, we have voted to make a few changes on when these events will be held. May is a very busy time. Mother's Day, Graduation, prom and Relay for Life are all held during this month. The fact that many of these events are taking place takes away from the amount of manpower we have. We quickly learned that at the end of our recent Salem Day.

We plan only to sponsor one event per year. This year, we will not be having a Fall Jamboree. Salem Day will be moved to a different month in 2017, yet to be decided. It's time to slow down and smell the roses with more fun outings and garden tours.

In August, we visited the home of Keith and LaJean Quisenberry on U.S. 60 west of Marion. LaJean is our club secretary. Her love of gardening and collection of antiques is amazing. In September, we spent our time cleaning up the flower beds at the courtyard in Salem.

Monthly meetings are held the second Thursday of each month at Salem City Hall or members' homes. The group will next meet Oct. 13. You can keep up with us on Facebook at "Salem, Ky. Garden Club." Meeting times and places are posted the week ahead of time.

Historical society sells cabin

STAFF REPORT

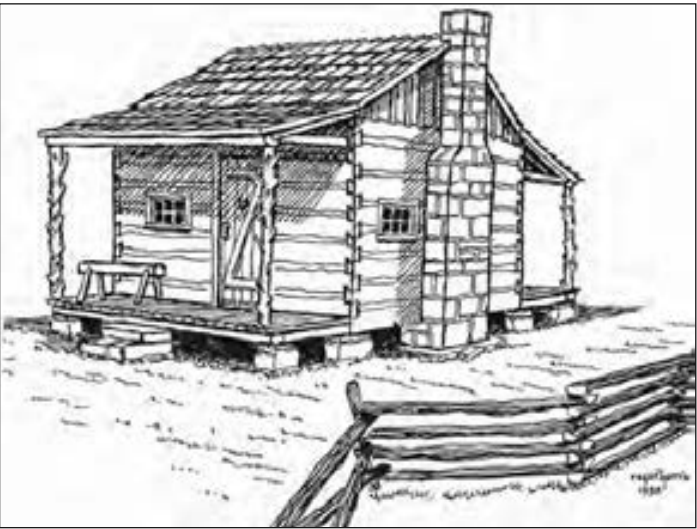

Unable to afford necessary repairs and upkeep, Crittenden County Historical Society has sold the log cabin associated with the group since the early 1990s. The move to sell to a local buyer who plans to preserve the 130-year-old building was made last week by its board of directors at a public meeting.

The decision to dispose of the unique piece of local history was not made lightly by the nine-member volunteer board, but with few resources and the cabin falling into disrepair, an offer by J.T. and Rita Travis of Crittenden County was accepted.

"It was either sell it so we could make sure it had a good home, would be taken care of and would stay in the county, or just let it sit there and fall apart," said Brenda Underdown, local historian and president of the board. "We just didn't have money to make the necessary repairs; and keep it up, and by it being so far away from the museum, it was hard to utilize it with the museum."

Age and weather have taken their toll, leaving the historical society faced with hundreds of dollars in repairs it could not afford. The private, non-profit organization struggles just to keep the museum on the corner of East Bellville and South College streets open on a few thousand dollars in annual operating funds. Proceeds from the sale will go directly toward a costly roof repair needed at the museum, which is housed in a former church as old as the cabin.

Knowing the predicament as a board member, Rita

Crittenden County Historical Society has sold the 1880s log cabin it has cared for the last quarter-century. The group could no longer afford to maintain the structure, shown above in this sketch by the late Roger Morris.

Travis, along with her husband, offered to purchase the cabin with a pledge to preserve it. They plan to relocate it this fall to private property for enjoyment of its historical value.

At its meeting on Sept. 13, the historical society board voted unanimously, with Travis abstaining, to complete the sale, knowing the cabin would be given a good home and promptly removed from its possession. Once moved off the county-owned property behind Fohs Hall, the historical society will be able to drop its insurance on the cabin and save additional money on mowing each year.

The tiny cabin, built by Thomas Smith in the 1880s, was donated about 25 years ago to the historical society by his great-grandson, Robert Dixon Nunn of Hopkinsville. At that time, it was situated on the Croft farm in Tolu.

With a $5,000 state historical grant, in the spring of 1992, it was moved to Marion and set up as a featured exhibit at the museum. At that time, the museum was located on West Carlisle Street in the block building now occupied by the county jail's new restricted custody center.

"It was a big attraction," said Bernice Maroney, the current curator of Crittenden County Historical Museum who occasionally worked in that role at the former location. "People just loved it."

In 2003, the congregation of First United Presbyterian Church dissolved and donated its 122-year-old sanctuary to the historical society for use as a museum. The new repository of local history opened in the spring of 2004, but with no room on the property to house the cabin, it was moved to its current location a block away on North College Street.

Since that time, traffic from visitors and community interest in the cabin has waned. Coupled with the expense of maintenance, the board ultimately reach a decision to sell the cabin and concentrate its efforts and finances on the museum.

So far this year, the historical society has taken in fewer than $8,000 with expenses to date of about $9,300, not including the hundreds of dollars that will be needed to repair the roof.

More than three-quarters of the group's income is from an annual contribution from the Braxton McDonald Foundation, a local non-profit whose namesake left his estate for the preservation of Crittenden County history and genealogy. That donation, which is derived from investments, is about half the amount it was before the economy tanked during the Great Recession nearly a decade ago.

The rest of the historical society's income is derived almost exclusively from private donations, $5 annual memberships and gift shop sales. Marion Tourism Commission, for several years, has allocated $600 for promotional costs. The historical society has not accepted any other public funds since 2005, despite Crittenden Fiscal Court budgeting a few hundred dollars each year.

The historical society meets at 6 p.m. the second Tuesday of each month from April to October at the museum and welcomes guests. The museum at 124 E. Bellville St. is open 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday during that same time period. Admission is free.

Hampton visits Siemens touting Ky. manufacturing

STAFF REPORT

Two high-ranking officials from Frankfort paid a visit last week to Crittenden County's largest employer, capping a trip to western Kentucky to promote manufacturing in the Bluegrass State.

After addressing labor and management representatives from across the Commonwealth at the 39th annual Kentucky Labor-Management Conference at Kentucky Dam Village last Thursday, Lt. Gov. Jeanne Hampton and Labor Sec. Derrick Ramsey and officials from the Labor Cabinet took time to meet with officials from Siemens in Marion to discuss opportunities with the newly-announced "Kentucky Trained. Kentucky Built" apprenticeship program.

"Apprenticeships can provide workforce solutions for nearly any industry, and I am taking every opportunity to share these benefits with employers, unions and potential apprentices," Ramsey said. "With 1,100 employers in Kentucky currently utilizing apprenticeships, my goal is to see this number grow. The Kentucky Trained. Kentucky Built initiative is an important marketing tool to help us do just that."

The local Siemens production facility in Marion houses the engineering, manufacturing and assembly for rail signaling and automation products – such as grade crossing warning lights, bells and gates for rail lines around the U.S. and worldwide. The 270-person plant recently underwent a $2 million expansion that began in 2013 and added Siemens traffic controller manufacturing operations to the site last year.

The visit to the plant helped to underscore the mission of the Kentucky Labor-Management Conference earlier in the day. The conference serves as the centerpiece of the state's effort to promote labor-management cooperation as an enhancement to economic development. The event provides participants a relaxed atmosphere, apart from the work environment, that is conducive to meaningful dialogue between labor and management.

Serving as the keynote speaker, Hampton shared the story of her rise from poverty, discussed her new entrepreneurship program for high school students and highlighted the importance of positive labor-management relationships.

"As a former plant manager, I understand the critical importance and productivity associated with positive labor-management relationships," she said. "Every employee is vital to an organization accomplishing its mission."

AmeriCorps says thanks to emergency workers

Crittenden County AmeriCorps service members working at local schools recognized local emergency workers recently in commemoration of 9/11. At left, AmeriCorps representatives Lori Glore and Tyler Coleman (center) present Marion Assistant Police Chief Bobby West with a goody bag full of candy and encouraging and uplifting messages. "We wanted to honor our local police and fire department for their bravery to serve and protect us on a daily basis," said Coleman, who graduated high school in May. CAF, Badgett pair for play

The return of the popular musical "Smoke on the Mountain" put people in the seats at Fohs Hall Saturday for two shows. Above, Badgett Playhouse actors Kay Scarborough as Vera Sanders, Steve Sherling as Stanley Sanders and Melissa Harrell as Denise Sanders perform a skit from the production. The Community Arts Foundation partnered with the Grand Rivers professional acting troupe to bring the show full of gospel music and down-home humor. "We were pleased with the turnout for the shows and that residents of Crittenden County continue to value the arts," said CAF Secretary Kim Vince. "It was a win-win for everyone." No arrangements have been made to bring another show in, but CAF and Badgett will meet in October to decide on what might be possible for the 2017 season. Meantime, Vince said CAF has a packed fall and winter schedule that will be released in the coming weeks as events are finalized.

to consider shutting down that business in our city."

Mayor Mickey Alexander and some councilmen vocally agreed the setup is less than ideal, particularly since it lies in the heart of the city. But the mayor said, realistically, there is little the city can do beyond requesting the county address the concerns.

"I don't think any of us up here disagree with you," Alexander told Harris, his wife Kathy and Chandler, acknowledging their worries.

Even Jailer Robbie Kirk, who had spoken with Harris and Chandler ahead of Monday's meeting, agreed Tuesday the lockup's location is far from ideal, adding that he was against it when the idea for a new jail was an issue during an unsuccessful bid for judge-executive in 2004.

"I understand we've encroached on their residences, I get it," Kirk said, adding that he had no say in the location of the jail when it was built 10 years ago. "But that's what we have to work with. We're just playing the cards we have."

Chandler did not specifically ask to close the RC center, but did ask for help. She feels particularly threatened by inmates, all male, being able to monitor her routine, and she is no longer comfortable being outside at home.

"I don't feel good with people seeing my habits every day," she said.

The jailer knows not everyone is happy with the expansion at the jail. However, he feels it is his duty to make the detention center as economical as possible for county and its taxpayers, and he said the RC center helps do that. He added that Crittenden Fiscal Court was responsible for approving the RC center, the idea for which was conceived at the time the jail was being built under then Judge-Executive Fred Brown.

"We want to address the problems for the ones who have issues," Kirk added.

Slats placed in the open sections of chain link to block sightlines have been installed around the yard, but inmates can still see through the fence. By early Tuesday afternoon, though, Kirk and current Judge-Executive Perry Newcom believed they may have found a solution.

Newcom said the county plans to build a solid, 8-foot privacy fence around the existing one in order to completely block the view both into and out of the yard.

"I hate that it has caused so much of an issue," he said.

On Monday, Harris also expressed general safety concerns related to the RC center, where inmates deemed low risk are given a bit more latitude, though they are still guarded, monitored and locked up.

Kirk said state inmates at the RC center that Frankfort pays to house have served 85-90 percent of their time and have little to gain by causing problems. He also assures that the Kentucky Department of Corrections carefully vets each prisoner that gets approved for work release.

Attendance

Harris, a challenger for the six council seats up for election in November, said his appearance and public comments Monday were not politically motivated.

"I'm not here as a candidate," he told the council. "I feel bad addressing you this close to the election; it has nothing to do with the election."

Harris was not the only city council candidate in attendance. Five of the six challengers and all five councilmen seeking re-election were present, as well as Darrin Tabor, who is not seeking a return to his two-year seat. Challenger Ricky Winders was the only candidate not present.

Removing blight

Council members OK'd spending $8,500 to clean up two properties with condemned structures. One is a dilapidated house on Cherry Street; the other is a mobile home on Hickory Hills Avenue. Both are vacant.

Generally, the city spends more money condemning and cleaning up a nuisance property after taking ownership of it through the process than it can make when it sells the empty lot. But Councilman Tabor, a real estate broker, said the city cannot expect eliminating blight to be a money-making venture.

City Attorney Bart Frazer agreed.

"You're always gonna lose," he told the council.

Tabor said the only way to make revenue through condemnation is to sell the vacant lots it has obtained and hope that someone builds a home and starts paying taxes.

"Otherwise, we're going to have to keep mowing and taking care of it," he said.

To that point, the council agreed to sell at auction six such surplus properties. Those include the aforementioned property with the mobile home to be cleared, two on Lewis Street and one each on West Mound Park, Travis Street and Walnut Street, also referred to as Short Street.

No date has been set for the auction, which will also include a backhoe, police cruiser and Chevrolet Suburban. The properties can be viewed at Marion City Hall, and the auction date will be announced publicly.

100-watt light bulb in 10 hours.

The reduction from the requested amount was largely the result of the PSC changing how the utility will recover certain costs associated with the replacement of old meters with new, advanced models.

Kenergy, one of three electric distribution cooperatives that own and purchase power from Big Rivers Electric Corp., will have to refund its overages plus interest to its customers.

Customers could also be receiving money from the utility beyond the rate refund.

In addition to addressing rates, the PSC also examined Kenergy's handling of capital credits, which represent the revenues that Kenergy earns above its operating expenses.

Because it is a cooperative, Kenergy's customers are also its owners, and receive refunds of capital credits on a periodic basis. If a customer has left Kenergy and cannot be located, the unclaimed capital credits are placed into an escrow account, which has grown to about $5 million.

Under Kentucky law, credits that go unclaimed for five years may be redistributed to current members, so the PSC has directed Kenergy to conduct a redistribution of unclaimed credits that have been held in escrow for more than five years.

KHSAA fines McLean
McLean County High School's football team was fined $1,300 and its coaches must complete a National High School Federation course in managing behavior of student-athletes prior to its ninth game of the season or face further sanctions. The Kentucky High School Athletic Association (KHSAA) handed down its final ruling Tuesday on the incident that occurred during the Crittenden vs. McLean County football game on Sept. 2. As documented by the KHSAA, McLean head coach Zach Wagner's conduct was found to be lacking. The KHSAA said the incident "quickly escalated into a display of unsporting conduct by the McLean head coach that clearly does not appear to be intended to de-escalate the situation." McLean County has also been ordered to conduct a comprehensive review of sportsmanship expectations within the athletic program and report to the KHSAA on the completion of this task. Additionally, principals at both schools must review all game management practices and determine any changes necessary to prevent recurrence of this type of situation. The KHSAA accepted McLean's self-imposed one-game suspensions for 17 players who crossed the field during the incident. They also upheld the on-field suspensions of two McLean players and Crittenden assistant coach Jeremy Wheeler.

1st Responders honored
The Rocket football team will recognize all area first responders, including police, rescue, firemen and others during its game Friday against Union County at Rocket Stadium. First responders may register for halftime recognition at the main admission gate. Crittenden County football coach Al Starnes encourages all area first responders to participate in this special recognition ceremony. "We can't live in the society we live in today without these first responders and we want to show them our appreciation for what they do for us and our families and loved ones," Starnes said. Union County first responders are encouraged to participate.

Junior Pro at Trigg Co.
Crittenden County Junior Pro football teams travel to Trigg County Saturday for their first-ever league meeting with the Wildcats, a newcomer to the Western Kentucky Junior Pro Conference. Games will be at the high school, which is located at 203 Main Street in Cadiz.

SOFTBALL

Porter playing in WS
Marion's Jeff Porter will be playing this weekend in the USSSA Class B Men's Softball World Series in Florida. A long-time, high-level amateur softball player, Porter is a pitcher for the Indiana-based Slayer (KB Construction). He hopes his play this week will help propel him into the higher Class A next season and also to play Senior League Softball (49-over).

Rockets celebrate homecoming with end to losing skid

STAFF REPORT
At the midway point of the football season, Crittenden County's spread offense hit its stride and sophomore Devon Nesbitt carried much of the load on the ground as the Rockets beat Webster County 28-6 for homecoming.
It was the Rockets' (2-3) first win since the opening game of the season. Setbacks to Hopkins Central, McLean County and Caldwell County sent the Rockets into their annual tilt with Webster with three straight losses. However, the Trojans (1-3) are generally good for what ails Crittenden. The Rockets have won the last eight encounters with the Trojans and 27 out of the last 33.
"Make no mistake, Webster is a good football team," said Rocket coach Al Starnes. "They have a good running back who's pretty fast and the quarterback is very good."
Crittenden took command from the outset when senior Maeson Myers returned the opening kickoff 62 yards for a touchdown. Nesbitt scored twice on runs of 25 and 9 yards in the first half and sophomore quarterback Hunter Boone connected with classmate Branen Lamey for an 18-yard passing strike to give the Rockets a comfortable 28-point lead at the break.
Coach Starnes said his team may have worn down a bit and lost some its intensity in the second half. The Rockets also suffered their third-season ending injury to a key player. Sophomore receiver Ethan Dossett broke his collarbone in the first half after rushing for 26 yards and catching two passes for 24 yards.

Dossett underwent surgery early this week.
Crittenden piled up 384 total yards against Webster – its best offensive output of the season as Boone threw for 213. Five Rocket receivers had multiple catches with Lamey leading the way with 5 receptions for 68 yards.
Starnes said Lamey has a great deal of potential and is gaining confidence by the day.
"He made a great catch on that ball for the touchdown," Starnes said.
Each team turned the ball over on fumbles twice. Linebackers Gavin Dickerson and Dylan Smith had recoveries for the Rockets and Crittenden used Dickerson's first-half recovery to set up its first touchdown from scrimmage.
Crittenden hosts another neighbor, Union County, this week in what's sometimes dubbed the Coal Bowl.

Crittenden Fall Sports

Defenders leading Way

Crittenden soccer players Emily Tinsley (35), keeper Bailey Barnes, Hannah Easley and Kiana Nesbitt have proven to be key players this season, according to coach Summer Riley.

Soccer

The Lady Rockets are 3-0 in Fifth District play (5-6-1 overall) and primed to go undefeated through the regular season if they can win on the road today (Thursday) at Trigg County. Crittenden beat winless Lyon County 3-2 Monday at home to set the stage for a league showdown at Cadiz against a Lady Wildcats club that Crittenden handled 3-1 late last month at Marion. Trigg is 5-8 (1-1 in district action).
First-year coach Summer Riley says her girls are playing well right now, largely because of a very strong defense led by Emily Tinsley and host of other girls.
"Emily carries our team and is our saving grace on defense and Cassandra Newcome stepped up (Monday) and played a new position and battled and played tough the entire game," Riley explained. "The stats only show what the offense does to get the win but it would be impossible without our defense."
Riley said Hanna Easley is incredibly fast and is playing a key role at wing. She also singled out Meredith Evans and Kiana Nesbitt, two newcomers to the squad, who she said "continue to get better and are a huge help to our team both offensively and defensively as the wings in the midfield."
Bristen Holeman brings speed and aggressive play field. Riley said Holeman is a strong utility player who sees time at a number of positions. And at keeper Bailey Barnes, who's nicknamed "Bill" has been very strong at the goal.
Alexis Tabor scored twice Monday night in the win over Lyon and Francesca Pierce scored once. Ashley Wheeler, Pierce and Evans each had assists. Barnes had a dozen saves.
Crittenden lost 7-5 to Webster Tuesday. Pierce had all 5 goals. Ashley Wheeler had 3 assists and Tabor had one. Barnes had 8 saves.

MS Football

Crittenden County Middle School got its first eighth-grade victory in two seasons on Saturday, beating Trigg County 16-6 in the Trojan Bowl at Webster County. The Rockets avenged their season-opening 22-4 loss at Trigg. In the win at Dixon, the Rockets lost starting QB Gabe Mott for the season after breaking his collarbone while being tackled on the fourth play of the game. Luke Crider came in to finish the contest at quarterback. Lathen Easley scored both of Crittenden's touchdowns on runs of 19 and 43 yards. He also carried both conversions and rushed for 78 yards.

Statistics: Rushing: Easley 8-78, McCalister 3-(-9), Crider 5-(-6), Mott 3-23. Passing: Crider 4-5-0, 6 yds., Mott 0-1-0. Receiving : Easley 2-4, McCalister 2-2. Crittenden County was eliminated from the All A Classic Tournament with a 25-12, 25-8 loss to Caldwell County last week at Hopkinsville. Kenlee Perryman and Katilyn Hicks had an ace each and Alyssa West had the Lady Rockets' only kill shot. Hicks had 4 digs and Jada Hayes 3.
The girls also lost to Livingston Central last week 25-20, 25-22, 20-25, 25-19. Paige Gilbert had 61 digs in the match and Hicks recorded 35, Hayes 22 and Kyron Hicks 21. Hicks had 8 kills and Perryman had 6. Perryman also led the club with 7 aces and Hicks had 6.
After losing at University Heights Monday, the girls are now 5-13 for the season. The girls' will host their Pinkout Game on Oct. 4 as each member will be playing in honor of or in memory of someone who has or had cancer.

Crittenden's Kenlee Perryman blocks a shot during a match last week.

Golf

Practice rounds will be held Thursday and Friday this week for high school golfers gearing up for regional competition early next week. Crittenden golf coach Vicki Hatfield hopes senior Will Tolley can continue playing well and challenge for a berth in the state tournament. She said freshman Lauren Gilchrist has a good chance to qualify for the state finals after three straight berths in the All A Classic State Championship.
"Will has been playing very good lately," Hatfield said, pointing out that her 12th grader will have to shoot near par to be among the top individual qualifiers in the region.
The boys play in the First Region Tournament Tuesday at Drake Creek and Gilchrist – the only CCHS female – plays Monday in the First Region event at Calvert City Country Club. Other top Rocket golfers who will be participating in the regional tournament are Sam Greenwell, Tate Roberts and Logan Belt.
In action Tuesday, CCHS beat Dawson Springs 183-217 as Tolley led the way with a 42. Other scores: Greenwell 45, Roberts 47, Belt 49. Gilchrist shot a 48.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) hereby gives notice to the public of its intent to reimburse eligible applicants for eligible costs to repair or replace eligible facilities damaged by Severe Storms, Tornadoes, Flooding, Landslides, and Mudslides that occurred during the incident period beginning on July 2, 2016, and ending July 9, 2016. This notice applies to the Public Assistance (PA) and Hazard Mitigation Grant (HMGP) programs implemented under the authority of the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act, 42 U.S.C. §§ 5121-5207.

Under the major disaster declaration FEMA-4278-DR-KY declared by the President on August 26, 2016, the following counties have been designated adversely affected by the disaster and eligible for PA: Adair, Butler, Caldwell, Calloway, Christian, Clay, Crittenden, Daviess, Edmonson, Hart, Hopkins, Livingston, Lyon, Marshall, Metcalfe, Ohio, Todd, Trigg, Union, and Webster. Additional counties may be designated at a later date without further public notice. The Hazard Mitigation Grant Program (HMGP) is available statewide.

This public notice concerns activities that may affect historic properties, activities that are located in or affect wetland areas or the 100-year floodplain, and critical actions within the 500-year floodplain. Such activities may adversely affect the historic property and floodplain or wetland, or may result in continuing vulnerability to flood damage.

Presidential Executive Orders 11988 and 11990 require that all federal actions in or affecting the floodplain or wetlands be reviewed for opportunities to relocate and evaluated for social, economic, historical, environmental, legal, and safety considerations. Where there is no opportunity to relocate, FEMA is required to undertake a detailed review to determine what measures may be taken to minimize future damages. The public is invited to participate in the process of identifying alternatives and analyzing their impacts.

FEMA has determined that for certain types of facilities there are normally no alternatives to restoration in the floodplain or wetland. These are facilities that meet all of the following criteria: 1) FEMA's estimate of the cost of repairs is less than 50% of the cost to replace the entire facility and is less than $100,000; 2) the facility is not located in a floodway; 3) the facility has not sustained major structural damage in a previous Presidentially declared flooding disaster or emergency; and 4) the facility is not critical (e.g., the facility is not a hospital, generating plant, emergency operations center, or a facility that contains dangerous materials). FEMA intends to provide assistance for the restoration of these facilities to their pre-disaster condition, except that certain measures to mitigate the effect of future flooding or other hazards may be included in the work. For example, a bridge or culvert restoration may include a larger waterway opening to decrease the risk of future washouts.

For routine activities, this will be the only public notice provided. Other activities and those involving facilities that do not meet the four criteria are required to undergo more detailed review, including study of alternate locations. Subsequent public notices regarding such projects will be published if necessary, as more specific information becomes available.

In many cases, an applicant may have started facility restoration before federal involvement. Even if the facility must undergo detailed review and analysis of alternate locations, FEMA will fund eligible restoration at the original location if the facility is functionally dependent on its floodplain location (e.g., bridges and flood control facilities), or the project facilitates an open space use, or the facility is an integral part of a larger network that is impractical or uneconomical to relocate, such as a road. In such cases, FEMA must also examine the possible effects of not restoring the facility, minimizing floodplain or wetland impacts, and determining both that an overriding public need for the facility clearly outweighs the Executive Order requirements to avoid the floodplain or wetland, and that the site is the only practicable alternative. Commonwealth of Kentucky and local officials will confirm to FEMA that proposed actions comply with all applicable state and local floodplain management and wetland protection requirements.

FEMA also intends to provide HMGP funding to the Commonwealth of Kentucky to mitigate future disaster damages. These projects may include construction of new facilities, modification of existing, undamaged facilities, relocation of facilities out of floodplains, demolition of structures, or other types of projects to mitigate future disaster damages. In the course of developing project proposals, subsequent public notices will be published if necessary as more specific information becomes available.

The National Historic Preservation Act requires federal agencies to take into account the effect of their undertakings on historic properties. Those actions or activities affecting buildings, structures, districts or objects 50 years or older or that affect archeological sites or undisturbed ground will require further review to determine if the property is eligible for listing in the National Register of Historic Places (Register). If the property is determined to be eligible for the Register and FEMA's undertaking will adversely affect it, FEMA will provide additional public notices. For historic properties not adversely affected by FEMA's undertaking, this will be the only public notice.

As noted, this may be the only public notice regarding the above-described actions under the PA and HMGP programs. Interested persons may obtain information about these actions or a specific project by writing to the Federal Emergency Management Agency, Joint Field Office DR-4278-KY, 3093 Chamblee Tucker Road, Atlanta, GA 30341, or by emailing to FEMA-R4EHP@fema.dhs.gov. Comments should be sent in writing to Warren J. Riley, Federal Coordinating Officer, at the above address within 15 days of the date of this notice.

Due to overwhelming response, this offer has been extended!
